NATURAL RESOURCES DEFENSE COUNCIL, INC.,

Plaintiff,

v.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE,

Defendant.

COMPLAINT FOR DECLARATORY AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

INTRODUCTION

1. Defendant United States Department of Commerce (Commerce) has violated the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), 5 U.S.C. § 552, by failing to fully disclose records relating to a July 2017 determination by the Secretary of Commerce that New Jersey had complied with its obligation to implement management measures aimed at conserving summer flounder. Plaintiff Natural Resources Defense Council (NRDC) requested these records from Commerce six months ago.

2. Commerce’s National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), regional fishery management councils, and the interstate Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission (the Fisheries Commission or Commission) work together to conserve and manage various fish populations along the Atlantic coast. As part of these efforts, the Fisheries Commission adopts management plans to protect certain fish species against depletion. Under Federal law, the Commission identifies Atlantic coastal states to be included in its various management plans and then works to ensure that those states implement and enforce the plans.

3. In June 2017, the Fisheries Commission determined that New Jersey was out of compliance with the Commission’s management plan for summer flounder, a fish species that is currently subject to overfishing. In July 2017, contrary to the Commission’s determination, the Secretary of Commerce found that the summer flounder management measures New Jersey had failed to implement were not necessary for the conservation of summer flounder. The Secretary’s determination allowed New Jersey’s recreational summer flounder fishing season to proceed.

4. On July 26, 2017, NRDC submitted a FOIA request to Commerce for documents related to the Secretary’s finding that the summer flounder management plan measures New Jersey had failed to implement were unnecessary for conserving summer flounder.

5. In October and November, Commerce via NOAA (a component of Commerce) provided NRDC with two “interim” releases of responsive documents. These interim releases consisted solely of documents from NOAA’s files, and nothing from other Commerce components or the Office of the Secretary.

6. After the most recent interim release, Commerce informed NRDC that there were no more responsive documents in NOAA’s files. Commerce further informed NRDC that it was unable to provide an update regarding the status of its search for additional responsive documents outside of NOAA, other than noting a “significant logjam” due to the volume of Commerce FOIA requests.

7. Although Commerce has had six months to search for and produce responsive documents, it has not provided NRDC with any records from components of Commerce other than NOAA. Nor has Commerce provided NRDC with a final determination as to whether it will comply with NRDC’s request. The statutory deadline for such a final determination was, at the latest, September 11, 2017, with the final production of documents due promptly thereafter.

8. It is important that NRDC receives these documents in a timely manner. The Commission has already begun setting management measures for the 2018 summer flounder recreational fishing season, and the Commission and individual states will make key management decisions over the next four months prior to the opening of the season in May 2018. Particularly if New Jersey or other states choose not to comply with the relevant management plan for the 2018 fishing season, the requested documents could provide critical information to NRDC and the public in making advocacy decisions.

9. NRDC seeks a declaration that Commerce has violated FOIA by failing to provide a final determination as to whether it will comply with NRDC’s request, and by failing to produce all non-exempt responsive records, by the statutory deadline. NRDC seeks an injunction ordering Commerce to disclose at no cost and without further delay all non-exempt, responsive records to NRDC.
THE PARTIES

10. Plaintiff NRDC is a national, non-profit environmental and public health membership organization with hundreds of thousands of members nationwide. NRDC engages in research, advocacy, public education, and litigation related to protecting public health and the environment. The organization’s work includes efforts to end overfishing and promote the long-term sustainability of fishing practices in the United States.

11. Defendant Commerce is a federal agency within the meaning of FOIA, 5 U.S.C. § 551(1), and has possession or control of the records that NRDC seeks.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

12. This Court has jurisdiction over this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331 and 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(B).

13. Venue is proper in this court because plaintiff NRDC resides and has its principal place of business in this judicial district. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(B).

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY FRAMEWORK

14. FOIA requires that federal agencies release, upon request, information to the public, 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3), unless one of nine statutory exemptions applies, id. § 552(b).

15. Within 20 business days of an agency’s receipt of a FOIA request, the agency must “determine . . . whether to comply with such request,” id. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i); see also 15 C.F.R. § 4.6(b) (Commerce FOIA regulation), and “immediately notify the person making such request of . . . such determination and the reasons therefor,” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i). If the agency determines that it will comply with the request, it must “promptly” release responsive, non-exempt records to the requester. Id. § 552(a)(6)(C)(i); see also 15 C.F.R. § 4.7(c).

16. In “unusual circumstances,” an agency may extend the time limit for responding to a FOIA request by up to 10 business days. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(B)(i).

17. If the agency fails to comply with the statutory time limits, the requester is deemed to have exhausted her administrative remedies and may immediately file suit “to enjoin the agency from withholding agency records and to order the production of any agency records improperly withheld.” 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(4)(B), 552(a)(6)(C)(i).

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

18. Summer flounder is an important fish for commercial and recreational fishing industries along the Mid-Atlantic coast, and is found in waters from Nova Scotia, Canada, to the east coast of Florida. Despite conservation efforts, the summer flounder population is below target levels and is currently subject to overfishing.

19. Summer flounder and the fishing of summer flounder collectively known as the summer flounder fishery are jointly managed by NOAA (a component of Commerce), the Mid-Atlantic Fishery Management Council, and the Fisheries Commission. Together, these entities seek to conserve summer flounder and prevent depletion of the species.
20. Under the Atlantic Coastal Fisheries Cooperative Management Act (Atlantic Coastal Act), 16 U.S.C. §§ 5101-5108, the Fisheries Commission is tasked with developing management plans to conserve summer flounder (as well as other fish species in the Atlantic coastal region), see id. § 5104(a). The Atlantic Coastal Act provides that, for each management plan, the Commission must identify the states that are required to implement and enforce the plan. Id. § 5104(a)(1). Under some management plans, the Commission allows states to implement their own management measures, so long as the state’s measures achieve the same level of conservation as the Commission’s plan.

21. If the Fisheries Commission finds that a state has failed to implement or enforce measures in compliance with the Commission’s management plan for a particular fish species, the Atlantic Coastal Act requires the Commission to make a formal non-compliance determination. Id. § 5105(a). This determination is subject to review by the Secretary of Commerce, who makes an independent compliance determination. Id. § 5106(a)(1). If the Secretary agrees that the state has failed to implement and enforce the measures contained in the management plan, and also that such measures are “necessary for the conservation of the fishery,” the Secretary must declare a moratorium on fishing that species in the waters of the non-complying state. Id. § 5106(a), (c)(1).

22. In February 2017, in response to new science indicating the declining population status of summer flounder, the Fisheries Commission tightened measures in its summer flounder management plan applicable to recreational fishing. These stricter measures included increased minimum size requirements and a reduction in the maximum number of summer flounder allowed to be caught and kept by any one person.

23. State officials from New Jersey, one of several states required to implement and enforce the Commission’s summer flounder management plan, vocally opposed these stricter measures. Soon after the Fisheries Commission voted on the new restrictions, the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection Commissioner wrote a letter to the Secretary of Commerce, asking the Secretary to stop them from going into effect, claiming the restrictions would lead to the “destruction of” New Jersey’s recreational summer flounder industry.

24. New Jersey ultimately proposed its own summer flounder recreational management measures, instead of implementing the new measures adopted by the Commission. Although the Commission’s summer flounder management plan allowed New Jersey to do so if the measures would achieve the same level of conservation as the Commission’s plan, after reviewing the measures proposed by New Jersey, the Commission found that the measures would not sufficiently protect summer flounder and were therefore inconsistent with the Commission’s plan.

25. New Jersey nonetheless implemented its own measures, prompting a formal non-compliance determination by the Fisheries Commission on June 1, 2017.

26. In July 2017, for the first time in the twenty-four-year history of the Atlantic Coastal Act, the Secretary of Commerce made a finding contrary to the Commission’s non-compliance determination, allowing New Jersey’s recreational summer flounder season to proceed. Specifically, the Secretary found that the measures New Jersey failed to implement were “not necessary for the conservation of summer flounder.” 82 Fed. Reg. 33,481 (July 20, 2017). The notice announcing the Secretary’s compliance determination was brief and devoid of any substantive explanation. See id.

27. On July 26, 2017, NRDC served a FOIA request on Commerce, seeking records supporting, explaining, or otherwise relating to the Secretary’s finding that the summer flounder management measures New Jersey failed to implement were not necessary for the conservation of summer flounder. NRDC also requested a fee waiver.

28. NRDC received an email notification indicating that the request would be processed by NOAA, a component of Commerce. NRDC also received a letter from NOAA on August 4, 2017, acknowledging receipt of the request and stating that the agency was invoking the statutory ten-day extension applicable in “unusual circumstances.” In its letter, NOAA stated that it anticipated completing NRDC’s request by September 7, 2017.

29. On August 23, NRDC received a letter from NOAA recommending that NRDC narrow the scope of its request. After a phone call with NRDC on August 24 and an additional email from NRDC on August 25, NOAA agreed to move forward with the request. Around the same time, Commerce granted NRDC’s fee waiver request.
30. NOAA provided NRDC with two “interim releases” of responsive documents in October and November, but did not provide a final date for Commerce’s completion of NRDC’s request. The interim releases consisted solely of documents from NOAA’s files, and a NOAA representative confirmed that NOAA itself has no other responsive documents. NOAA further informed NRDC that it was unable to provide more information regarding the status of Commerce’s search for additional responsive documents, other than noting a “significant logjam” due to the volume of Commerce FOIA requests.

31. It has been six months since NRDC served its FOIA request on Commerce, and more than four months since the statutory deadline passed, yet Commerce has failed to provide NRDC with a final response to its request.

CLAIM FOR RELIEF

32. Plaintiff incorporates by reference all preceding paragraphs.

33. NRDC has a statutory right under FOIA to obtain without further delay all records responsive to its request that are not exempt from disclosure.

34. Commerce violated its duty under FOIA, 5 U.S.C. § 552(a), to release by the statutory deadline all non-exempt, responsive records to NRDC.

REQUEST FOR RELIEF

Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court enter judgment against Commerce as follows:

A. Declaring that Commerce has violated FOIA by failing to produce all non-exempt records responsive to NRDC’s FOIA request by the statutory deadline;
B. Ordering that Commerce disclose the remaining requested records to NRDC at no cost and without further delay;

C. Ordering that Commerce produce an index identifying any documents or parts thereof that it withholds and the basis for the withholdings, in the event Commerce determines that certain responsive records are exempt from disclosure;

D. Retaining jurisdiction over this case to rule on any challenged assertions by Commerce that certain responsive records are exempt from disclosure;

E. Awarding NRDC its costs and reasonable attorneys’ fees; and

F. Granting such other relief that the Court considers just and proper.

Respectfully submitted,

Re: Massachusetts Freedom of Information Act Request

Dear Mr. Hoey:

I write on behalf of Cause of Action Institute ("CoA Institute"), a nonprofit strategic oversight group committed to ensuring that government decision-making is open, honest, and fair.1 In carrying out its mission, CoA Institute uses investigative and legal tools to educate the public about the importance of government transparency and accountability.

On April 11, 2017, CoA Institute submitted a public comment to the New England Fishery Management Council ("NEFMC") concerning NEFMC’s draft Industry-Funded Monitoring Omnibus Amendment.2 The comment was specifically directed to Dr. John Quinn, who serves as NEFMC Chairman and also represents the interests of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in his capacity as a voting member.3 In the comment, CoA Institute expressed concern over the lack of statutory authority for the NEFMC and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration ("NOAA") to compel regulated parties (i.e., commercial fishermen) to pay for supplemental at-sea monitoring.4

2 Letter from CoA Inst. to Dr. John Quinn, New Eng. Fishery Mgmt. Council (Apr. 11, 2017) (attached as Exhibit 1).
3 See 16 U.S.C. § 1852(a)(1)(C), (b)(2). To the extent Dr. Quinn uses his state government e-mail address for NEFMC business, the records that he creates, receives, and maintains qualify as "public records" for the purposes of the Massachusetts Public Records Act. See MASS. GEN. LAWS, ch. 4, § 7(26); see also 950 MASS. CODE REGS. § 32.02 (defining "public record" to include "[a]ll . . . papers . . . or other documentary materials or data, regardless of physical form of characteristics, made or received by a governmental entity [...]". The relevant definitions of "governmental entity" and "agency" incontrovertibly include the University of Massachusetts Dartmouth and Dr. Quinn in his capacity as a university employee. The University is therefore the proper custodian to receive and process CoA Institute’s records request. Indeed, at all times relevant, Dr. Quinn advertised his university e-mail account as the proper addresses by which to contact him for NEFMC business. See, e.g., NEW. ENG. FISHERY MGMT. COUNCIL, COUNCIL MEMBER BIOGRAPHIES at 1 (Jan. 22, 2018), available at http://bit.ly/2omnQ7l; see also Council Membership, New Eng. Fishery Mgmt. Council (archived page date July 31, 2017) (attached as Exhibit 2); see generally E-mail from CoA Inst. to Dr. John Quinn, New Eng. Fishery Mgmt. Council (Apr. 11, 2017) (attached as Exhibit 3).
Pursuant to the Massachusetts Public Records Act § 66–10, et seq., CoA Institute hereby requests access to the following records:

All records concerning CoA Institute’s April 2017 comment, including but not limited to all correspondence between or amongst Dr. John Quinn and (1) members of the NEFMC or Mid-Atlantic Fishery Management Council; (2) officials, employees, or representatives of NOAA; (3) officials, employees, or representatives of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts; or (4) any non-governmental third party.

The time period for this request is April 11, 2017 to the present.\(^5\) Search terms may include, but are not limited to, “Cause of Action,” “CoA,” “Julie Smith,” “Eric Bolinder,” and “Ryan Mulvey.” In addition to e-mail correspondence, other responsive records may include notes on the comment (handwritten or otherwise), memoranda, letters, meeting agendas, phone call notes, voice messages, text and instant messages, and desk calendar entries.

Request for a Public Interest Fee Waiver and Treatment as a News Media Requester

CoA Institute requests a waiver of all applicable fees. Massachusetts law and applicable regulations provide that a records access officer may furnish records without or at reduced charge if “disclosure of the requested record[s] is in the public interest” and “is not primarily in the commercial interest of the requester.”\(^6\) In this case, CoA Institute seeks the disclosure of information that will contribute significantly to public understanding of the operations or activities of the Commonwealth vis-à-vis Dr. Quinn’s representation on the NEFMC. This request is not primarily in the commercial interest of CoA Institute, a federal tax-exempt organization that is frequently treated as a representative of the news media in its Freedom of Information Act work.

In this case, the requested records will unquestionably shed light on the operations or activities of the NEFMC— and the Commonwealth’s representative, Dr. John Quinn—in overseeing the transition of the herring and mackerel fisheries to an industry-funded at-sea monitoring regime and, moreover, in laying a foundation for the introduction of industry funding across all regional fisheries. The public interest value of the requested records is demonstrated by the widespread concern over the economic feasibility of industry funding among vessel owners and operators. Indeed, the legality of industry-funded monitoring has been the subject of litigation.\(^7\) The public has a right to view these records. Disclosure will likely aid public understanding because, to date, all records concerning CoA Institute’s comment have not been made publicly available.

CoA Institute has the intent and ability to make the results of this request available to a reasonably broad public audience through various media. Its staff has significant experience and expertise in government oversight, investigative reporting, and public interest litigation. These professionals will analyze the information responsive to this request, use their editorial skills to turn raw materials into a distinct work, and share the resulting analysis with the public through CoA Institute’s regularly published online newsletter, memoranda, reports, or press releases. In addition, CoA Institute is a non-profit entity as defined under Section 501(e)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

For fee purposes, CoA Institute also qualifies as a representative of the news media because it gathers information of potential interest to a segment of the public, uses its editorial skills to turn raw materials into a distinct work, and distributes that work to an audience. CoA Institute gathers the news it regularly publishes from a variety of sources, including federal and state Freedom of Information Act requests, whistleblowers/insiders, and scholarly works. It does not merely make raw information available to the public, but distributes distinct work product, including articles, blog posts, investigative reports, newsletters, and congressional testimony and statements for the record. These distinct works are distributed to the public through various media, including CoA Institute’s website, Twitter, and Facebook. CoA Institute also provides news updates to subscribers via e-mail.

In the event fees are not waived or reduced, please inform me if the applicable costs for searching and copying the requested records will exceed $100.

Record Production and Contact Information

The Massachusetts Public Records Act requires a response to this request within ten (10) business days. In an effort to facilitate document review, please provide the responsive documents in electronic form in lieu of a paper production. If a certain portion of responsive records can be produced more readily, CoA Institute requests that they be produced first and the remaining records be produced on a rolling basis as circumstances permit. If you deny any or all of this request, please provide citations to the exemptions that justify such determination, along with notice of the appeal procedures available under the law.

If you have any questions about this request, please contact me by telephone at (202) 499-4232 or by e-mail at ryan.mulvey@causeofaction.org. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Re: Industry-Funded Monitoring (IFM) Omnibus Amendment

Dear Chairman Quinn:

I write on behalf of Cause of Action Institute (“CoA Institute”) with respect to the New England Fishery Management Council’s (“NEFMC” or “Council”) consideration of final action on the Industry-Funded Monitoring Omnibus Amendment (“Omnibus Amendment”). The Omnibus Amendment raises a number of serious legal questions concerning the Council’s authority to compel regulated parties, i.e., fishermen, to pay for supplemental monitoring services. As set forth in detail below, there is no authority under the Magnuson-Stevens Act (“MSA”), 16 U.S.C. § 1801 et seq., for industry funding requirements in most of the Atlantic fisheries. As such, the Omnibus Amendment, and future attempts to implement industry-funded monitoring under the Omnibus Amendment’s framework, will almost certainly face legal challenge. CoA Institute requests that the Council either abandon the Omnibus Amendment or develop alternative ways to achieve the Council’s goals of increased data collection and expanded policing of annual catch totals. The NEFMC could, for example, work with the National Marine Fisheries Service (“NMFS”) to reallocate existing funds for monitoring or petition Congress to appropriate funding specific to expanded monitoring. Attempting to shift monitoring costs without legal authority onto an already economically-burdened industry would be ill-advised.

CoA Institute is a nonpartisan 501(c)(3) nonprofit strategic oversight group committed to ensuring that government decision-making is open, honest, and fair. In carrying out its mission, CoA Institute uses various investigative and legal tools to educate the public about the importance of government transparency and accountability, as well as agency adherence to the rule of law. CoA Institute advocates on behalf of clients facing federal overreach and overregulation, including members of the New England fishing industry. CoA Institute currently represents David Goethel—a former member of the NEFMC—and the members of Northeast Fishery Sector XIII in a challenge to the Northeast multispecies industry-funded sector at-sea monitoring program. That case raises many of the same issues faced by the Council vis-à-vis the Omnibus Amendment.

I. The Magnuson-Stevens Act Does Not Authorize the Industry-Funded Monitoring Programs Intended by the Omnibus Amendment.

The stated purpose of the Omnibus Amendment is straightforward: the Council is “interested in increasing monitoring and/or other types of data collection to assess the amount and type of catch, to more precisely monitor annual catch limits, and/or provide other information for management,” but its ability to fund that increased monitoring is limited. The proposed solution is to design a standardized mechanism that would permit the government to order fishermen to cover a substantial portion of monitoring costs. Yet the Council fails to point to any provision in the MSA that gives it the authority to implement such a plan.

5 See Omnibus Amend. at 41.
7 See, e.g., Omnibus Amend. at 62 (“Under Omnibus Alternative 2, there would be an established, standardized structure for new industry-funded monitoring programs . . . [that addresses] (1) standard cost responsibilities associated with industry-funded monitoring for NMFS and the fishing industry, (2) a process for FMP-specific industry-funded monitoring to be implemented via [amendment and revised via] a . . . framework adjustment action, (3) standard administrative requirements [for industry-funded monitoring service providers] . . . (4) [a] process to prioritize new industry-funded monitoring programs in order to allocate available Federal resources for industry-funded monitoring across FMPs, including the type of weighing approach and the timing of revising the weighing approach, and [(5)] a process for FMP-specific monitoring set-aside programs to be
a. The Council Requires Explicit Statutory Authorization to Require Industry to Fund Supplemental Discretionary Monitoring Programs

Federal agencies do not enjoy unbridled power in choosing which programs to pursue; they cannot impose new fees or taxes, nor can they simply demand that citizens pay for programs that the government ought to be financing in the first place. In this sense, the most basic presumption in the Omnibus Amendment, namely, that the Council can order industry to fund a monitoring program, is gravely mistaken and runs afoul of a fundamental principle of administrative law: “[A]n agency literally has no power to act . . . unless and until Congress confers power upon it.”8 The Council appears to acknowledge as much, but does not give the principle due credit: “A Federal agency cannot spend money on a program beyond the maximum authorized program level without authorization from Congress. [It] also cannot get around the maximum authorized program level by adding to its appropriations from sources outside the government without permission from Congress.”9

The MSA does not authorize the Council to redesign fishery management plans to introduce the sort of industry-funded monitoring envisioned by the Omnibus Amendment. At most, the MSA authorizes the placement of observers and monitors.10 The Council, however, is not at liberty to design any particular funding mechanism for those monitors. The plain meaning of the MSA, here, is clear and unambiguous.11 The statute only authorizes industry-funded monitoring in a few specific regions and circumstances: (1) foreign fishing,12 (2) limited access privilege programs,13 and (3) the North Pacific fisheries research plan.14 Congress’s decision to permit NMFS and the regional councils to require industry-funded monitoring and observing in those, and only those, three situations shows its intent to disallow industry funding in other instances.\textsuperscript{15} To read the statute otherwise violates Congress’s clear intent and the well-established legislative history of the MSA.\textsuperscript{16}

Notwithstanding the Council’s lack of explicit legal authority, the introduction of industry-funded monitoring across the Greater Atlantic fisheries would also impose a tremendous economic burden on the fishing industry and could lead to the elimination of small-scale fishing. This result would violate National Standards 7 and 8.\textsuperscript{17} Congress never intended to grant the Council the authority to regulate a substantial portion of the Atlantic fleet out of existence.\textsuperscript{18} Indeed, as the Supreme Court has held, “Congress . . . does not alter the fundamental details of a regulatory scheme [such as the one intended by the MSA] in vague terms or ancillary provisions,”\textsuperscript{19} nor does it “delegate a decision of such economic and political significance [as the introduction of industry-funded monitoring] in so cryptic a fashion.” Industry-funded monitoring as a normal course of fishery regulation is not only novel, but represents a shift of economic and political significance.

\textsuperscript{16} There is no evidence of Congressional recognition for some pre-existing, implied authority to impose monitoring costs on industry. Congress has repeatedly declined the opportunity to permit industry funding nationwide. Each time the MSA has been reauthorized, Congress considered (and rejected) bills that would have created blanket authority for mandatory industry funding. H.R. 1554, 101st Cong. § 2(a)(3) (1989); H.R. 39, 104th Cong. § 9(b)(4) (1995); H.R. 5018, 109th Cong. § 9(b) (2006).

In the absence of authorization for the sort of industry-funded monitoring programs contemplated by the Omnibus Amendment, the Council can only be described as preparing to impose a “tax” to extract money from regulated parties in order to fund desired regulatory programs. This cannot stand as “only Congress has the power to levy taxes.” The Omnibus Amendment, as applied in future fishery management plan amendments, would also violate numerous statutes governing agency finance, such as the Anti-Deficiency Act and the Miscellaneous Receipts Statutes. Finally, industry funding requirements would impermissibly compel fishermen into commercial transactions in violation of the Commerce Clause and violate other parts of the Constitution, including the Fourth Amendment.

II. The Expected Economic Impact of the Omnibus Amendment, including Provisions for the Herring and Mackerel Fisheries, and Stakeholder Feedback Expose Other Important Deficiencies.

In line with the National Standards, the Omnibus Amendment and future industry-funded monitoring programs must “minimize costs,” “provide for the sustained participation of [fishing] communities,” and “minimize adverse economic impacts.” The Omnibus Amendment fails to meet these standards, both generally and with respect to the herring and mackerel alternatives, because it will have a severe and adverse impact on the fishing industry.

The expected economic impact on fishery-related business and communities is uniformly negative. Monitoring costs in the herring fishery, for example, will likely exceed $710 per sea day for an at-sea monitor and $818 per sea day for a NEFOP-level observer. Such costs are probably higher than the daily landings revenue of the typical small-scale vessel. This is certainly the case in the Northeast multispecies fishery. Under the groundfish sector at-sea monitoring program, up to 60% of the fleet is expected to “see negative returns to owner when full” monitoring costs “are factored in.” The Council cannot ignore the devastating economic effects of industry funding in the herring and mackerel fisheries, just as it cannot ignore the costs associated with the Omnibus Alternatives, which it has deemed too “speculative” to consider.

It is worth noting the overwhelmingly negative feedback that the Council and NMFS have received in pursing the Omnibus Amendment. Of the eighty-three (83) submissions posted to the electronic docket during the last round of public comment, only six (6) voiced various levels of support for industry-funded monitoring; the vast majority — 93% — opposed it. The reasons for this opposition are straightforward enough. Many small-scale fishermen cannot remain profitable if they must assume monitoring costs. The Long Island Commercial Fishing Association, for example, expects that the Omnibus Amendment’s approximately $800 per sea day cost would force more than half of the entire New York-based fleet out of business. Stakeholders are also skeptical that increased monitoring has any connection to conservation or maintaining the sustainability of the fisheries, and they question the quality of the data collected. Most importantly, however, the public recognizes that the MSA does not, in fact, authorize industry-funded monitoring simply because the Council or NMFS wishes it to do so, and they acknowledge the potential constitutional problems.

29 Id. at 291 (Table 89). For fishermen active in both the herring and the mackerel fisheries, these costs could rise even further. See id. at 301 (“Many of the vessels that would be impacted by industry-funded monitoring costs in the herring fishery would also be impacted by industry-funded monitoring costs in the mackerel fishery.”). Total estimated costs for vessels active in the mackerel fishery will depend, of course, on the Mid-Atlantic Fishery Management Council’s preferred mackerel coverage target alternatives, which have not yet been chosen.

Apart from the lack of authority under the MSA for the Council and NMFS to impose monitoring costs on vessels, the Council has also failed to provide an adequate explanation for why increased monitoring is necessary, let alone justify that monitoring in light of the extreme financial burden it will put on fishermen. Industry-funded monitoring, as proposed, would destroy multi-generational, small-business fishermen up-and-down the East Coast while benefitting industrial fishing firms. That result is unacceptable.

Council Membership

The 18 voting members of the Council include the Regional Administrator of NOAA Fisheries in the Greater Atlantic Region (GARFO) and the five principal state officials with marine fishery management responsibility (or their designee) from CT, ME, MA, NH, and RI.

Twelve other NEFMC members are nominated by the governors of the New England coastal states and appointed by the Secretary of Commerce for three-year terms. Additionally, four non-voting members represent the United States Coast Guard, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, U.S. Department of State, and the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission.

Financial Interest of Members

Council members may have an interest in any fishery-related harvesting, processing, lobbying, advocacy, or marketing activity as long as they disclose the extent of this interest to the public. This ensures that knowledgeable fishing industry members can serve on the Council. Council members are not allowed to vote on matters that would benefit only them or a minority of other people within the same sector or gear group.

Re: Industry-Funded Monitoring (IFM) Omnibus Amendment

Dear Chairman Quinn:

I write on behalf of Cause of Action Institute (“CoA Institute”) with respect to the New England Fishery Management Council’s (“NEFMC” or “Council”) consideration of final action on the Industry-Funded Monitoring Omnibus Amendment (“Omnibus Amendment”). The Omnibus Amendment raises a number of serious legal questions concerning the Council’s authority to compel regulated parties, i.e., fishermen, to pay for supplemental monitoring services. As set forth in detail below, there is no authority under the Magnuson-Stevens Act (“MSA”), 16 U.S.C. § 1801 et seq., for industry funding requirements in most of the Atlantic fisheries. As such, the Omnibus Amendment, and future attempts to implement industry-funded monitoring under the Omnibus Amendment’s framework, will almost certainly face legal challenge. CoA Institute requests that the Council either abandon the Omnibus Amendment or develop alternative ways to achieve the Council’s goals of increased data collection and expanded policing of annual catch totals. The NEFMC could, for example, work with the National Marine Fisheries Service (“NMFS”) to reallocate existing funds for monitoring or petition Congress to appropriate funding specific to expanded monitoring. Attempting to shift monitoring costs without legal authority onto an already economically-bleegauered industry would be ill-advised.

CoA Institute is a nonpartisan 501(c)(3) nonprofit strategic oversight group committed to ensuring that government decision-making is open, honest, and fair. In carrying out its mission, CoA Institute uses various investigative and legal tools to educate the public about the importance of government transparency and accountability, as well as agency adherence to the rule of law. CoA Institute advocates on behalf of clients facing federal overreach and overregulation, including members of the New England fishing industry. CoA Institute currently represents David Goethel—a former member of the NEFMC—and the members of Northeast Fishery Sector XIII in a challenge to the Northeast multispecies industry-funded sector at-sea monitoring program. That case raises many of the same issues faced by the Council vis-à-vis the Omnibus Amendment.

I. The Magnuson-Stevens Act Does Not Authorize the Industry-Funded Monitoring Programs Intended by the Omnibus Amendment.

The stated purpose of the Omnibus Amendment is straightforward: the Council is “interested in increasing monitoring and/or other types of data collection to assess the amount and type of catch, to more precisely monitor annual catch limits, and/or provide other information for management,” but its ability to fund that increased monitoring is limited. The proposed solution is to design a standardized mechanism that would permit the government to order fishermen to cover a substantial portion of monitoring costs. Yet the Council fails to point to any provision in the MSA that gives it the authority to implement such a plan.

5 See Omnibus Amend. at 41.
7 See, e.g., Omnibus Amend. at 62 (“Under Omnibus Alternative 2, there would be an established, standardized structure for new industry-funded monitoring programs . . . [that addresses] (1) standard cost responsibilities associated with industry-funded monitoring for NMFS and the fishing industry, (2) a process for FMP-specific industry-funded monitoring to be implemented via [amendment and revised via] a . . . framework adjustment action, (3) standard administrative requirements [for industry-funded monitoring service providers] . . . (4) [a] process to prioritize new industry-funded monitoring programs in order to allocate available Federal resources for industry-funded monitoring across FMPs, including the type of weighing approach and the timing of revising the weighing approach, and [(5)] a process for FMP-specific monitoring set-aside programs to be
a. The Council Requires Explicit Statutory Authorization to Require Industry to Fund Supplemental Discretionary Monitoring Programs

Federal agencies do not enjoy unbridled power in choosing which programs to pursue; they cannot impose new fees or taxes, nor can they simply demand that citizens pay for programs that the government ought to be financing in the first place. In this sense, the most basic presumption in the Omnibus Amendment, namely, that the Council can order industry to fund a monitoring program, is gravely mistaken and runs afoul of a fundamental principle of administrative law: “[A]n agency literally has no power to act . . . unless and until Congress confers power upon it.”\(^8\) The Council appears to acknowledge as much, but does not give the principle due credit: “A Federal agency cannot spend money on a program beyond the maximum authorized program level without authorization from Congress. [It] also cannot get around the maximum authorized program level by adding to its appropriations from sources outside the government without permission from Congress.”\(^9\)

The MSA does not authorize the Council to redesign fishery management plans to introduce the sort of industry-funded monitoring envisioned by the Omnibus Amendment. At most, the MSA authorizes the placement of observers and monitors.\(^10\) The Council, however, is not at liberty to design any particular funding mechanism for those monitors. The plain meaning of the MSA, here, is clear and unambiguous.\(^11\) The statute only authorizes industry-funded monitoring in a few specific regions and circumstances: (1) foreign fishing,\(^12\) (2) limited access privilege programs,\(^13\) and (3) the North Pacific fisheries research plan.\(^14\) Congress’s decision to permit NMFS and the regional councils to require industry-funded monitoring and observing in those, and only those, three situations shows its intent to disallow industry funding in other instances.\textsuperscript{15} To read the statute otherwise violates Congress’s clear intent and the well-established legislative history of the MSA.\textsuperscript{16}

Notwithstanding the Council’s lack of explicit legal authority, the introduction of industry-funded monitoring across the Greater Atlantic fisheries would also impose a tremendous economic burden on the fishing industry and could lead to the elimination of small-scale fishing. This result would violate National Standards 7 and 8.\textsuperscript{17} Congress never intended to grant the Council the authority to regulate a substantial portion of the Atlantic fleet out of existence.\textsuperscript{18} Indeed, as the Supreme Court has held, “Congress . . . does not alter the fundamental details of a regulatory scheme [such as the one intended by the MSA] in vague terms or ancillary provisions,”\textsuperscript{19} nor does it “delegate a decision of such economic and political significance [as the introduction of industry-funded monitoring] in so cryptic a fashion." Industry-funded monitoring as a normal course of fishery regulation is not only novel, but represents a shift of economic and political significance.

In the absence of authorization for the sort of industry-funded monitoring programs contemplated by the Omnibus Amendment, the Council can only be described as preparing to impose a “tax” to extract money from regulated parties in order to fund desired regulatory programs. This cannot stand as “only Congress has the power to levy taxes.” The Omnibus Amendment, as applied in future fishery management plan amendments, would also violate numerous statutes governing agency finance, such as the Anti-Deficiency Act and the Miscellaneous Receipts Statutes. Finally, industry funding requirements would impermissibly compel fishermen into commercial transactions in violation of the Commerce Clause and violate other parts of the Constitution, including the Fourth Amendment.

II. The Expected Economic Impact of the Omnibus Amendment, including Provisions for the Herring and Mackerel Fisheries, and Stakeholder Feedback Expose Other Important Deficiencies.

In line with the National Standards, the Omnibus Amendment and future industry-funded monitoring programs must “minimize costs,” “provide for the sustained participation of [fishing] communities,” and “minimize adverse economic impacts.” The Omnibus Amendment fails to meet these standards, both generally and with respect to the herring and mackerel alternatives, because it will have a severe and adverse impact on the fishing industry.

The expected economic impact on fishery-related business and communities is uniformly negative.\(^{28}\) Monitoring costs in the herring fishery, for example, will likely exceed $710 per sea day for an at-sea monitor and $818 per sea day for a NEFOP-level observer.\(^{29}\) Such costs are probably higher than the daily landings revenue of the typical small-scale vessel. This is certainly the case in the Northeast multispecies fishery. Under the groundfish sector at-sea monitoring program, up to 60% of the fleet is expected to “see negative returns to owner when full” monitoring costs “are factored in.”\(^{30}\) The Council cannot ignore the devastating economic effects of industry funding in the herring and mackerel fisheries, just as it cannot ignore the costs associated with the Omnibus Alternatives, which it has deemed too “speculative” to consider.\(^{31}\)

It is worth noting the overwhelmingly negative feedback that the Council and NMFS have received in pursing the Omnibus Amendment. Of the eighty-three (83) submissions posted to the electronic docket during the last round of public comment, only six (6) voiced various levels of support for industry-funded monitoring; the vast majority — 93% — opposed it.\(^{32}\) The reasons for this opposition are straightforward enough. Many small-scale fishermen cannot remain profitable if they must assume \(^{28}\) See, e.g., Omnibus Amend. at xiii–xxiv; id. at 244 (“Overall, there will be negative direct economic impacts to fishing vessels as a result of selecting Omnibus Alternative 2[.]”) (emphasis added).

\(^{29}\) Id. at 291 (Table 89). For fishermen active in both the herring and the mackerel fisheries, these costs could rise even further. See id. at 301 (“Many of the vessels that would be impacted by industry-funded monitoring costs in the herring fishery would also be impacted by industry-funded monitoring costs in the mackerel fishery.”). Total estimated costs for vessels active in the mackerel fishery will depend, of course, on the Mid-Atlantic Fishery Management Council’s preferred mackerel coverage target alternatives, which have not yet been chosen.

Council, Draft Report: Preliminary Evaluation of the Impact of Groundfish-Sector Funded At Sea Monitoring on Groundfish Fishery Profits at 10 (June 19, 2015), available at http://bit.ly/28QUXwT. These costs are predicted to be heaviest for small vessels. Id. at 13 (Table 12). NMFS recognized these prospects, describing them as a “restructuring of the fleet.” Id. at 10.

monitoring costs. The Long Island Commercial Fishing Association, for example, expects that the Omnibus Amendment’s approximately $800 per sea day cost would force more than half of the entire New York-based fleet out of business. Stakeholders are also skeptical that increased monitoring has any connection to conservation or maintaining the sustainability of the fisheries, and they question the quality of the data collected. Most importantly, however, the public recognizes that the MSA does not, in fact, authorize industry-funded monitoring simply because the Council or NMFS wishes it to do so, and they acknowledge the potential constitutional problems.

Apart from the lack of authority under the MSA for the Council and NMFS to impose monitoring costs on vessels, the Council has also failed to provide an adequate explanation for why increased monitoring is necessary, let alone justify that monitoring in light of the extreme financial burden it will put on fishermen. Industry-funded monitoring, as proposed, would destroy multi-generational, small-business fishermen up-and-down the East Coast while benefitting industrial fishing firms. That result is unacceptable.

34 See Comment of Long Island Commercial Fishing Ass’n on Omnibus Amend. (Nov. 8, 2016), Docket No. NOAA-NMFS-2016-0139-0084, available at http://bit.ly/2odOrsX (“The onus for NMFS required observer coverage should be on NMFS, not industry. It is cost prohibitive.”).

FOIA Officers and Contacts:

My office has been asked to provide the Office of Public Affairs (OPA) an “awareness” of FOIA requests of interest on a weekly basis. I am aware that many of you have been submitting weekly reports to me, as well as other individuals within the Department. This requirement will replace those reports—you will only need to provide the “new” reports to me at mtoland@doc.gov with a cc to efoia@doc.gov, and you may discontinue any previous reports that you have been providing to the Department. Of course, you should continue to provide those reports internally, as needed. Additionally, if you have any concerns or questions about current reports, please feel free to contact me.

I have provided two (2) attachments to my email:

1. BOU Weekly FOIA Report template – please use this spreadsheet to submit your requests of interest. I will be compiling a master list to submit to OPA and senior leadership and the use of a template will make it easier to finalize the list, as well as ensure consistency.

2. BOU FOIA reports Word document – describes the parameters associated with the reports. For example, the document lists the categories of interest along with what request are not to be provided as part of a report.

Use the following guidelines:

- Reports are to be provided to my office by close of business on each Wednesday of a week via email to the email addresses identified in paragraph 1.
- A report should run from Wednesday of the previous week to Tuesday of the current week. As an example, this week’s report would have been for the week 5/17/17 – 5/23/17.
- If your bureau or operating unit (BOU) does not have any requests to report for a week, then submit a "No response for this week" email to the email addresses identified in paragraph 1.

- I will provide any additional guidance as needed.

Please be aware that this requirement is not an option. Submission of reports will start the week of May 29, 2017. So, I expect to receive reports that run from 5/24/17 – 5/30/17 from each FOIA Officer or Contact starting next week.

I realize that everyone may carry a heavy load in support of the Department’s FOIA program. Your support is greatly appreciated and does not go unnoticed.

Please feel free to contact me should you have any questions or need additional information.

Regards,

Mike

This is a specific request for an incident of harassment. Because the requester is familiar with the incident, they also will likely have a more complete knowledge of locations where responsive records are likely to be found and are more prone to raise a search adequacy challenge if the search is deficient.

Pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. § 552, I am requesting any and all documents, including, but not limited to, notes, e-mails, memos, or any other materials concerning pledges, oaths, requests or agreements, oral or written, not to disclose information or documents, or pledges, oaths, requests or agreements, oral or written, having to do with loyalty, allegiance, or similar concepts, made to the President, the Vice President, the Office of the President or the Office of the Vice President, or any individual working in the White House or the White House Compound by any and all current and former members of the NOAA's leadership team according to the NOAA's website, including, but not limited to, the Director, Acting Director, Deputy Directors, and Inspector General, along with the leadership team’s senior staff, since Nov. 9, 2016. (If you need clarity about this request, I’m looking for analogs in your agency to the memos that former FBI Director James Comey wrote about a personal loyalty pledge that the President asked him to give.) Thank you very much for your assistance. If any of the material covered by this request has been destroyed or removed, please provide all surrounding documentation including, but not limited to, a description of the action taken regarding the materials and justification for those actions taken.&nbsp; For any documents or portions you deny due to a specific FOIA exemption, please provide a detailed justification of your grounds for claiming such exemption, explaining why the exemption is relevant to the document or portion of the document withheld.

I request any records and email communications relating to drafting the press release on the 2017 edition of NOAA’s Annual Greenhouse Gas Index found here: http://www.noaa.gov/news/noaa-s-greenhouse-gas-index-up-40-percent-since-1990 I would prefer to receive these in electronic format if possible. All documents relating to the mass stranding of nearly 100 false killer whales (Pseudorca crassidens) near Hog Key in southwest Florida in January 2017. This request includes documents generated and received by NMFS. In addition to documents which pertain to the incident itself, we are also seeking subsequent documents which relate to the cause of the mass beaching – including those which speculate as to cause. For reference, this incident has been the subject of a Miami Herald article, in which you were quoted, at the following URL: http://www.miamiherald.com/news/local/environment/article127095479.html I would prefer that these documents be transmitted to me as e-mail attachment(s) in PDF, Word, or WordPerfect format if the documents are maintained in any of these formats.

We are therefore requesting that the Center provide COMPASS modeling of increases in spill to gas cap levels at the Snake River collector dams.

This request includes but is not limited to:

1. Any and all communications by and between Tom Jackson, Research Fisheries Biologist, Protected Resources Division (NOAA) and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service concerning the Property;
2. Any and all communications by and between Joan Browder, Research Ecologist (NOAA) and staff at the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service concerning the Property;
3. Any and all surveys, Geographic Information System data or other documents pertaining to the presence of Miami tiger beetle, (Cicindela floridana) on the Property or in the immediate vicinity of the Property;

2016 Tuna catches have received moderate news coverage, including one notable article by The Pew Charitable Trusts, entitled "Netting Billions: A Valuation of Tuna in the Western and Central Pacific Ocean."

This touches on a recent Washington Post article referenced Secretary Ross’ reversal of the non-compliance finding, and a discussion on the impact on conservation efforts. The article was published July 17, and was picked up by other news sources, including the AP/KTAR News, and other local news groups. One example is here: http://ktar.com/story/1659851/group-trump-officials-fish-ruling-could-harm-conservation/. This may require the Department to take the lead, deferring to OPOG on ownership.

My request is for any and all documents, including internal emails, that discuss NOAA’s decision to remove the magenta line from its navigational chart.

I am seeking the database of the Marine Mammal Inventory Report compiled by the National Marine Fisheries Service for all years that are available in electronic form. I would like to receive this data in electronic form that is compatible with Excel or Access. Also, I would like to receive an electronic version of what is commonly called the data dictionary, which would explain the contents of each field of information.

ATTN - NAUTICAL DATA BRANCH: Requesting the following: (1) Latest Edition of All Volumes of the NAUTICAL CHART MANUAL (2) Any and all documents or files associated with the charting of oil and gas structures in Quarantine Bay, Louisiana, as depicted on NOAA/NOS/OCS Chart #11364 and/or US Coast and Geodetic Survey Chart #1271 and/or NOAA Electronic Navigation Chart (ENC) US4LA35M for the years 1960-2016 (3) For the years 1960-2016, any and all copies of documents provided by the US Army Corps of Engineers to NOAA/NOS/OCS (and specifically the NOS Marine Charting Division) regarding any structures in Quarantine Bay, Louisiana, including without limitation permits for construction of structures in Quarantine Bay and/or establishment/erection of private aids to navigation in Quarantine Bay (4) For the years 1960-2016, any and all copies of documents relating to Well 149 or 149-D located in Quarantine Bay, Louisiana.

1994 report by NOAA. Exact title unknown but referenced document indicates the following keywords: Terry Creek, Dupree Creek, Brunswick, GA sediment, Ampelisca abdita, amphipod, toxicity. Full quote regarding NOAA report to give context: In 1994, NOAA obtained sediment samples from estuarine settings in the Terry Creek and Back River areas and analyzed these samples for acute toxicity to the marine amphipod Ampelisca abdita (NOAA, 1994). Results indicated that sediments from Terry Creek exhibited sediment toxicity to A. abdita that was not observed in sediments from other areas of the Brunswick/St. Simon’s estuary.

I would like copies of all emails including the word CLIMATE or the word CHARTER or the phrase "ADVISORY COMMITTEE". I limit this search to an electronic search of emails in the email accounts of the Acting Administrator Ben Friedman, and those of his Senior Advisor, Special Assistant, Chief of Staff, Deputy Chief of Staff and Policy Director. Friends of the Earth requests all records pertaining to any applications for permits submitted to the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) for the authorization of offshore, marine aquaculture activities involving the culturing of finfish in net pens or cages, received from January 1, 2016 to present. These records should include, but not be limited to, any internal or external correspondence regarding the applications; any meetings or communications or other contact—including meeting minutes and scheduling notes—that any applicant arranged or attended with NOAA or that NOAA arranged or attended with any of the applicant; as well as any findings, conclusions, or actions taken in response to an application. For this request, the term “records” refers to, but is not limited to, correspondence of any kind, memoranda, letters, notes, schedules, electronic mail, telephone logs, minutes of meetings, work papers, reports, studies, or data.

Pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. Section 552 et seq. ("FOIA"), I request access to and copies of documents showing the number of people assigned to the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) from institutions of higher education under the Intergovernmental Personnel Act Mobility Program, as of two dates: September 14, 2017, and September 14, 2016 ("the First Request"). I also request access to and copies of documents showing the specific institutions of higher education with which those people were associated, and the number of people assigned to NOAA under the Intergovernmental Personnel Act Mobility Program from each participating institution of higher education, for both of the dates in question (the "Second Request"; together with the "First Request", the "Records"). The Office of Personnel Management states on its website (https://www.opm.gov/policy-data-oversight/hiring-information/intergovernmental-personnel-act/#url=Provisions) that "It is imperative that agencies maintain accurate records of all Intergovernmental Personnel Act assignments." Accordingly, I am hoping that the Records will be easily accessible and your agency will be able to provide them to me in a timely manner. To the extent necessary, I would appreciate your sending me the documents on a rolling basis rather than waiting for a complete response. I am further requesting that the Records be provided to me on computer files or, if not maintained on computer files, in the same format as they are currently maintained at NOAA.

To Whom It May Concern: I am seeking a copy of an October 2017 report to the White House from Commerce assessing the offshore oil and drilling potential in areas containing 11 protected marine monuments and sanctuaries. The report is required by the April 28, 2017 Executive Order 13795 – "Implementing an America-First Offshore Energy Strategy." The Commerce report includes a review of all designations and expansions of National Marine Sanctuaries and Marine National Monuments since April 28, 2007. Please send me this report and any other department correspondence related to it electronically in a PDF format. Thank you. Kellie Lunney

Pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, I request access to and copies of all documents created for the purpose of informing the Department of Justice regarding the views of the Office of the General Counsel for the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration with respect to the President’s authority to revoke or modify National Monuments.

We request a copy of whatever document reveals the amount of carry-over funding for the National Weather Service for Fiscal Year 2017, itemized by PPA, as soon as it becomes available. In order to assist you in identifying the document we are requesting, I am enclosing a copy of that document covering Fiscal Year 2016 which the agency provided us last year in response to a similar FOIA request.

On behalf of the Salinas Valley Water Coalition, this letter is a Freedom of Information Act ("FOIA") request made pursuant to 5 U.S.C. §552, et. seq. National Marine Fisheries Services ("NMFS") is requested to produce for inspection and copying any and all documents and records, including meeting notes, memoranda, electronic mails, presentations, minutes, agendas, and any other writing related to or associated with the meetings and telephone conferences with the Monterey County Water Resources Agency that occurred on or around the following dates: January-February 2014; April 1, 2014; April 7, 2014; May 22, 2014 May 27-May 30, 2015; July 6, 2015; and July 23, 2015.

This is a request for further information on the following case cited in the NOAA Office of General Counsel summary dated October 2017. http://www.gc.noaa.gov/documents/2017/Enforcement-Actions-10032017.pdf 8. AK1605973; Trident Seafoods Corporation – Company and individual were charged under the Magnuson-Stevens Act for putting forth delivery practices for observed vessels with the purpose of lowering salmon by-catch numbers, impeding the observers from collecting samples and resulting in a biasing of the observers sampling procedures and a biasing of the observed data provided to the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS). A Written Warning was issued. Specifically, I'd like a copy of the written warning issued in this case. I'd also like a copy of any initial charging documents.

The National Marine Sanctuaries review, required by section 4 of this order. As it states: a. Within 180 days of the date of this order, the Secretary of Commerce, in consultation with the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of the Interior, shall report the results of the review under this subsection to the Director of the Office of Management and Budget, the Chairman of the Council on Environmental Quality, and the Assistant to the President for Economic Policy.

This request is seeking communications with, or directed to, President Trump regarding a list of National Monument designations. This request appears to be directly related to the Presidential Executive Order on April 26, 2017 Ordering the Review of Designations Under the Antiquities Act.

This request seeks copies of any information used to inform the development of the following national monument proclamations or expansions during the specified time periods:
- Northeast Canyons and Seamounts Marine National Monument (01/01/14 – 12/31/16)
- Papahanaumokuakea Marine National Monument Expansion (01/01/14 – 12/31/16)
- Pacific Remote Islands Marine National Monument Expansion (01/01/12 – 12/31/14)
- Rose Atoll Marine National Monument (01/01/2007 – 12/31/2009)

This also seems to also be related to the Executive Order referenced above.

PETA is seeking copies of all records regarding Permit No. 774, issued to SeaWorld on October 7, 1992, to import the orca Tilikum pursuant to the Marine Mammal Protection Act (MMPA), from July 7, 2014, to the present. This is the same orca that was the subject of the film "Blackfish."

Please accept this e-mail as my request pursuant to FOIA for all e-mails or other documents created by or received by you that contain information described above.

Please accept this e-mail as my request pursuant to FOIA for all e-mails, text-messages, or "pings" (e.g., instant messages); and for any other means of electronic communication that are typically used to communicate with your employees.

Hello, I’m a journalism student at SDSU, and I’m writing an article for one of my classes about what harm humans have done to our environment. In my research, I have found that the CoA Institute has been awarding Blue Ribbons to meteorological organizations that have performed well in terms of accuracy and reliability of their forecasts. I would like to request certified copies of the meteorological records that you have kept on file, as well as any other relevant documents that you have generated or received that may inform your estimate of the number of Blue Ribbons awarded.

Request for Certified Blue Ribbon Copies of Meteorological Records

To Whom It May Concern: We request certified copies of the meteorological records that you have kept on file, as well as any other relevant documents that you have generated or received that may inform your estimate of the number of Blue Ribbons awarded. These records will be used to conduct a comprehensive analysis of the CoA Institute's selection process for awarding Blue Ribbons.

We are seeking to better understand the process leading to the President's issuance of Proclamation 9496 of September 20, 2014. By providing us with access to these records, you will enable us to conduct a thorough investigation into the CoA Institute's policies and procedures.

Thank you for your consideration of this request. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,
[Your Name]

FOIA Officers and Contacts:

My office has been asked to provide the Office of Public Affairs (OPA) an “awareness” of FOIA requests of interest on a weekly basis. I am aware that many of you have been submitting weekly reports to me, as well as other individuals within the Department. This requirement will replace those reports—you will only need to provide the “new” reports to me at mtoland@doc.gov with a cc to efoia@doc.gov, and you may discontinue any previous reports that you have been providing to the Department. Of course, you should continue to provide those reports internally, as needed. Additionally, if you have any concerns or questions about current reports, please feel free to contact me.

I have provided two (2) attachments to my email:

1. BOU Weekly FOIA Report template – please use this spreadsheet to submit your requests of interest. I will be compiling a master list to submit to OPA and senior leadership and the use of a template will make it easier to finalize the list, as well as ensure consistency.

2. BOU FOIA reports Word document – describes the parameters associated with the reports. For example, the document lists the categories of interest along with what request are not to be provided as part of a report.

Use the following guidelines:

- Reports are to be provided to my office by close of business on each Wednesday of a week via email to the email addresses identified in paragraph 1.

- A report should run from Wednesday of the previous week to Tuesday of the current week. As an example, this week’s report would have been for the week 5/17/17 – 5/23/17.
• If your bureau or operating unit (BOU) does not have any requests to report for a week, then submit a “No response for this week” email to the email addresses identified in paragraph 1.

• I will provide any additional guidance as needed.

Please be aware that this requirement is not an option. Submission of reports will start the week of May 29, 2017. So, I expect to receive reports that run from 5/24/17 – 5/30/17 from each FOIA Officer or Contact starting next week.

I realize that everyone may carry a heavy load in support of the Department’s FOIA program. Your support is greatly appreciated and does not go unnoticed.

Please feel free to contact me should you have any questions or need additional information.

Regards,

Mike

Through the Freedom of Information Act, I request the following documents: A summary of all complaints of violence, threats, or harassment against fisheries observers in US fisheries observer programs that occurred in calendar year 2013, 2014, 2015, and 2016, separated by: 1. Year; 2. Whether the complaint was initiated by the observer or by observer program staff; 3. Date of complaint; 4. Observer program from which the observer was deployed; 5. Nature of the complaint (e.g., assault, sexual assault, harassment, verbal abuse, intimidation, interference, lack of assistance, death, or other type of threat); 6. What, if any, outcomes stemmed from each complaint (e.g., arrest, conviction, ongoing investigation). If any portion is redacted, I request that at least the region be revealed.
Through the Freedom of Information Act, I request the following documents: 1. E-mails, photographs and possibly faxes and other communications before and after and relating to my observer trip on board the America No. 1, a US-flagged Patagonia Toothfish longline vessel then owned by Lawrence Lasarow, PacFish, Inc. I met the vessel in Spain September 28, 2003, sailed for the Southern Ocean to test CCAMLR seabird mitigation measures to be confirmed prior to entry into a CCAMLR Ross Sea experimental fishery. My time on board this vessel was from September 28, 2003 through approximately November 27, 2003. The time frame of communications I request is from August 1, 2003 until August 1, 2005. I request e-mails, faxes or other communications, from this time period, to and from myself to DOC employees - Chris Jones (SWFSC); Robin Tuttle; Teresa Turk; NOAA OLE; Paul Ortiz (Office of General Counsel); Frank Sprtel (Deputy General Counsel); Mike Gonzales (OLE); Brett Schneider (OLE). E-mails pertaining to my deployment to and from NOAA and Lawrence Lasarow (Seaport Management Services, LLC; PacFish, Inc), German Munoz (Chile), and any officials in Spain. 2. I request any investigation reports or communications relating to my harassment while on board, the data I collected, and the reports filed. Other potential names of persons involved are: Hennie Crous, Lawrence Lasarow, and Joe D'Alfio. 3. I request the 2003 consent decree between NOAA and Mr. Lawrence Lasarow's company, PacFish, Inc. and any other legal documents associated with this particular trip. 4. I request any documents relating to NOAA’s presentations at the CCAMLR meeting, CCAMLR-XXII.
Records specifically are sought pertaining to named Bureau and Department leadership. This issue has been in the news multiplied times (http://www.newschannel10.com/story/35647812/federal-red-snapper-season-could-reopen-but-with-a-catch). See also http://www.sportfishingmag.com/gulf-red-snapper-federal-season-reopens.

This is a repeat request, and we routinely receive similar requests seeking the same material. This organization is likely maintaining comparative trends, and historical data on this issue.
This is a specific request for an incident of harassment. Because the requester is familiar with the incident, they also will likely have a more complete knowledge of locations where responsive records are likely to be found and are more prone to raise a search adequacy challenge if the search is deficient.

2016 Tuna catches have received moderate news coverage, including one notable article by The Pew Charitable Trusts, entitled "Netting Billions: A Valuation of Tuna in the Western and Central Pacific Ocean."
This touches on a recent Washington Post article referenced Secretary Ross’ reversal of the non-compliance finding, and a discussion on the impact on conservation efforts. The article was published July 17, and was picked up by other news sources, including the AP/KTAR News, and other local news groups. One example is here: http://ktar.com/story/1659851/group-trump-officials-fish-ruling-could-harm-conservation/. This may require the Department to take the lead, deferring to OPOG on ownership.

Assignment Determination Detail

Friends of the Earth requests all records pertaining to any applications for permits submitted to the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) for the authorization of offshore, marine aquaculture activities involving the culturing of finfish in net pens or cages, received from January 1, 2016 to present. These records should include, but not be limited to, any internal or external correspondence regarding the applications; any meetings or communications or other contact—including meeting minutes and scheduling notes—that any applicant arranged or attended with NOAA or that NOAA arranged or attended with any of the applicant; as well as any findings, conclusions, or actions taken in response to an application. For this request, the term “records” refers to, but is not limited to, correspondence of any kind, memoranda, letters, notes, schedules, electronic mail, telephone logs, minutes of meetings, work papers, reports, studies, or data.

Pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. Section 552 et seq. ("FOIA"), I request access to and copies of documents showing the number of people assigned to the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) from institutions of higher education under the Intergovernmental Personnel Act Mobility Program, as of two dates: September 14, 2017, and September 14, 2016 ("the First Request"). I also request access to and copies of documents showing the specific institutions of higher education with which those people were associated, and the number of people assigned to NOAA under the Intergovernmental Personnel Act Mobility Program from each participating institution of higher education, for both of the dates in question (the "Second Request"; together with the "First Request", the "Records"). The Office of Personnel Management states on its website (https://www.opm.gov/policy-data-oversight/hiring-information/intergovernmental-personnel-act/#url=Provisions) that "It is imperative that agencies maintain accurate records of all Intergovernmental Personnel Act assignments." Accordingly, I am hoping that the Records will be easily accessible and your agency will be able to provide them to me in a timely manner. To the extent necessary, I would appreciate your sending me the documents on a rolling basis rather than waiting for a complete response. I am further requesting that the Records be provided to me on computer files or, if not maintained on computer files, in the same format as they are currently maintained at NOAA.

To Whom It May Concern: I am seeking a copy of an October 2017 report to the White House from Commerce assessing the offshore oil and drilling potential in areas containing 11 protected marine monuments and sanctuaries. The report is required by the April 28, 2017 Executive Order 13795 – "Implementing an America-First Offshore Energy Strategy." The Commerce report includes a review of all designations and expansions of National Marine Sanctuaries and Marine National Monuments since April 28, 2007. Please send me this report and any other department correspondence related to it electronically in a PDF format. Thank you. Kellie Lunney

Pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, I request access to and copies of all documents created for the purpose of informing the Department of Justice regarding the views of the Office of the General Counsel for the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration with respect to the President’s authority to revoke or modify National Monuments.

We request a copy of whatever document reveals the amount of carry-over funding for the National Weather Service for Fiscal Year 2017, itemized by PPA, as soon as it becomes available. In order to assist you in identifying the document we are requesting, I am enclosing a copy of that document covering Fiscal Year 2016 which the agency provided us last year in response to a similar FOIA request.

On behalf of the Salinas Valley Water Coalition, this letter is a Freedom of Information Act ("FOIA") request made pursuant to 5 U.S.C. §552, et. seq. National Marine Fisheries Services ("NMFS") is requested to produce for inspection and copying any and all documents and records, including meeting notes, memoranda, electronic mails, presentations, minutes, agendas, and any other writing related to or associated with the meetings and telephone conferences with the Monterey County Water Resources Agency that occurred on or around the following dates: January-February 2014; April 1, 2014; April 7, 2014; May 22, 2014; May 27-May 30, 2015; July 6, 2015; and July 23, 2015.

This request is seeking communications with, or directed to, President Trump regarding a list of National Monument designations. This request appears to be directly related to the Presidential Executive Order on April 26, 2017 Ordering the Review of Designations Under the Antiquities Act.

This request seeks copies of any information used to inform the development of the following national monument proclamations or expansions during the specified time periods:

- Northeast Canyons and Seamounts Marine National Monument (01/01/14 – 12/31/16)
- Papahanaumokuakea Marine National Monument Expansion (01/01/14 – 12/31/16)
- Pacific Remote Islands Marine National Monument Expansion (01/01/12 – 12/31/14)
- Rose Atoll Marine National Monument (01/01/2007 – 12/31/2009)

This also seems to also be related to the Executive Order referenced above.

PETA is seeking copies of all records regarding Permit No. 774, issued to SeaWorld on October 7, 1992, to import the orca Tilikum pursuant to the Marine Mammal Protection Act (MMPA), from July 7, 2014, to the present. This is the same orca that was the subject of the film "Blackfish."

Good Afternoon,

Attached is the weekly report.

One request was received from NBC News seeking all employee or contractor expenses that include payment to Trump International Hotel D.C. since September 1, 2016. (DOC NOAA 2018 000821). This request has been granted Expedited Processing as it met the criteria for 15 CFR 4.6(f)(iv).

In litigation, NOAA completed its production in the AWI v. NOAA lawsuit. The original request sought all records regarding the Orca Tilikum, (which was known for its portrayal in the movie Blackfish). A copy of the original request and Complaint are attached for your reference.

The underlying request sought information regarding the determination that the State of New Jersey was in compliance regarding the management of its recreational Summer Flounder fishery under the Atlantic Coastal Fisheries Cooperative Management Act (ACFCMA). A copy of the original request and Complaint are attached.

PARTIES

2. Plaintiff Animal Welfare Institute (“AWI”) is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization that seeks to protect animals from human inflicted suffering. In particular, AWI has advocated for the protection of whales and other marine life from life from human activities such as harmful fishing practices, hunting, underwater noise production, and inhumane practices resulting from captive maintenance for purposes of public display and scientific research. AWI is the requester of the records at issue.
3. Defendant National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration ("NOAA") is an agency of the federal government within the U.S. Department of Commerce that focuses on the conditions of the oceans and the atmosphere, including marine wildlife.

4. Defendant National Marine Fisheries Service ("NMFS") is an agency of the federal government within NOAA that has jurisdiction over whales under the Marine Mammal Protection Act ("MMPA"), 16 U.S.C. §§ 1361 - 1423h, and is in possession of the records requested by AWI.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

5. This Court has jurisdiction pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(B).

FACTS GIVING RISE TO PLAINTIFF'S CLAIM

A. FOIA Requirements

7. The purpose of FOIA is to “pierce the veil of administrative secrecy and to open agency action to the light of public scrutiny.” Public Citizen, Inc. v. Office of Management and Budget, 598 F.3d 865, 869 (D.C. Cir. 2010) (quotations omitted). In enacting FOIA, Congress intended the primary objective of the Act to be the full disclosure of federal agency records so long as information is not exempted by clearly delineated statutory language. Id.

8. FOIA establishes a broad right of public access to federal agency records, subject only to nine delineated exemptions. 5 U.S.C. § 552(b). “Each agency, upon any request” for enumerated records must “determine within 20 days (excepting Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays) after the receipt of any such request whether to comply with such request and shall immediately notify the person making such a request” of the “determination and the reasons therefor . . . .” Id. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i). A requester “shall be deemed to have exhausted [its] administered remedies” and hence may file suit under the Act’s citizen suit provision “with respect to [a] request if the agency fails to comply with the . . . time limit” set forth in the statute for a substantive response. Id. § 552(a)(6)(C)(i).

B. The Public Interest Need for the Documents Subject to the FOIA Request

10. In 2013, the documentary film Blackfish drew public attention to the plight of Tilikum, an orca held in captivity by SeaWorld Parks & Entertainment (“SeaWorld”), and other orcas now maintained in aquariums and theme parks around the world. Blackfish set off a strong negative public reaction to SeaWorld and the conditions under which orcas are held in captivity.

11. On March 8, 2016, SeaWorld released a video on its website describing Tilikum’s declining health and indicating that he was not expected to survive.

12. Beginning in October 2016, the People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals (“PETA”) initiated the first of what would be several meetings and communications with NOAA/NMFS regarding Tilikum. AWI joined this effort by December 2016. In anticipation of Tilikum’s death, NOAA/NMFS was presented with a draft legal opinion explaining why the 1992 MMPA permit authorizing the importation of Tilikum requires SeaWorld to submit to NOAA/NMFS the necropsy report and clinical history for Tilikum in the event of his death. In these meetings and communications, and through the draft legal opinion, AWI (with PETA) sought NOAA/NMFS input and comments on the applicability of the necropsy and clinical history permit requirement.
13. In the following months, AWI also presented its views on the necropsy and clinical history requirements of MMPA permits to the other federal agencies with jurisdiction over marine mammals — the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (“FWS”), the Marine Mammal Commission (“MMC”), and the U.S. Department of Agriculture’s Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (“APHIS”).

14. In these agency meetings and communications, AWI repeatedly stressed the importance of necropsy reports and clinical histories for purposes of scientific research, medical care (including for free-ranging, stranded individuals), animal husbandry, and public education, and demonstrated that the benefits resulting from this information applied to whales held both in captivity and in the wild.

15. In these meetings and communications, NOAA/NMFS never took a position on whether SeaWorld had to comply with the necropsy and clinical history requirements of Tilikum’s permit.

16. Tilikum died on January 6, 2017 at SeaWorld’s Orlando facility. AWI and other animal welfare organizations immediately notified NOAA/NMFS that Tilikum’s MMPA permit required SeaWorld to submit the necropsy and clinical history report within 30 days. Based on information and belief, SeaWorld never submitted the necropsy and clinical history report required by the permit to NOAA/NMFS.

17. On March 10, 2017, NOAA/NMFS responded to the animal welfare organizations’ notice with an email stating that it was willing to meet to discuss the issue but that it had concluded that the necropsy and clinical history provisions of Tilikum’s permit had been extinguished by amendments to the MMPA in 1994 and that “the legal analysis supporting this determination is exempt from disclosure under the attorney-client privilege, and we will not be discussing it in any detail at the meeting.” Thus, after months of effort to engage NOAA/NMFS in a collaborative dialogue regarding the permit requirements for SeaWorld to release Tilikum’s health records, AWI and the other organizations had no explanation from NOAA/NMFS for the legal conclusion, contrary to the plain language of the permit, that the necropsy and clinical history requirement did not apply and were told that none would be provided.

1 Under the MMPA, NOAA/NMFS has jurisdiction over whales, dolphins and seals. FWS has jurisdiction over polar bears, manatees, walrus and sea otters. 16 U.S.C. § 1362(12)(A). The MMC serves in an independent advisory and oversight role. Id. §§ 1401-1407. APHIS jurisdiction is not under the MMPA but applies to marine mammals in certain captive maintenance facilities under the Animal Welfare Act. 7 U.S.C. §§ 2131-2159.

18. AWI contacted SeaWorld directly by email on March 25, 2017 asking for voluntary release of Tilikum’s records. SeaWorld refused to do so in an April 13, 2017 email. Five animal welfare organizations sent a letter to SeaWorld on August 8, 2017, again asking for voluntary compliance. SeaWorld has not replied and continues to withhold the documents.

19. On July 24, 2017, Tilikum’s granddaughter Kyara died at SeaWorld’s San Antonio facility. The draft legal opinion previously provided to NOAA/NMFS confirmed that Kyara was covered by the necropsy and clinical history provision of Tilikum’s permit.

20. On July 31, 2017, AWI and other animal welfare organizations wrote to NOAA/NMFS asking for enforcement of the necropsy and clinical history provision of Tilikum’s permit for Kyara’s records. Counsel to AWI submitted a revised version of the draft legal opinion supporting this conclusion to NOAA/NMFS on August 14, 2017.

21. NOAA/NMFS responded on September 7, 2017, simply restating its March 10, 2017 email message that the permit had been extinguished by the 1994 MMPA amendments.

22. On August 15, 2017, Kasatka, an orca held at SeaWorld’s San Diego facility, was euthanized due to a bacterial infection. Kasatka’s 1978 MMPA permit included a necropsy and clinical history requirement. AWI, and the other organizations promptly requested

23. By letter dated October 18, 2017, NOAA/NMFS issued the same response as in its March 10, 2017 email on Tilikum’s death and its September 7, 2017 letter on Kyara’s death, stating that the necropsy and clinical history requirement in Kasatka’s permit had been extinguished. Again, NOAA/NMFS provided no explanation for its legal conclusion.

24. After the death of three SeaWorld orcas over a seven-month period, NOAA/NMFS has refused to release or disclose the legal rationale for its conclusion that SeaWorld can ignore clearly stated permit requirements and withhold information that would shed light on the cause of death and medical condition of these whales during their lives in captivity and benefit science and marine mammal husbandry, stranding response, and medical care. SeaWorld refuses to release the whales’ clinical histories or necropsy reports.

C. The AWI FOIA Request

25. By letters sent by email on September 29, 2017, AWI submitted FOIA requests to NOAA/NMFS, FWS, and MMC for all documents from January 1, 2017 to May 1, 2017 regarding NMFS’ March 10, 2017 determination that the necropsy and clinical history requirements of Public Display Permit No. 774 for Tilikum were extinguished by the 1994 MMPA amendments. Exhibit 1, Declaration of Donald C. Baur, dated January 8, 2018 (“Baur Decl.”) at ¶ 2, Attachment A. On the same date, AWI submitted a FOIA request to APHIS, asking for “all requests that APHIS has submitted since January 1, 1994 under 9 C.F.R. § 3.110(g) requesting necropsy records for marine mammals that have died in captivity, and all necropsy records that APHIS has received in response to those requests.”
26. Under FOIA, the deadline for agency response to the requests was October 30, 2017.

27. By letter to AWI dated October 5, 2017, APHIS’s FOIA Director confirmed receipt of the FOIA request. The letter identified an anticipated response date of October 30, 2017. On December 8, 2017, APHIS responded to AWI’s FOIA request.²

28. By voice message on October 4, 2017, the MMC confirmed receipt of AWI’s FOIA request. In a letter sent by email, dated December 18, 2017, Michael L. Gosliner, MMC General Counsel, responded to the FOIA request with a partial release of documents. In the MMC response letter, Mr. Gosliner stated:

I am sympathetic to the position that your organization finds itself in — the responsible agency (NMFS) has given you its legal conclusion that the 1994 amendments to the MMPA extinguished the permit terms and conditions related to necropsies and clinical histories, but has declined to provide you with its rationale for this conclusion. I can see where that agency would not want to share its draft legal analysis outside of the government, but once a conclusion has been reached, its final position no longer is pre-decisional.³

⁴ The MMC request revealed the limited nature of the AWI request, by identifying only nine responsive documents withheld based on the NOAA/NMFS position. The MMC letter also confirmed that it had coordinated its response “with the other agencies,” indicating that NOAA/NMFS is aware of the FOIA request.
29. By email on September 29, 2017, FWS’s Headquarters FOIA Office acknowledged receipt of the FOIA request. The email stated that the request was forwarded to the Division of Management Authority for processing.

30. The initial FOIA request letter to NMFS was confirmed delivered to NOAA/NMFS by AWI email on September 29, 2017. A follow-up letter was also sent by email to NMFS on December 4, 2017, asking for a response by December 15, 2017. Baur Decl. ¶ 3, Attachment B. Finally, on December 22, 2017, a copy of the December 4 letter was sent again by email, with a specific request that NMFS acknowledge receipt. Id. ¶ 4, Attachment C.

31. As of the date of this complaint, NOAA/NMFS has never even acknowledged receipt of the September 29, 2017 request, the December 4, 2017 follow-up letter, or the December 22, 2017 email confirmation request.

32. To date, more than three months after AWI’s initial letter, and more than two months after the statutory deadline, NOAA/NMFS has not responded in any way to the September 29, 2017 AWI FOIA request. Nor has the Agency provided AWI with any explanation for the ongoing delay. The other agencies have either responded in full (APHIS and MMC) or acknowledged receipt and confirmed that review is underway (FWS).

CLAIM FOR RELIEF

33. AWI has a statutory right to the requested records. NOAA/NMFS, in violation of FOIA and AWI’s rights under FOIA, has failed to provide the records, or any substantive determination regarding them, by the mandatory deadline set forth in 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i).

REQUESTED RELIEF

34. AWI respectfully requests that the Court grant the following relief:

a. Declare that NMFS is in violation of FOIA;
b. Enjoin NMFS from continuing to withhold the requested records and order NMFS immediately to release the records in full to AWI;

c. Make a written finding pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(F)(i) that the “circumstances surrounding the withholding raise questions whether agency personnel acted arbitrarily or capriciously with respect to the withholding . . . .”;

d. Award Plaintiff its attorneys’ fees and costs pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(E);

e. Award any other relief this Court finds just and proper.

Dear FOIA Officer:

Specifically, I request all documents from each of the aforementioned agencies between January 1, 2017 and May 1, 2017 related to NMFS' March 10, 2017 determination that the necropsy/clinical history requirements of Permit No. 774 were effectively extinguished by the 1994 amendments to the MMPA.

For purposes of this FOIA request, “all documents” encompass: (i) any written, printed, or typed material of any kind, including without limitation to all correspondence, memoranda, notes, meeting minutes, emails from or to official or personal e-mail accounts, spreadsheets, reports, calendars; (ii) any electronically, magnetically, or mechanically stored records, such as materials stored on a compact disk, digital video disk, microfiche, regardless of form; (iii) any audio, visual, aural, or video records, including but not limited to photographs, videotapes, microfilm; and (iv) any other records preserved by any other means for documenting thought or expression.

In the event that the requested documents cannot be disclosed in their entirety, AWI requests that you release any material that can be reasonably segregated. Should any documents or portions thereof be withheld, AWI requests that the agency state with specificity the description of the withheld document or portions thereof, and the legal and factual grounds for doing so.

AWI requests that any fees associated with responding to this FOIA request be waived. See 15 C.F.R. § 4.11; 43 C.F.R. § 2.45; 50 C.F.R. § 520.7. AWI is a non-profit, charitable institution that was founded over 50 years ago and is dedicated to protecting animals from suffering caused by human action. The documents that AWI is requesting concern the terms of Public Display Permit No. 774, the agencies’ interpretation of those terms, and the level of input that NMFS received from other agencies to interpret those terms. Releasing the documents covered by this request will significantly enhance the public’s understanding of the necropsy and clinical history requirements of MMPA public display permits issued before 1994 and the agencies’ procedures for evaluating those permits. This information will help the public determine whether additional changes to the MMPA permitting processes are needed in order to achieve the goals of the statute.

Disclosure of the requested documents will benefit a broad audience of people interested in the MMPA and public display permits. AWI is an institution with significant expertise in marine mammals and animal welfare and is well suited to convey the information learned from the documents to the public. As a non-profit organization, AWI's primary goal is to increase awareness of human mistreatment of animals and releasing the documents it obtains in response to this FOIA request will further that goal. The documents AWI is requesting are not yet publicly available and thus the release of these documents will significantly enhance the public’s understanding of the public display permits at issue.

AWI does not have any commercial interest that will be furthered by releasing the requested documents.

Please contact me if you have any questions.
Sincerely,

Re:  FOIA Request for Records Regarding Department of Commerce Determination of Compliance for New Jersey Summer Flounder Fishery

Dear FOIA Officer:

I write on behalf of the Natural Resources Defense Council (NRDC) to request disclosure of records pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), 5 U.S.C. § 552 (2012), and applicable Department of Commerce (Department) regulations at 15 C.F.R. §§ 4.1-4.11 (2017).

I. Description of Records Sought

Please produce all records1 in the Department’s possession, custody, or control that support, explain, or otherwise relate to the Secretary of Commerce’s (Secretary’s) decision dated July 10, 2017, and final notice published on July 20, 2017,2 determining that the state of New Jersey was in compliance with regard to management of its recreational summer flounder fishery under the Atlantic Coastal Fisheries Cooperative Management Act (ACFCMA), 16 U.S.C. §§ 5101-5108 (2012). Requested records include, but are not limited to, any of the following:

1 “Records” means anything denoted by the use of that word or its singular form in the text of FOIA and includes correspondence, minutes of meetings, memoranda, notes, emails, notices, facsimiles, charts, tables, presentations, orders, filings, and other writings (handwritten, typed, electronic, or otherwise produced, reproduced, or stored). This request seeks responsive records in the custody of any Department of Commerce office, including, but not limited to, Department of Commerce Headquarters offices, the Office of the Secretary, the Office of General Counsel, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration ("NOAA"), and all of NOAA’s subsidiary offices.

1. Decision memoranda, letters, emails, situation summaries, discussion documents, or briefing documents that discuss summer flounder and New Jersey’s 2017 recreational season;

2. Communications pertaining to New Jersey’s recreational management of summer flounder during the 2017 season, including communications within the Department or any of its subdivisions, and communications between Department staff (or staff of any Department subdivision) and any outside entity;

3. Proposals, recommendations, or factual information submitted to the Department or any of its subdivisions regarding New Jersey’s recreational management of summer flounder during the 2017 season;

4. Technical analysis, including projections or estimates of harvest, discard mortality, overages, and “conservation equivalency,” submitted to or produced by the Department or any of its subdivisions, regarding New Jersey’s recreational management of summer flounder during the 2017 season; and

5. Scientific research or studies that support or explain the Secretary’s decision.

The temporal scope of this request is limited to records created or obtained on or after February 2, 2017.

II. Request for a Fee Waiver

NRDC requests that the Department waive any fee it would otherwise charge for search and production of the records described above. FOIA dictates that requested records be provided without charge “if disclosure of the information is in the public interest because it is likely to contribute significantly to public understanding of the operations or activities of the government and is not primarily in the commercial interest of the requester.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(iii); see also 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(l)(1). The requested disclosure would meet both of these requirements. In addition, NRDC qualifies as “a representative of the news media” entitled to a reduction of fees under FOIA. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii); see also 15 C.F.R. §§ 4.11 (b)(6), (d)(1).

A. NRDC Satisfies the First Fee Waiver Requirement

The disclosure requested here would be “likely to contribute significantly to public understanding of the operations or activities of the government.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(iii); 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(l)(1)(i). Each of the four factors used by the Department to evaluate the first fee waiver requirement indicates that a fee waiver is appropriate for this request. See 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(l)(2)(i)-(iv).

1. Subject of the request

The records requested here relate to an issue of regional and national impact: conservation and management of the summer flounder fishery, one of the most recreationally and commercially important fisheries along the Atlantic coast. Summer flounder is currently subject to overfishing and at risk of becoming overfished if effective catch limits are not implemented. The records also relate to the Department’s understanding of what actions are needed to conserve summer flounder, and the Department’s role in carrying out the cooperative management duties of the ACFCMA, see 16 U.S.C. § 5106. The Department of Commerce (including its subdivisions) is a government... agency. The requested records thus directly concern “the operations or activities of the government.” 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(l)(2)(i).

2. Informative value of the information to be disclosed

The requested records are “likely to contribute to” the public’s understanding of government operations and activities, id. § 4.11(l)(2)(ii). The public does not currently possess comprehensive information regarding the Department’s evaluation of compliance for New Jersey’s management of summer flounder, or the Department’s ultimate decision that New Jersey was in compliance pursuant to the ACFCMA. As noted above, the Department’s decision has regional and national impacts. The issue of summer flounder management has been elevated to a point of broad public interest, as demonstrated by extensive media coverage in state, regional, and national media outlets. Thus, there is more than a reasonable likelihood that records regarding the Department’s decision have informative value to the public. See Citizens for Responsibility & Ethics in Washington v. U.S. Dep’t of Health & Human Servs., 481 F. Supp. 2d 99, 109 (D.D.C. 2006).

To the best of our knowledge, the records requested are not currently in the public domain. Their disclosure would thus meaningfully inform public understanding with respect to the Department’s actions and understanding of what actions are needed to conserve summer flounder, as further discussed below. However, if the Department were to conclude that some of the requested records are publicly available, NRDC would like to discuss that conclusion and might agree to exclude such records from this request.

3. Contribution to an understanding of the subject by the public is likely to result from disclosure.

Because NRDC is a “representative of the news media,” as explained in Part II.C below, the Department must presume that this disclosure is likely to contribute to public understanding of its subject. See 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(l)(2)(iii). However, even if NRDC were not a media requester, NRDC’s expertise in fisheries management and marine conservation, extensive communications capabilities, and proven history of dissemination of information of public interest—including information obtained from FOIA records requests—indicate that NRDC has the ability and will to use disclosed records to reach a broad audience of interested persons with any relevant and newsworthy information the records reveal. There is a strong likelihood that disclosure of the requested records will increase public understanding of the subject matter. See Judicial Watch, Inc. v. Rossotti, 326 F.3d 1309, 1314 (D.C. Cir. 2003) (finding that a requester that specified multiple channels of dissemination and estimated viewership numbers demonstrated a likelihood of contributing to public understanding of government operations and activities).

NRDC intends to disseminate any newsworthy information in the released records and its analysis of such records to its member base and to the broader public, through one or more of the many communications channels referenced below. NRDC has frequently disseminated newsworthy information to the public for free, and does not intend to resell the information requested here. NRDC’s more than two million members and online activists are “a broad audience of persons interested in the subject[s]” of preventing overfishing and protecting marine resources, and when combined with NRDC’s communications to the public at large, the likely audience of interested persons to be reached is certainly “reasonably broad.” 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(l)(2)(iii). As NRDC’s long history of incorporating information obtained through FOIA into reports, articles, and other communications illustrates, NRDC is well prepared to convey to the public any relevant information it obtains through this records request.

NRDC has the ability to disseminate information collected from this FOIA request through many channels. As of June 2016, these include, but are not limited to the following:

- NRDC’s website, available at http://www.nrdc.org (homepage at Att. 1), is updated daily and draws approximately 1.3 million page views and 510,000 unique visitors per month. The new NRDC.org launched in late March 2016 and features NRDC staff blogs, original reporting of environmental news stories, and more.
- NRDC’s Activist email list includes more than 2.5 million members and online activists who receive regular communications on urgent environmental issues (sample email at Att. 2). This information is also made available through NRDC’s online Action Center at https://www.nrdc.org/actions (Att. 3).
- NRDC This Week is a weekly electronic environmental newsletter distributed by email to more than 86,700 subscribers, at http://www.nrdc.org/newsletter (Att. 4).
- NRDC updates and maintains several social media accounts: Facebook (565,530 followers) (Att. 5), Twitter (195,426 followers) (Att. 6), Instagram (37,868 followers) (Att. 7), YouTube (19,518 subscribers) (Att. 8), and LinkedIn (9,108 followers) (Att. 9). We also use Medium as another distribution channel for our content (1,478 followers).

NRDC issues press releases, issue papers, and reports; directs and produces movies, such as Sonic Sea, Stories from the Gulf, and Acid Test, narrated by Rachel McAdams, Robert Redford, and Sigourney Weaver, respectively; participates in press conferences and interviews with reporters and editorial writers; distributes content on Huffington Post (Att. 10); and has more than fifty staff members dedicated to communications work.

NRDC employees provide Congressional testimony; appear on television, radio, and web broadcasts and at conferences; and contribute to numerous national newspapers, magazines, academic journals, other periodicals, and books. A few examples are provided below:

- Research article, “The requirement to rebuild US fish stocks: Is it working?” Marine Policy, July 2014 (co-authored by NRDC Oceans Program Senior Scientist Lisa Suatoni and Senior Attorney Brad Sewell) (Att. 11);
- Issue brief, “The Untapped Potential of California’s Water Supply: Efficiency, Reuse, and Stormwater,” June 2014 (co-authored by NRDC Water Program Senior Attorney Kate Poole and Senior Policy Analyst Ed Osann) (Att. 12); see also “Saving Water in California,” N.Y. Times, July 9, 2014 (discussing the report’s estimates) (Att. 13);

- Article, “Don’t Buy the Smear of the EPA,” L.A. Times, June 3, 2014 (by NRDC President Frances Beinecke) (Att. 15);
• Testimony of David Doniger, NRDC Climate and Air Program Policy Director and Senior Attorney, before the United States House Subcommittee on Energy and Power, June 19, 2012 (Att. 17);
• Article, “Pollution Still a Hazard to U.S. Beaches,” CBS, CBS NEWS, July 29, 2009 (featuring former NRDC Water Program Co-Director Nancy Stoner) (Att. 18);
• Conference brochure, “World Business Summit on Climate Change,” May 24-26, 2009 (featuring former NRDC Director for Market Innovation Rick Duke at 9) (Att. 19);
• Article, “Is there a ‘proper level’ of compliance with environmental law?” Trends: ABA Section of Environment, Energy, and Resources Newsletter, Jan./Feb. 2008 (authored by NRDC Senior Attorney Michael Wall) (Att. 20);

NRDC routinely uses FOIA to obtain information from federal agencies that NRDC legal and scientific experts analyze in order to inform the public about a variety of issues, including energy policy, climate change, wildlife protection, nuclear weapons, pesticides, drinking water safety, and air quality. Some specific examples are provided below:

(1) In April 2014, NRDC relied on FOIA documents for a report on potentially unsafe chemicals added to food, without the safety oversight of the Food and Drug Administration or the notification of the public. The report, titled Generally Recognized as Secret: Chemicals Added to Food in the United States, reveals concerns within the agency about several chemicals used as ingredients in food that manufacturers claim are “generally recognized as safe” (Att. 22). See also Kimberly Kindy, “Are secret, dangerous ingredients in your food?” Wash. Post, Apr. 7, 2014 (discussing NRDC’s report) (Att. 23).

(2) NRDC obtained, through FOIA, FDA review documents on the nontherapeutic use of antibiotic additives in livestock and poultry feed. In January 2014, NRDC published a report, titled Playing Chicken with Antibiotics, which is based on the documents obtained, and reveals decades of hesitancy on FDA’s part to ensure the safety of these drug additives (Att. 24). See also P.J. Huffstutter and Brian Grow, “Drug critic slams FDA over antibiotic oversight in meat production,” Reuters, Jan. 27, 2014 (discussing NRDC’s report) (Att. 25).

(4) NRDC incorporated information obtained through FOIA into a report, available at http://www.nrdc.org/wildlife/marine/sound/contents.asp, on the impacts of

(5) NRDC scientists have used information obtained through FOIA to publish analyses of the United States’ and other nations’ nuclear weapons programs. In 2004, for example, NRDC scientists incorporated information obtained through FOIA into a feature article on the United States’ plans to deploy a ballistic missile system and the implications for global security. See Hans M. Kristensen, Matthew G. McKinzie, and Robert S. Norris, “The Protection Paradox,” Bulletin of Atomic Scientists, Mar./Apr. 2004 (Att. 30).

(7) Through FOIA, NRDC obtained a memorandum by ExxonMobil, advocating the replacement of the sitting head of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, and used the document to help inform the public about what may have been behind the Bush administration’s decision to replace Dr. Robert Watson. See NRDC Press Release and attached Exxon memorandum, “Confidential Papers Show Exxon Hand in White House Move to Oust Top Scientist from International Global Warming Panel,” Apr. 3, 2002 (Att. 33); Elizabeth Shogren, “Charges Fly Over Science Panel Pick,” L.A. Times, Apr. 4, 2002, at A19 (Att. 34).

As these examples demonstrate, NRDC has a proven ability to digest, synthesize, and quickly disseminate information gleaned from FOIA requests to a broad audience of interested persons. Therefore, the requested records disclosure is likely to contribute to the public’s understanding of the subject.

4. Significance of the contribution to public understanding

The records requested shed light on a matter of considerable public interest and concern: conservation and management of the summer flounder fishery, and agency views on what management measures are necessary to achieve conservation of this important species. Recent overfishing of the summer flounder stock, and subsequent coastwide catch reductions implemented by NOAA and the Department of Commerce have received significant media coverage in 2016 and 2017. In recent weeks, the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission’s (ASMFC) noncompliance finding for the State of New Jersey, and the Department’s determination of compliance, have also received significant coverage regional and national media outlets and other public forums. Examples of recent media coverage on this issue include:

3. ASMFC Blasts Secretary Ross Decision on Summer Flounder in Favor of New Jersey's Recreational Sector, Saving Seafood (Republished from Seafood News) (July 18, 2017) (Exhibit C).
Public understanding of the Department’s opinion of what actions are needed to conserve summer flounder and its role in carrying out the cooperative management duties of the ACFCMA, would be significantly enhanced by disclosure of the requested records concerning the Secretary’s compliance decision. See 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(l)(2)(iv). Disclosure would help the public to more effectively evaluate the Department’s conclusion that the management measures New Jersey declined to implement are not necessary for conservation of the summer flounder fishery. Disclosure would also help the public to better understand and evaluate the Department’s actions on summer flounder conservation and management, particularly with respect to its decision that a moratorium in New Jersey state waters was not warranted.

B. NRDC Satisfies the Second Fee Waiver Requirement

Disclosure in this case would also satisfy the second prerequisite of a fee waiver request because NRDC does not have any commercial interest that would be furthered by the requested disclosure. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(iii); 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(l)(3). NRDC is a not-for-profit organization and does not act as a middleman to resell information obtained under FOIA. “Congress amended FOIA to ensure that it be liberally construed in favor of waivers for noncommercial requesters.” Rossotti, 326 F.3d at 1312 (internal citation omitted); see Natural Res. Def. Council v. United States Envtl. Prot. Agency, 581 F. Supp. 2d 491, 498 (S.D.N.Y. 2008). NRDC wishes to serve the public by reviewing, analyzing, and disclosing newsworthy and presently non-public information about conservation and management of the summer flounder fishery. As noted at Part II.A, any work done by the Department on summer flounder management relates to a matter of considerable public interest and concern. Disclosure of the requested records will contribute significantly to public understanding of summer flounder management and associated implications for marine conservation.

C. NRDC Is a Media Requester

Even if the Department denies a public interest waiver of all costs and fees, NRDC is a representative of the news media entitled to a reduction of fees under FOIA, 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii), and the Department’s FOIA regulations, 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(d)(1); see also 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(b)(6) (defining “[r]epresentative of the news media”). A representative of the news media is “any person or entity that gathers information of potential interest to a segment of the public, uses its editorial skills to turn the raw materials into a distinct work, and distributes that work to an audience.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii); see also Elec. Privacy Info. Ctr. v. Dep’t of Def., 241 F. Supp. 2d 5, 6, 11-15 (D.D.C. 2003) (a “non-profit public interest organization” qualifies as a representative of the news media under FOIA where it publishes books and newsletters on issues of current interest to the public); Letter from Alexander C. Morris, FOIA Officer, United States Dep’t of Energy, to Joshua Berman, NRDC (Feb. 10, 2011) (Att. 40) (granting NRDC media requester status).

NRDC is in part organized and operated to gather and publish or transmit news to the public. As described earlier in this request, NRDC publishes original reporting of environmental news stories on its website, http://www.nrdc.org. Previously, NRDC published stories like these in its magazine, OnEarth, which has won numerous news media awards, including the Independent Press Award for Best Environmental Coverage and for General Excellence, a Gold Eddie Award for editorial excellence among magazines, and the Phillip D. Reed Memorial Award for Outstanding Writing on the Southern Environment. NRDC also publishes a regular newsletter for its more than two million members and online activists; issues other electronic newsletters, action alerts, public reports and analyses; and maintains free online libraries of these publications. See 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(b)(6) (“Examples of news-media entities are . . . publishers of periodicals.”). NRDC maintains a significant additional communications presence on the internet through its staff blogs on http://www.nrdc.org, which are updated regularly and feature writing about current environmental issues, through daily news messaging on “Twitter” and “Facebook,” and through content distributed to outlets such as Medium. See 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii) (clarifying that “as methods of news delivery evolve . . . such alternative media shall be considered to be news-media entities”). The aforementioned publications and media sources routinely include information about current events of interest to the readership and the public. To publish and transmit this news content, NRDC employs more than fifty staff members dedicated full-time to communications with the public, including accomplished journalists and editors. These staff members rely on information acquired under FOIA and through other means. Public interest organizations meeting the requirements “are regularly granted news representative status.” Serv. Women’s Action Network v. Dep’t of Def., 888 F. Supp. 2d 282, 287-88 (D. Conn. 2012) (according media requester status to the American Civil Liberties Union).

Information obtained as a result of this request will, if appropriately newsworthy, be synthesized with information from other sources and used by NRDC to create and disseminate unique articles, reports, analyses, blogs, tweets, emails, and/or other distinct informational works through one or more of NRDC’s publications or other suitable media channels. NRDC staff gather information from a variety of sources—including documents provided pursuant to FOIA requests—to write original articles and reports that are featured on its website, in its newsletters and blogs, and on other media outlets. See Cause of Action v. Fed. Trade Comm’n, 961 F. Supp. 2d 142, 163 (D.D.C. 2013) (explaining that an organization can qualify for media-requester status if it “distributes work to an audience and is especially organized around doing so”). NRDC seeks the requested records to aid its own news-disseminating activities by obtaining, analyzing, and distributing information likely to contribute significantly to public understanding, not to resell the information to other media organizations.

III. Request for Expedited Processing

NRDC requests expedited processing of this request. FOIA and relevant Department regulations allow for an expedited response, of less than 20 days, in cases where the requester is “primarily engaged in disseminating information” and demonstrates that there is an “urgency to inform the public concerning actual or alleged Federal Government activity.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(v)(I), (II); 15 C.F.R. § 4.6(f)(1)(iv). The following explains NRDC’s basis for requesting expedited processing, based on information that we certify to be true and correct, to the best of our knowledge and belief.

As explained in Part II.C above, NRDC is a “representative of the news media,” see 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii); 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(b)(6), and a key purpose of the organization’s work is to gather

4 To be a representative of the news media, an organization need not exclusively perform news gathering functions. If that were required, major news and entertainment entities like the National Broadcasting Company (NBC) would not qualify as representatives of the news media. This country has a long history, dating back to its founding, of news organizations engaging in public advocacy.
and publish or transmit current and accurate news to the public. See Leadership Conference on Civil Rights v. Gonzales, 404 F. Supp. 2d 246, 260 (D.D.C. 2005) (holding that organization was “primarily engaged in disseminating information” where its mission involved serving as site of record for relevant and up-to-the minute civil rights news and information). Information obtained as a result of this request will, if appropriately newsworthy, be synthesized with information from other sources and used by NRDC to create and disseminate unique articles, reports, analyses, blogs, tweets, emails, and/or other distinct informational works through one or more of NRDC’s publications or other suitable media channels. Further, as discussed in Part II.A.3 above, NRDC has the ability and will to use disclosed records to reach a broad audience of interested persons with any relevant and newsworthy information the records reveal. Dissemination of information need not be an organization’s “sole occupation” in order to meet this first requirement. 15 C.F.R. § 4.6(f)(1)(iv). Thus, it is appropriate to conclude that NRDC is “primarily engaged in disseminating information” with regard to this request.

This is also a case that presents an urgency to inform the public regarding activities of the Federal Government. See 15 C.F.R. § 4.6(f)(1)(iv). The Secretary’s July 2017 decision is unprecedented in that it is the first time in the existence of the ACFCMA that the Department of Commerce has rejected a noncompliance finding by the ASMFC. By allowing New Jersey to use management measures that are noncompliant with the coastal management plan, the decision is likely to result in the fishery exceeding its coastwide recreational harvest limit and increase the risk of the summer flounder stock becoming overfished. Importantly, the Secretary’s final decision was not accompanied with any publically available technical analysis or projections that support the conclusion that the management measures New Jersey failed to implement were not necessary for the conservation of summer flounder. Given that the recreational summer flounder season is currently underway and will end in just over one month (on September 5, 2017), it is critical that the public be informed about the Department’s opinion of what actions are (or are not) needed to achieve conservation of summer flounder in the 2017 fishing season. This information has important implications for the conservation of the summer flounder stock and management approaches in other states. As discussed in Part II.A.4 above, significant public attention and media coverage of the initial noncompliance finding for New Jersey, and the Secretary’s determination of compliance, indicates the public is closely following this issue and wants to better understand the basis for the Secretary’s decision. See infra p. 7; Exhibits A-M.

IV. Willingness to Pay Fees Under Protest

Please provide the records requested above regardless of your fee waiver decision. In order to expedite a response, NRDC will, if necessary and under protest, pay fees in accordance with the Department’s FOIA regulations at 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(c) for all or a portion of the requested records. See 15 C.F.R. §4.11(l)(4). Please contact me before doing anything that would cause the fee to exceed $500. NRDC reserves its rights to seek administrative or judicial review of any fee waiver denial.

IV. Conclusion

Please email or (if it is not possible to email) mail the requested records to me at the NRDC office address listed below. Please send them on a rolling basis; the Department’s search for—or deliberations concerning—certain records should not delay the production of others that the Department has already retrieved and elected to produce. See generally 15 C.F.R. § 4.6. If the Department concludes that any of the records requested here are publicly available, please let me know.

Please do not hesitate to call or email with questions.

Thank you.

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

NATURAL RESOURCES DEFENSE COUNCIL, INC., Plaintiff,
v.
UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE,
Defendant.

INTRODUCTION

1. Defendant United States Department of Commerce (Commerce) has violated the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), 5 U.S.C. § 552, by failing to fully disclose records relating to a July 2017 determination by the Secretary of Commerce that New Jersey had complied with its obligation to implement management measures aimed at conserving summer flounder. Plaintiff Natural Resources Defense Council (NRDC) requested these records from Commerce six months ago.

2. Commerce’s National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), regional fishery management councils, and the interstate Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission (the Fisheries Commission or Commission) work together to conserve and manage various fish populations along the Atlantic coast. As part of these efforts, the Fisheries Commission adopts management plans to protect certain fish species against depletion. Under Federal law, the Commission identifies Atlantic coastal states to be included in its various management plans and then works to ensure that those states implement and enforce the plans.

3. In June 2017, the Fisheries Commission determined that New Jersey was out of compliance with the Commission’s management plan for summer flounder, a fish species that is currently subject to overfishing. In July 2017, contrary to the Commission’s determination, the Secretary of Commerce found that the summer flounder management measures New Jersey had failed to implement were not necessary for the conservation of summer flounder. The Secretary’s determination allowed New Jersey’s recreational summer flounder fishing season to proceed.

4. On July 26, 2017, NRDC submitted a FOIA request to Commerce for documents related to the Secretary’s finding that the summer flounder management plan measures New Jersey had failed to implement were unnecessary for conserving summer flounder.

5. In October and November, Commerce via NOAA (a component of Commerce) provided NRDC with two “interim” releases of responsive documents.
These interim releases consisted solely of documents from NOAA’s files, and nothing from other Commerce components or the Office of the Secretary.

6. After the most recent interim release, Commerce informed NRDC that there were no more responsive documents in NOAA’s files. Commerce further informed NRDC that it was unable to provide an update regarding the status of its search for additional responsive documents outside of NOAA, other than noting a “significant logjam” due to the volume of Commerce FOIA requests.

7. Although Commerce has had six months to search for and produce responsive documents, it has not provided NRDC with any records from components of Commerce other than NOAA. Nor has Commerce provided NRDC with a final determination as to whether it will comply with NRDC’s request. The statutory deadline for such a final determination was, at the latest, September 11, 2017, with the final production of documents due promptly thereafter.

8. It is important that NRDC receives these documents in a timely manner. The Commission has already begun setting management measures for the 2018 summer flounder recreational fishing season, and the Commission and individual states will make key management decisions over the next four months prior to the opening of the season in May 2018. Particularly if New Jersey or other states choose not to comply with the relevant management plan for the 2018 fishing season, the requested documents could provide critical information to NRDC and the public in making advocacy decisions.

9. NRDC seeks a declaration that Commerce has violated FOIA by failing to provide a final determination as to whether it will comply with NRDC’s request, and by failing to produce all non-exempt responsive records, by the statutory deadline. NRDC seeks an injunction ordering Commerce to disclose at no cost and without further delay all non-exempt, responsive records to NRDC.
THE PARTIES

10. Plaintiff NRDC is a national, non-profit environmental and public health membership organization with hundreds of thousands of members nationwide. NRDC engages in research, advocacy, public education, and litigation related to protecting public health and the environment. The organization’s work includes efforts to end overfishing and promote the long-term sustainability of fishing practices in the United States.

11. Defendant Commerce is a federal agency within the meaning of FOIA, 5 U.S.C. § 551(1), and has possession or control of the records that NRDC seeks.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

12. This Court has jurisdiction over this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331 and 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(B).

13. Venue is proper in this court because plaintiff NRDC resides and has its principal place of business in this judicial district. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(B).

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY FRAMEWORK

14. FOIA requires that federal agencies release, upon request, information to the public, 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3), unless one of nine statutory exemptions applies, id. § 552(b).

15. Within 20 business days of an agency’s receipt of a FOIA request, the agency must “determine . . . whether to comply with such request,” id. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i); see also 15 C.F.R. § 4.6(b) (Commerce FOIA regulation), and “immediately notify the person making such request of . . . such determination and the reasons therefor,” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i). If the agency determines that it will comply with the request, it must “promptly” release responsive, non-exempt records to the requester. Id. § 552(a)(6)(C)(i); see also 15 C.F.R. § 4.7(c).

16. In “unusual circumstances,” an agency may extend the time limit for responding to a FOIA request by up to 10 business days. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(B)(i).

17. If the agency fails to comply with the statutory time limits, the requester is deemed to have exhausted her administrative remedies and may immediately file suit “to enjoin the agency from withholding agency records and to order the production of any agency records improperly withheld.” 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(4)(B), 552(a)(6)(C)(i).

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

18. Summer flounder is an important fish for commercial and recreational fishing industries along the Mid-Atlantic coast, and is found in waters from Nova Scotia, Canada, to the east coast of Florida. Despite conservation efforts, the summer flounder population is below target levels and is currently subject to overfishing.

19. Summer flounder and the fishing of summer flounder collectively known as the summer flounder fishery are jointly managed by NOAA (a component of Commerce), the Mid-Atlantic Fishery Management Council, and the Fisheries Commission. Together, these entities seek to conserve summer flounder and prevent depletion of the species.
20. Under the Atlantic Coastal Fisheries Cooperative Management Act (Atlantic Coastal Act), 16 U.S.C. §§ 5101-5108, the Fisheries Commission is tasked with developing management plans to conserve summer flounder (as well as other fish species in the Atlantic coastal region), see id. § 5104(a). The Atlantic Coastal Act provides that, for each management plan, the Commission must identify the states that are required to implement and enforce the plan. Id. § 5104(a)(1). Under some management plans, the Commission allows states to implement their own management measures, so long as the state’s measures achieve the same level of conservation as the Commission’s plan.

21. If the Fisheries Commission finds that a state has failed to implement or enforce measures in compliance with the Commission’s management plan for a particular fish species, the Atlantic Coastal Act requires the Commission to make a formal non-compliance determination. Id. § 5105(a). This determination is subject to review by the Secretary of Commerce, who makes an independent compliance determination. Id. § 5106(a)(1). If the Secretary agrees that the state has failed to implement and enforce the measures contained in the management plan, and also that such measures are “necessary for the conservation of the fishery,” the Secretary must declare a moratorium on fishing that species in the waters of the non-complying state. Id. § 5106(a), (c)(1).

22. In February 2017, in response to new science indicating the declining population status of summer flounder, the Fisheries Commission tightened measures in its summer flounder management plan applicable to recreational fishing. These stricter measures included increased minimum size requirements and a reduction in the maximum number of summer flounder allowed to be caught and kept by any one person.

23. State officials from New Jersey one of several states required to implement and enforce the Commission’s summer flounder management plan vocally opposed these stricter measures. Soon after the Fisheries Commission voted on the new restrictions, the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection Commissioner wrote a letter to the Secretary of Commerce, asking the Secretary to stop them from going into effect, claiming the restrictions would lead to the “destruction of” New Jersey’s recreational summer flounder industry.

24. New Jersey ultimately proposed its own summer flounder recreational management measures, instead of implementing the new measures adopted by the Commission. Although the Commission’s summer flounder management plan allowed New Jersey to do so if the measures would achieve the same level of conservation as the Commission’s plan, after reviewing the measures proposed by New Jersey, the Commission found that the measures would not sufficiently protect summer flounder and were therefore inconsistent with the Commission’s plan.

25. New Jersey nonetheless implemented its own measures, prompting a formal non-compliance determination by the Fisheries Commission on June 1, 2017.

26. In July 2017, for the first time in the twenty-four-year history of the Atlantic Coastal Act, the Secretary of Commerce made a finding contrary to the Commission’s non-compliance determination, allowing New Jersey’s recreational summer flounder season to proceed. Specifically, the Secretary found that the measures New Jersey failed to implement were “not necessary for the conservation of summer flounder.” 82 Fed. Reg. 33,481 (July 20, 2017). The notice announcing the Secretary’s compliance determination was brief and devoid of any substantive explanation. See id.

27. On July 26, 2017, NRDC served a FOIA request on Commerce, seeking records supporting, explaining, or otherwise relating to the Secretary’s finding that the summer flounder management measures New Jersey failed to implement were not necessary for the conservation of summer flounder. NRDC also requested a fee waiver.

28. NRDC received an email notification indicating that the request would be processed by NOAA, a component of Commerce. NRDC also received a letter from NOAA on August 4, 2017, acknowledging receipt of the request and stating that the agency was invoking the statutory ten-day extension applicable in “unusual circumstances.” In its letter, NOAA stated that it anticipated completing NRDC’s request by September 7, 2017.

29. On August 23, NRDC received a letter from NOAA recommending that NRDC narrow the scope of its request. After a phone call with NRDC on August 24 and an additional email from NRDC on August 25, NOAA agreed to move forward with the request. Around the same time, Commerce granted NRDC’s fee waiver request.
30. NOAA provided NRDC with two “interim releases” of responsive documents in October and November, but did not provide a final date for Commerce’s completion of NRDC’s request. The interim releases consisted solely of documents from NOAA’s files, and a NOAA representative confirmed that NOAA itself has no other responsive documents. NOAA further informed NRDC that it was unable to provide more information regarding the status of Commerce’s search for additional responsive documents, other than noting a “significant logjam” due to the volume of Commerce FOIA requests.

31. It has been six months since NRDC served its FOIA request on Commerce, and more than four months since the statutory deadline passed, yet Commerce has failed to provide NRDC with a final response to its request.

CLAIM FOR RELIEF

32. Plaintiff incorporates by reference all preceding paragraphs.

33. NRDC has a statutory right under FOIA to obtain without further delay all records responsive to its request that are not exempt from disclosure.

34. Commerce violated its duty under FOIA, 5 U.S.C. § 552(a), to release by the statutory deadline all non-exempt, responsive records to NRDC.

REQUEST FOR RELIEF

Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court enter judgment against Commerce as follows:

A. Declaring that Commerce has violated FOIA by failing to produce all non-exempt records responsive to NRDC’s FOIA request by the statutory deadline;
B. Ordering that Commerce disclose the remaining requested records to NRDC at no cost and without further delay;

C. Ordering that Commerce produce an index identifying any documents or parts thereof that it withholds and the basis for the withholdings, in the event Commerce determines that certain responsive records are exempt from disclosure;

D. Retaining jurisdiction over this case to rule on any challenged assertions by Commerce that certain responsive records are exempt from disclosure;

E. Awarding NRDC its costs and reasonable attorneys’ fees; and

F. Granting such other relief that the Court considers just and proper.

Respectfully submitted,

How to Fix It

The address may be misspelled or may not exist. Try one or more of the following:

- Send the message again following these steps: In Outlook, open this non-delivery report (NDR) and choose Send Again from the Report ribbon. In Outlook on the web, select this NDR, then select the link “To send this message again, click here.” Then delete and retype the entire recipient address. If prompted with an Auto-Complete List suggestion don’t select it. After typing the complete address, click Send.
- Contact the recipient (by phone, for example) to check that the address exists and is correct.
- The recipient may have set up email forwarding to an incorrect address. Ask them to check that any forwarding they've set up is working correctly.
- Clear the recipient Auto-Complete List in Outlook or Outlook on the web by following the steps in this article: Fix email delivery issues for error code 5.1.10 in Office 365, and then send the message again. Retype the entire recipient address before selecting Send.

If the problem continues, forward this message to your email admin. If you’re an email admin, refer to the More Info for Email Admins section below.

Status code: 550 5.1.10

This error occurs because the sender sent a message to an email address hosted by Office 365 but the address is incorrect or doesn’t exist at the destination domain. The error is reported by the recipient domain's email server, but most often it must be fixed by the person who sent the message. If the steps in the How to Fix It section above don’t fix the problem, and you’re the email admin for the recipient, try one or more of the following:

The email address exists and is correct  Confirm that the recipient address exists, is correct, and is accepting messages.

Synchronize your directories  If you have a hybrid environment and are using directory synchronization make sure the recipient’s email address is synced correctly in both Office 365 and in your on-premises directory.
Errant forwarding rule
Check for forwarding rules that aren't behaving as expected. Forwarding can be set up by an admin via mail flow rules or mailbox forwarding address settings, or by the recipient via the Inbox Rules feature.

Recipient has a valid license
Make sure the recipient has an Office 365 license assigned to them. The recipient's email admin can use the Office 365 admin center to assign a license (Users > Active Users > select the recipient > Assigned License > Edit).

Mail flow settings and MX records are not correct
Misconfigured mail flow or MX record settings can cause this error. Check your Office 365 mail flow settings to make sure your domain and any mail flow connectors are set up correctly. Also, work with your domain registrar to make sure the MX records for your domain are configured correctly.

For more information and additional tips to fix this issue, see Fix email delivery issues for error code 5.1.10 in Office 365.

Re: FOIA Request for Records Regarding Department of Commerce Determination of Compliance for New Jersey Summer Flounder Fishery

Dear FOIA Officer:

I write on behalf of the Natural Resources Defense Council (NRDC) to request disclosure of records pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), 5 U.S.C. § 552 (2012), and applicable Department of Commerce (Department) regulations at 15 C.F.R. §§ 4.1-4.11 (2017).

I. Description of Records Sought

Please produce all records\(^1\) in the Department's possession, custody, or control that support, explain, or otherwise relate to the Secretary of Commerce's (Secretary's) decision dated July 10, 2017, and final notice published on July 20, 2017,\(^2\) determining that the state of New Jersey was in compliance with regard to management of its recreational summer flounder fishery under the Atlantic Coastal Fisheries Cooperative Management Act (ACFCMA), 16 U.S.C. §§ 5101-5108 (2012). Requested records include, but are not limited to, any of the following:

1 “Records” means anything denoted by the use of that word or its singular form in the text of FOIA and includes correspondence, minutes of meetings, memoranda, notes, emails, notices, facsimiles, charts, tables, presentations, orders, filings, and other writings (handwritten, typed, electronic, or otherwise produced, reproduced, or stored). This request seeks responsive records in the custody of any Department of Commerce office, including, but not limited to, Department of Commerce Headquarters offices, the Office of the Secretary, the Office of General Counsel, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (“NOAA”), and all of NOAA’s subsidiary offices.

1. Decision memoranda, letters, emails, situation summaries, discussion documents, or briefing documents that discuss summer flounder and New Jersey’s 2017 recreational season;

2. Communications pertaining to New Jersey’s recreational management of summer flounder during the 2017 season, including communications within the Department or any of its subdivisions, and communications between Department staff (or staff of any Department subdivision) and any outside entity;

3. Proposals, recommendations, or factual information submitted to the Department or any of its subdivisions regarding New Jersey’s recreational management of summer flounder during the 2017 season;

4. Technical analysis, including projections or estimates of harvest, discard mortality, overages, and “conservation equivalency,” submitted to or produced by the Department or any of its subdivisions, regarding New Jersey’s recreational management of summer flounder during the 2017 season; and

5. Scientific research or studies that support or explain the Secretary’s decision.

The temporal scope of this request is limited to records created or obtained on or after February 2, 2017.

II. Request for a Fee Waiver

NRDC requests that the Department waive any fee it would otherwise charge for search and production of the records described above. FOIA dictates that requested records be provided without charge “if disclosure of the information is in the public interest because it is likely to contribute significantly to public understanding of the operations or activities of the government and is not primarily in the commercial interest of the requester.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(iii); see also 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(l)(1). The requested disclosure would meet both of these requirements. In addition, NRDC qualifies as “a representative of the news media” entitled to a reduction of fees under FOIA. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii); see also 15 C.F.R. §§ 4.11 (b)(6), (d)(1).

A. NRDC Satisfies the First Fee Waiver Requirement

The disclosure requested here would be “likely to contribute significantly to public understanding of the operations or activities of the government.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(iii); 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(l)(1)(i). Each of the four factors used by the Department to evaluate the first fee waiver requirement indicates that a fee waiver is appropriate for this request. See 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(l)(2)(i)-(iv).

1. Subject of the request

The records requested here relate to an issue of regional and national impact: conservation and management of the summer flounder fishery, one of the most recreationally and commercially important fisheries along the Atlantic coast. Summer flounder is currently subject to overfishing and at risk of becoming overfished if effective catch limits are not implemented. The records also relate to the Department’s understanding of what actions are needed to conserve summer flounder, and the Department’s role in carrying out the cooperative management duties of the ACFCMA, see 16 U.S.C. § 5106. The Department of Commerce (including its subdivisions) is a government agency. The requested records thus directly concern “the operations or activities of the [g]overnment.” 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(l)(2)(i).

2. Informative value of the information to be disclosed

The requested records are “likely to contribute to” the public’s understanding of government operations and activities, id. § 4.11(l)(2)(ii). The public does not currently possess comprehensive information regarding the Department’s evaluation of compliance for New Jersey’s management of summer flounder, or the Department’s ultimate decision that New Jersey was in compliance pursuant to the ACFCMA. As noted above, the Department’s decision has regional and national impacts. The issue of summer flounder management has been elevated to a point of broad public interest, as demonstrated by extensive media coverage in state, regional, and national media outlets. Thus, there is more than a reasonable likelihood that records regarding the Department’s decision have informative value to the public. See Citizens for Responsibility & Ethics in Washington v. U.S. Dep’t of Health & Human Servs., 481 F. Supp. 2d 99, 109 (D.D.C. 2006).

To the best of our knowledge, the records requested are not currently in the public domain. Their disclosure would thus meaningfully inform public understanding with respect to the Department’s actions and understanding of what actions are needed to conserve summer flounder, as further discussed below. However, if the Department were to conclude that some of the requested records are publicly available, NRDC would like to discuss that conclusion and might agree to exclude such records from this request.

3. Contribution to an understanding of the subject by the public is likely to result from disclosure.

Because NRDC is a “representative of the news media,” as explained in Part II.C below, the Department must presume that this disclosure is likely to contribute to public understanding of its subject. See 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(l)(2)(iii). However, even if NRDC were not a media requester, NRDC’s expertise in fisheries management and marine conservation, extensive communications capabilities, and proven history of dissemination of information of public interest—including information obtained from FOIA records requests—indicate that NRDC has the ability and will to use disclosed records to reach a broad audience of interested persons with any relevant and newsworthy information the records reveal. There is a strong likelihood that disclosure of the requested records will increase public understanding of the subject matter. See Judicial Watch, Inc. v. Rosotti, 326 F.3d 1309, 1314 (D.C. Cir. 2003) (finding that a requester that specified multiple channels of dissemination and estimated viewership numbers demonstrated a likelihood of contributing to public understanding of government operations and activities).

NRDC intends to disseminate any newsworthy information in the released records and its analysis of such records to its member base and to the broader public, through one or more of the many communications channels referenced below. NRDC has frequently disseminated newsworthy information to the public for free, and does not intend to resell the information requested here. NRDC’s more than two million members and online activists are “a broad audience of persons interested in the subject[s]” of preventing overfishing and protecting marine resources, and when combined with NRDC’s communications to the public at large, the likely audience of interested persons to be reached is certainly “reasonably broad.” 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(l)(2)(iii). As NRDC’s long history of incorporating information obtained through FOIA into reports, articles, and other communications illustrates, NRDC is well prepared to convey to the public any relevant information it obtains through this records request.

NRDC has the ability to disseminate information collected from this FOIA request through many channels. As of June 2016, these include, but are not limited to the following:

- NRDC’s website, available at http://www.nrdc.org (homepage at Att. 1), is updated daily and draws approximately 1.3 million page views and 510,000 unique visitors per month. The new NRDC.org launched in late March 2016 and features NRDC staff blogs, original reporting of environmental news stories, and more.
- NRDC’s Activist email list includes more than 2.5 million members and online activists who receive regular communications on urgent environmental issues (sample email at Att. 2). This information is also made available through NRDC’s online Action Center at https://www.nrdc.org/actions (Att. 3).
- NRDC This Week is a weekly electronic environmental newsletter distributed by email to more than 86,700 subscribers, at http://www.nrdc.org/newsletter (Att. 4).
- NRDC updates and maintains several social media accounts: Facebook (565,530 followers) (Att. 5), Twitter (195,426 followers) (Att. 6), Instagram (37,868 followers) (Att. 7), YouTube (19,518 subscribers) (Att. 8), and LinkedIn (9,108 followers) (Att. 9). We also use Medium as another distribution channel for our content (1,478 followers).
- NRDC issues press releases, issue papers, and reports; directs and produces movies, such as Sonic Sea, Stories from the Gulf, and Acid Test, narrated by Rachel McAdams, Robert Redford, and Sigourney Weaver, respectively; participates in press conferences and interviews with reporters and editorial writers; distributes content on Huffington Post (Att. 10); and has more than fifty staff members dedicated to communications work.

NRDC employees provide Congressional testimony; appear on television, radio, and web broadcasts and at conferences; and contribute to numerous national newspapers, magazines, academic journals, other periodicals, and books. A few examples are provided below:

- Research article, “The requirement to rebuild US fish stocks: Is it working?” Marine Policy, July 2014 (co-authored by NRDC Oceans Program Senior Scientist Lisa Suatoni and Senior Attorney Brad Sewell) (Att. 11);
- Issue brief, “The Untapped Potential of California’s Water Supply: Efficiency, Reuse, and Stormwater,” June 2014 (co-authored by NRDC Water Program Senior Attorney Kate Poole and Senior Policy Analyst Ed Osann) (Att. 12); see also “Saving Water in California,” N.Y. Times, July 9, 2014 (discussing the report’s estimates) (Att. 13);
- Article, “Waves of phony charges over new clean water safeguards,” The Hill, June 17, 2014 (by NRDC Executive Director Peter Lehner) (Att. 14);

NRDC routinely uses FOIA to obtain information from federal agencies that NRDC legal and scientific experts analyze in order to inform the public about a variety of issues, including energy policy, climate change, wildlife protection, nuclear weapons, pesticides, drinking water safety, and air quality. Some specific examples are provided below:

(1) In April 2014, NRDC relied on FOIA documents for a report on potentially unsafe chemicals added to food, without the safety oversight of the Food and Drug Administration or the notification of the public. The report, titled Generally Recognized as Secret: Chemicals Added to Food in the United States, reveals concerns within the agency about several chemicals used as ingredients in food that manufacturers claim are “generally recognized as safe” (Att. 22). See also Kimberly Kindy, “Are secret, dangerous ingredients in your food?” Wash. Post, Apr. 7, 2014 (discussing NRDC’s report) (Att. 23).

(2) NRDC obtained, through FOIA, FDA review documents on the nontherapeutic use of antibiotic additives in livestock and poultry feed. In January 2014, NRDC published a report, titled Playing Chicken with Antibiotics, which is based on the documents obtained, and reveals decades of hesitancy on FDA’s part to ensure the safety of these drug additives (Att. 24). See also P.J. Huffstutter and Brian Grow, “Drug critic slams FDA over antibiotic oversight in meat production,” Reuters, Jan. 27, 2014 (discussing NRDC’s report) (Att. 25).

(4) NRDC incorporated information obtained through FOIA into a report, available at http://www.nrdc.org/wildlife/marine/sound/contents.asp, on the impacts of

(5) NRDC scientists have used information obtained through FOIA to publish analyses of the United States’ and other nations’ nuclear weapons programs. In 2004, for example, NRDC scientists incorporated information obtained through FOIA into a feature article on the United States’ plans to deploy a ballistic missile system and the implications for global security. See Hans M. Kristensen, Matthew G. McKinzie, and Robert S. Norris, “The Protection Paradox,” Bulletin of Atomic Scientists, Mar./Apr. 2004 (Att. 30).

(7) Through FOIA, NRDC obtained a memorandum by ExxonMobil, advocating the replacement of the sitting head of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, and used the document to help inform the public about what may have been behind the Bush administration’s decision to replace Dr. Robert Watson. See NRDC Press Release and attached Exxon memorandum, “Confidential Papers Show Exxon Hand in White House Move to Oust Top Scientist from International Global Warming Panel,” Apr. 3, 2002 (Att. 33); Elizabeth Shogren, “Charges Fly Over Science Panel Pick,” L.A. Times, Apr. 4, 2002, at A19 (Att. 34).

As these examples demonstrate, NRDC has a proven ability to digest, synthesize, and quickly disseminate information gleaned from FOIA requests to a broad audience of interested persons. Therefore, the requested records disclosure is likely to contribute to the public’s understanding of the subject.

4. Significance of the contribution to public understanding

The records requested shed light on a matter of considerable public interest and concern: conservation and management of the summer flounder fishery, and agency views on what management measures are necessary to achieve conservation of this important species. Recent overfishing of the summer flounder stock, and subsequent coastwide catch reductions implemented by NOAA and the Department of Commerce have received significant media coverage in 2016 and 2017. In recent weeks, the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission’s (ASMFC) noncompliance finding for the State of New Jersey, and the Department’s determination of compliance, have also received significant coverage regional and national media outlets and other public forums. Examples of recent media coverage on this issue include:

3. ASMFC Blasts Secretary Ross Decision on Summer Flounder in Favor of New Jersey’s Recreational Sector, Saving Seafood (Republished from Seafood News) (July 18, 2017) (Exhibit C).
4. Blog: Charles Witek, Commerce Department’s Summer Flounder Decision Undermines ASMFC’s Authority To Manage Fish Stocks, Marine Fish Conservation Network (July 18, 2017) (Exhibit D).
11. Claire Lowe, New Jersey ruled out of compliance on summer flounder; moratorium possible, Press of Atlantic City (June 2, 2017) (Exhibit K).
12. Daniel Hampton, Summer flounder season begins in N.J., but there’s a catch this year, NJ.com (May 25, 2017) (Exhibit L).
Public understanding of the Department’s opinion of what actions are needed to conserve summer flounder and its role in carrying out the cooperative management duties of the ACFCMA, would be significantly enhanced by disclosure of the requested records concerning the Secretary’s compliance decision. See 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(l)(2)(iv). Disclosure would help the public to more effectively evaluate the Department’s conclusion that the management measures New Jersey declined to implement are not necessary for conservation of the summer flounder fishery. Disclosure would also help the public to better understand and evaluate the Department’s actions on summer flounder conservation and management, particularly with respect to its decision that a moratorium in New Jersey state waters was not warranted.

B. NRDC Satisfies the Second Fee Waiver Requirement

Disclosure in this case would also satisfy the second prerequisite of a fee waiver request because NRDC does not have any commercial interest that would be furthered by the requested disclosure. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(iii); 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(l)(3). NRDC is a not-for-profit organization and does not act as a middleman to resell information obtained under FOIA. “Congress amended FOIA to ensure that it be liberally construed in favor of waivers for noncommercial requesters.” Rossotti, 326 F.3d at 1312 (internal citation omitted); see Natural Res. Def. Council v. United States Envtl. Prot. Agency, 581 F. Supp. 2d 491, 498 (S.D.N.Y. 2008). NRDC wishes to serve the public by reviewing, analyzing, and disclosing newsworthy and presently non-public information about conservation and management of the summer flounder fishery. As noted at Part II.A, any work done by the Department on summer flounder management relates to a matter of considerable public interest and concern. Disclosure of the requested records will contribute significantly to public understanding of summer flounder management and associated implications for marine conservation.

C. NRDC Is a Media Requester

Even if the Department denies a public interest waiver of all costs and fees, NRDC is a representative of the news media entitled to a reduction of fees under FOIA, 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii), and the Department’s FOIA regulations, 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(d)(1); see also 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(b)(6) (defining “[r]epresentative of the news media”). A representative of the news media is “any person or entity that gathers information of potential interest to a segment of the public, uses its editorial skills to turn the raw materials into a distinct work, and distributes that work to an audience.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii); see also Elec. Privacy Info. Ctr. v. Dep’t of Def., 241 F. Supp. 2d 5, 6, 11-15 (D.D.C. 2003) (a “non-profit public interest organization” qualifies as a representative of the news media under FOIA where it publishes books and newsletters on issues of current interest to the public); Letter from Alexander C. Morris, FOIA Officer, United States Dep’t of Energy, to Joshua Berman, NRDC (Feb. 10, 2011) (Att. 40) (granting NRDC media requester status).

NRDC is in part organized and operated to gather and publish or transmit news to the public. As described earlier in this request, NRDC publishes original reporting of environmental news stories on its website, http://www.nrdc.org. Previously, NRDC published stories like these in its magazine, OnEarth, which has won numerous news media awards, including the Independent Press Award for Best Environmental Coverage and for General Excellence, a Gold Eddie Award for editorial excellence among magazines, and the Phillip D. Reed Memorial Award for Outstanding Writing on the Southern Environment. NRDC also publishes a regular newsletter for its more than two million members and online activists; issues other electronic newsletters, action alerts, public reports and analyses; and maintains free online libraries of these publications. See 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(b)(6) (“Examples of news-media entities are . . . publishers of periodicals.”). NRDC maintains a significant additional communications presence on the internet through its staff blogs on http://www.nrdc.org, which are updated regularly and feature writing about current environmental issues, through daily news messaging on “Twitter” and “Facebook,” and through content distributed to outlets such as Medium. See 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii) (clarifying that “as methods of news delivery evolve . . . such alternative media shall be considered to be news-media entities”). The aforementioned publications and media sources routinely include information about current events of interest to the readership and the public. To publish and transmit this news content, NRDC employs more than fifty staff members dedicated full-time to communications with the public, including accomplished journalists and editors. These staff members rely on information acquired under FOIA and through other means. Public interest organizations meeting the requirements “are regularly granted news representative status.” Serv. Women’s Action Network v. Dep’t of Def., 888 F. Supp. 2d 282, 287-88 (D. Conn. 2012) (according media requester status to the American Civil Liberties Union).

Information obtained as a result of this request will, if appropriately newsworthy, be synthesized with information from other sources and used by NRDC to create and disseminate unique articles, reports, analyses, blogs, tweets, emails, and/or other distinct informational works through one or more of NRDC’s publications or other suitable media channels. NRDC staff gather information from a variety of sources—including documents provided pursuant to FOIA requests—to write original articles and reports that are featured on its website, in its newsletters and blogs, and on other media outlets. See Cause of Action v. Fed. Trade Comm’n, 961 F. Supp. 2d 142, 163 (D.D.C. 2013) (explaining that an organization can qualify for media-requester status if it “distributes work to an audience and is especially organized around doing so”). NRDC seeks the requested records to aid its own news-disseminating activities by obtaining, analyzing, and distributing information likely to contribute significantly to public understanding, not to resell the information to other media organizations.

III. Request for Expedited Processing

NRDC requests expedited processing of this request. FOIA and relevant Department regulations allow for an expedited response, of less than 20 days, in cases where the requester is “primarily engaged in disseminating information” and demonstrates that there is an “urgency to inform the public concerning actual or alleged Federal Government activity.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(v)(I), (II); 15 C.F.R. § 4.6(f)(1)(iv). The following explains NRDC’s basis for requesting expedited processing, based on information that we certify to be true and correct, to the best of our knowledge and belief.

As explained in Part II.C above, NRDC is a “representative of the news media,” see 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii); 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(b)(6), and a key purpose of the organization’s work is to gather

4 To be a representative of the news media, an organization need not exclusively perform news gathering functions. If that were required, major news and entertainment entities like the National Broadcasting Company (NBC) would not qualify as representatives of the news media. This country has a long history, dating back to its founding, of news organizations engaging in public advocacy.
and publish or transmit current and accurate news to the public. See Leadership Conference on Civil Rights v. Gonzales, 404 F. Supp. 2d 246, 260 (D.D.C. 2005) (holding that organization was “primarily engaged in disseminating information” where its mission involved serving as site of record for relevant and up-to-the minute civil rights news and information). Information obtained as a result of this request will, if appropriately newsworthy, be synthesized with information from other sources and used by NRDC to create and disseminate unique articles, reports, analyses, blogs, tweets, emails, and/or other distinct informational works through one or more of NRDC’s publications or other suitable media channels. Further, as discussed in Part II.A.3 above, NRDC has the ability and will to use disclosed records to reach a broad audience of interested persons with any relevant and newsworthy information the records reveal. Dissemination of information need not be an organization’s “sole occupation” in order to meet this first requirement. 15 C.F.R. § 4.6(f)(1)(iv). Thus, it is appropriate to conclude that NRDC is “primarily engaged in disseminating information” with regard to this request.

This is also a case that presents an urgency to inform the public regarding activities of the Federal Government. See 15 C.F.R. § 4.6(f)(1)(iv). The Secretary’s July 2017 decision is unprecedented in that it is the first time in the existence of the ACFCMA that the Department of Commerce has rejected a noncompliance finding by the ASMFC. By allowing New Jersey to use management measures that are noncompliant with the coastal management plan, the decision is likely to result in the fishery exceeding its coastwide recreational harvest limit and increase the risk of the summer flounder stock becoming overfished. Importantly, the Secretary’s final decision was not accompanied with any publically available technical analysis or projections that support the conclusion that the management measures New Jersey failed to implement were not necessary for the conservation of summer flounder. Given that the recreational summer flounder season is currently underway and will end in just over one month (on September 5, 2017), it is critical that the public be informed about the Department’s opinion of what actions are (or are not) needed to achieve conservation of summer flounder in the 2017 fishing season. This information has important implications for the conservation of the summer flounder stock and management approaches in other states. As discussed in Part II.A.4 above, significant public attention and media coverage of the initial noncompliance finding for New Jersey, and the Secretary’s determination of compliance, indicates the public is closely following this issue and wants to better understand the basis for the Secretary’s decision. See infra p. 7; Exhibits A-M.

IV. Willingness to Pay Fees Under Protest

Please provide the records requested above regardless of your fee waiver decision. In order to expedite a response, NRDC will, if necessary and under protest, pay fees in accordance with the Department’s FOIA regulations at 15 C.F.R. § 4.11(c) for all or a portion of the requested records. See 15 C.F.R. §4.11(l)(4). Please contact me before doing anything that would cause the fee to exceed $500. NRDC reserves its rights to seek administrative or judicial review of any fee waiver denial.

IV. Conclusion

Please email or (if it is not possible to email) mail the requested records to me at the NRDC office address listed below. Please send them on a rolling basis; the Department’s search for—or deliberations concerning—certain records should not delay the production of others that the Department has already retrieved and elected to produce. See generally 15 C.F.R. § 4.6. If the Department concludes that any of the records requested here are publicly available, please let me know.

Please do not hesitate to call or email with questions.

Thank you.

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

NATURAL RESOURCES DEFENSE COUNCIL, INC.,

Plaintiff,

v.

COMMERCE,

Defendant.

18-cv-583
ECF Case

INTRODUCTION

1. Defendant United States Department of Commerce (Commerce) has violated the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), 5 U.S.C. § 552, by failing to fully disclose records relating to a July 2017 determination by the Secretary of Commerce that New Jersey had complied with its obligation to implement management measures aimed at conserving summer flounder. Plaintiff Natural Resources Defense Council (NRDC) requested these records from Commerce six months ago.

2. Commerce’s National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), regional fishery management councils, and the interstate Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission (the Fisheries Commission or Commission) work together to conserve and manage various fish populations along the Atlantic coast. As part of these efforts, the Fisheries Commission adopts management plans to protect certain fish species against depletion. Under Federal law, the Commission identifies Atlantic coastal states to be included in its various management plans and then works to ensure that those states implement and enforce the plans.

3. In June 2017, the Fisheries Commission determined that New Jersey was out of compliance with the Commission’s management plan for summer flounder, a fish species that is currently subject to overfishing. In July 2017, contrary to the Commission’s determination, the Secretary of Commerce found that the summer flounder management measures New Jersey had failed to implement were not necessary for the conservation of summer flounder. The Secretary’s determination allowed New Jersey’s recreational summer flounder fishing season to proceed.

4. On July 26, 2017, NRDC submitted a FOIA request to Commerce for documents related to the Secretary’s finding that the summer flounder management plan measures New Jersey had failed to implement were unnecessary for conserving summer flounder.

5. In October and November, Commerce via NOAA (a component of Commerce) provided NRDC with two “interim” releases of responsive documents. These interim releases consisted solely of documents from NOAA’s files, and nothing from other Commerce components or the Office of the Secretary.

6. After the most recent interim release, Commerce informed NRDC that there were no more responsive documents in NOAA’s files. Commerce further informed NRDC that it was unable to provide an update regarding the status of its search for additional responsive documents outside of NOAA, other than noting a “significant logjam” due to the volume of Commerce FOIA requests.

7. Although Commerce has had six months to search for and produce responsive documents, it has not provided NRDC with any records from components of Commerce other than NOAA. Nor has Commerce provided NRDC with a final determination as to whether it will comply with NRDC’s request. The statutory deadline for such a final determination was, at the latest, September 11, 2017, with the final production of documents due promptly thereafter.

8. It is important that NRDC receives these documents in a timely manner. The Commission has already begun setting management measures for the 2018 summer flounder recreational fishing season, and the Commission and individual states will make key management decisions over the next four months prior to the opening of the season in May 2018. Particularly if New Jersey or other states choose not to comply with the relevant management plan for the 2018 fishing season, the requested documents could provide critical information to NRDC and the public in making advocacy decisions.

9. NRDC seeks a declaration that Commerce has violated FOIA by failing to provide a final determination as to whether it will comply with NRDC’s request, and by failing to produce all non-exempt responsive records, by the statutory deadline. NRDC seeks an injunction ordering Commerce to disclose at no cost and without further delay all non-exempt, responsive records to NRDC.
THE PARTIES

10. Plaintiff NRDC is a national, non-profit environmental and public health membership organization with hundreds of thousands of members nationwide. NRDC engages in research, advocacy, public education, and litigation related to protecting public health and the environment. The organization’s work includes efforts to end overfishing and promote the long-term sustainability of fishing practices in the United States.

11. Defendant Commerce is a federal agency within the meaning of FOIA, 5 U.S.C. § 551(1), and has possession or control of the records that NRDC seeks.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

12. This Court has jurisdiction over this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331 and 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(B).

13. Venue is proper in this court because plaintiff NRDC resides and has its principal place of business in this judicial district. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(B).

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY FRAMEWORK

14. FOIA requires that federal agencies release, upon request, information to the public, 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3), unless one of nine statutory exemptions applies, id. § 552(b).

15. Within 20 business days of an agency’s receipt of a FOIA request, the agency must “determine . . . whether to comply with such request,” id. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i); see also 15 C.F.R. § 4.6(b) (Commerce FOIA regulation), and “immediately notify the person making such request of . . . such determination and the reasons therefor,” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i). If the agency determines that it will comply with the request, it must “promptly” release responsive, non-exempt records to the requester. Id. § 552(a)(6)(C)(i); see also 15 C.F.R. § 4.7(c).

16. In “unusual circumstances,” an agency may extend the time limit for responding to a FOIA request by up to 10 business days. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(B)(i).

17. If the agency fails to comply with the statutory time limits, the requester is deemed to have exhausted her administrative remedies and may immediately file suit “to enjoin the agency from withholding agency records and to order the production of any agency records improperly withheld.” 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(4)(B), 552(a)(6)(C)(i).

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

18. Summer flounder is an important fish for commercial and recreational fishing industries along the Mid-Atlantic coast, and is found in waters from Nova Scotia, Canada, to the east coast of Florida. Despite conservation efforts, the summer flounder population is below target levels and is currently subject to overfishing.

19. Summer flounder and the fishing of summer flounder collectively known as the summer flounder fishery are jointly managed by NOAA (a component of Commerce), the Mid-Atlantic Fishery Management Council, and the Fisheries Commission. Together, these entities seek to conserve summer flounder and prevent depletion of the species.
20. Under the Atlantic Coastal Fisheries Cooperative Management Act (Atlantic Coastal Act), 16 U.S.C. §§ 5101-5108, the Fisheries Commission is tasked with developing management plans to conserve summer flounder (as well as other fish species in the Atlantic coastal region), see id. § 5104(a). The Atlantic Coastal Act provides that, for each management plan, the Commission must identify the states that are required to implement and enforce the plan. Id. § 5104(a)(1). Under some management plans, the Commission allows states to implement their own management measures, so long as the state’s measures achieve the same level of conservation as the Commission’s plan.

21. If the Fisheries Commission finds that a state has failed to implement or enforce measures in compliance with the Commission’s management plan for a particular fish species, the Atlantic Coastal Act requires the Commission to make a formal non-compliance determination. Id. § 5105(a). This determination is subject to review by the Secretary of Commerce, who makes an independent compliance determination. Id. § 5106(a)(1). If the Secretary agrees that the state has failed to implement and enforce the measures contained in the management plan, and also that such measures are “necessary for the conservation of the fishery,” the Secretary must declare a moratorium on fishing that species in the waters of the non-complying state. Id. § 5106(a), (c)(1).

22. In February 2017, in response to new science indicating the declining population status of summer flounder, the Fisheries Commission tightened measures in its summer flounder management plan applicable to recreational fishing. These stricter measures included increased minimum size requirements and a reduction in the maximum number of summer flounder allowed to be caught and kept by any one person.

23. State officials from New Jersey, one of several states required to implement and enforce the Commission’s summer flounder management plan vocally opposed these stricter measures. Soon after the Fisheries Commission voted on the new restrictions, the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection Commissioner wrote a letter to the Secretary of Commerce, asking the Secretary to stop them from going into effect, claiming the restrictions would lead to the “destruction of” New Jersey’s recreational summer flounder industry.

24. New Jersey ultimately proposed its own summer flounder recreational management measures, instead of implementing the new measures adopted by the Commission. Although the Commission’s summer flounder management plan allowed New Jersey to do so if the measures would achieve the same level of conservation as the Commission’s plan, after reviewing the measures proposed by New Jersey, the Commission found that the measures would not sufficiently protect summer flounder and were therefore inconsistent with the Commission’s plan.

25. New Jersey nonetheless implemented its own measures, prompting a formal non-compliance determination by the Fisheries Commission on June 1, 2017.

26. In July 2017, for the first time in the twenty-four-year history of the Atlantic Coastal Act, the Secretary of Commerce made a finding contrary to the Commission’s non-compliance determination, allowing New Jersey’s recreational summer flounder season to proceed. Specifically, the Secretary found that the measures New Jersey failed to implement were “not necessary for the conservation of summer flounder.” 82 Fed. Reg. 33,481 (July 20, 2017). The notice announcing the Secretary’s compliance determination was brief and devoid of any substantive explanation. See id.

27. On July 26, 2017, NRDC served a FOIA request on Commerce, seeking records supporting, explaining, or otherwise relating to the Secretary’s finding that the summer flounder management measures New Jersey failed to implement were not necessary for the conservation of summer flounder. NRDC also requested a fee waiver.

28. NRDC received an email notification indicating that the request would be processed by NOAA, a component of Commerce. NRDC also received a letter from NOAA on August 4, 2017, acknowledging receipt of the request and stating that the agency was invoking the statutory ten-day extension applicable in “unusual circumstances.” In its letter, NOAA stated that it anticipated completing NRDC’s request by September 7, 2017.

29. On August 23, NRDC received a letter from NOAA recommending that NRDC narrow the scope of its request. After a phone call with NRDC on August 24 and an additional email from NRDC on August 25, NOAA agreed to move forward with the request. Around the same time, Commerce granted NRDC’s fee waiver request.
30. NOAA provided NRDC with two “interim releases” of responsive documents in October and November, but did not provide a final date for Commerce’s completion of NRDC’s request. The interim releases consisted solely of documents from NOAA’s files, and a NOAA representative confirmed that NOAA itself has no other responsive documents. NOAA further informed NRDC that it was unable to provide more information regarding the status of Commerce’s search for additional responsive documents, other than noting a “significant logjam” due to the volume of Commerce FOIA requests.

31. It has been six months since NRDC served its FOIA request on Commerce, and more than four months since the statutory deadline passed, yet Commerce has failed to provide NRDC with a final response to its request.

CLAIM FOR RELIEF

32. Plaintiff incorporates by reference all preceding paragraphs.

33. NRDC has a statutory right under FOIA to obtain without further delay all records responsive to its request that are not exempt from disclosure.

34. Commerce violated its duty under FOIA, 5 U.S.C. § 552(a), to release by the statutory deadline all non-exempt, responsive records to NRDC.

REQUEST FOR RELIEF

Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court enter judgment against Commerce as follows:

A. Declaring that Commerce has violated FOIA by failing to produce all non-exempt records responsive to NRDC’s FOIA request by the statutory deadline;
B. Ordering that Commerce disclose the remaining requested records to NRDC at no cost and without further delay;

C. Ordering that Commerce produce an index identifying any documents or parts thereof that it withholds and the basis for the withholdings, in the event Commerce determines that certain responsive records are exempt from disclosure;

D. Retaining jurisdiction over this case to rule on any challenged assertions by Commerce that certain responsive records are exempt from disclosure;

E. Awarding NRDC its costs and reasonable attorneys’ fees; and

F. Granting such other relief that the Court considers just and proper.

Respectfully submitted,

PARTIES

2. Plaintiff Animal Welfare Institute (“AWI”) is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization that seeks to protect animals from human inflicted suffering. In particular, AWI has advocated for the protection of whales and other marine life from human activities such as harmful fishing practices, hunting, underwater noise production, and inhumane practices resulting from captive maintenance for purposes of public display and scientific research. AWI is the requester of the records at issue.
3. Defendant National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (“NOAA”) is an agency of the federal government within the U.S. Department of Commerce that focuses on the conditions of the oceans and the atmosphere, including marine wildlife.

4. Defendant National Marine Fisheries Service (“NMFS”) is an agency of the federal government within NOAA that has jurisdiction over whales under the Marine Mammal Protection Act (“MMPA”), 16 U.S.C. §§ 1361 - 1423h, and is in possession of the records requested by AWI.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

5. This Court has jurisdiction pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(B).

A. FOIA Requirements

7. The purpose of FOIA is to “pierce the veil of administrative secrecy and to open agency action to the light of public scrutiny.” Public Citizen, Inc. v. Office of Management and Budget, 598 F.3d 865, 869 (D.C. Cir. 2010) (quotations omitted). In enacting FOIA, Congress intended the primary objective of the Act to be the full disclosure of federal agency records so long as information is not exempted by clearly delineated statutory language. Id.

8. FOIA establishes a broad right of public access to federal agency records, subject only to nine delineated exemptions. 5 U.S.C. § 552(b). “Each agency, upon any request” for enumerated records must “determine within 20 days (excepting Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays) after the receipt of any such request whether to comply with such request and shall immediately notify the person making such a request” of the “determination and the reasons therefor . . . .” Id. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i). A requester “shall be deemed to have exhausted [its] administrative remedies” and hence may file suit under the Act’s citizen suit provision “with respect to [a] request if the agency fails to comply with the . . . time limit” set forth in the statute for a substantive response. Id. § 552(a)(6)(C)(i).

B. The Public Interest Need for the Documents Subject to the FOIA Request

10. In 2013, the documentary film Blackfish drew public attention to the plight of Tilikum, an orca held in captivity by SeaWorld Parks & Entertainment (“SeaWorld”), and other orcas now maintained in aquariums and theme parks around the world. Blackfish set off a strong negative public reaction to SeaWorld and the conditions under which orcas are held in captivity.

11. On March 8, 2016, SeaWorld released a video on its website describing Tilikum’s declining health and indicating that he was not expected to survive.

12. Beginning in October 2016, the People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals (“PETA”) initiated the first of what would be several meetings and communications with NOAA/NMFS regarding Tilikum. AWI joined this effort by December 2016. In anticipation of Tilikum’s death, NOAA/NMFS was presented with a draft legal opinion explaining why the 1992 MMPA permit authorizing the importation of Tilikum requires SeaWorld to submit to NOAA/NMFS the necropsy report and clinical history for Tilikum in the event of his death. In these meetings and communications, and through the draft legal opinion, AWI (with PETA) sought NOAA/NMFS input and comments on the applicability of the necropsy and clinical history permit requirement.
In the following months, AWI also presented its views on the necropsy and clinical history requirements of MMPA permits to the other federal agencies with jurisdiction over marine mammals — the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (“FWS”), the Marine Mammal Commission (“MMC”), and the U.S. Department of Agriculture’s Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (“APHIS”).

In these agency meetings and communications, AWI repeatedly stressed the importance of necropsy reports and clinical histories for purposes of scientific research, medical care (including for free-ranging, stranded individuals), animal husbandry, and public education, and demonstrated that the benefits resulting from this information applied to whales held both in captivity and in the wild.

In these meetings and communications, NOAA/NMFS never took a position on whether SeaWorld had to comply with the necropsy and clinical history requirements of Tilikum’s permit.

Tilikum died on January 6, 2017 at SeaWorld’s Orlando facility. AWI and other animal welfare organizations immediately notified NOAA/NMFS that Tilikum’s MMPA permit required SeaWorld to submit the necropsy and clinical history report within 30 days. Based on information and belief, SeaWorld never submitted the necropsy and clinical history report required by the permit to NOAA/NMFS.

On March 10, 2017, NOAA/NMFS responded to the animal welfare organizations’ notice with an email stating that it was willing to meet to discuss the issue but that it had concluded that the necropsy and clinical history provisions of Tilikum’s permit had been extinguished by amendments to the MMPA in 1994 and that “the legal analysis supporting this determination is exempt from disclosure under the attorney-client privilege, and we will not be discussing it in any detail at the meeting.” Thus, after months of effort to engage NOAA/NMFS in a collaborative dialogue regarding the permit requirements for SeaWorld to release Tilikum’s health records, AWI and the other organizations had no explanation from NOAA/NMFS for the legal conclusion, contrary to the plain language of the permit, that the necropsy and clinical history requirement did not apply and were told that none would be provided.

1 Under the MMPA, NOAA/NMFS has jurisdiction over whales, dolphins and seals. FWS has jurisdiction over polar bears, manatees, walrus and sea otters. 16 U.S.C. § 1362(12)(A). The MMC serves in an independent advisory and oversight role. Id. §§ 1401-1407. APHIS jurisdiction is not under the MMPA but applies to marine mammals in certain captive maintenance facilities under the Animal Welfare Act. 7 U.S.C. §§ 2131-2159.

18. AWI contacted SeaWorld directly by email on March 25, 2017 asking for voluntary release of Tilikum’s records. SeaWorld refused to do so in an April 13, 2017 email. Five animal welfare organizations sent a letter to SeaWorld on August 8, 2017, again asking for voluntary compliance. SeaWorld has not replied and continues to withhold the documents.

19. On July 24, 2017, Tilikum’s granddaughter Kyara died at SeaWorld’s San Antonio facility. The draft legal opinion previously provided to NOAA/NMFS confirmed that Kyara was covered by the necropsy and clinical history provision of Tilikum’s permit.

20. On July 31, 2017, AWI and other animal welfare organizations wrote to NOAA/NMFS asking for enforcement of the necropsy and clinical history provision of Tilikum’s permit for Kyara’s records. Counsel to AWI submitted a revised version of the draft legal opinion supporting this conclusion to NOAA/NMFS on August 14, 2017.

21. NOAA/NMFS responded on September 7, 2017, simply restating its March 10, 2017 email message that the permit had been extinguished by the 1994 MMPA amendments.

22. On August 15, 2017, Kasatka, an orca held at SeaWorld’s San Diego facility, was euthanized due to a bacterial infection. Kasatka’s 1978 MMPA permit included a necropsy and clinical history requirement. AWI, and the other organizations promptly requested

23. By letter dated October 18, 2017, NOAA/NMFS issued the same response as in its March 10, 2017 email on Tilikum’s death and its September 7, 2017 letter on Kyara’s death, stating that the necropsy and clinical history requirement in Kasatka’s permit had been extinguished. Again, NOAA/NMFS provided no explanation for its legal conclusion.

24. After the death of three SeaWorld orcas over a seven-month period, NOAA/NMFS has refused to release or disclose the legal rationale for its conclusion that SeaWorld can ignore clearly stated permit requirements and withhold information that would shed light on the cause of death and medical condition of these whales during their lives in captivity and benefit science and marine mammal husbandry, stranding response, and medical care. SeaWorld refuses to release the whales’ clinical histories or necropsy reports.

C. The AWI FOIA Request

25. By letters sent by email on September 29, 2017, AWI submitted FOIA requests to NOAA/NMFS, FWS, and MMC for all documents from January 1, 2017 to May 1, 2017 regarding NMFS’ March 10, 2017 determination that the necropsy and clinical history requirements of Public Display Permit No. 774 for Tilikum were extinguished by the 1994 MMPA amendments. Exhibit 1, Declaration of Donald C. Baur, dated January 8, 2018 (“Baur Decl.”) at ¶ 2, Attachment A. On the same date, AWI submitted a FOIA request to APHIS, asking for “all requests that APHIS has submitted since January 1, 1994 under 9 C.F.R. § 3.110(g) requesting necropsy records for marine mammals that have died in captivity, and all necropsy records that APHIS has received in response to those requests.”
26. Under FOIA, the deadline for agency response to the requests was October 30, 2017.

27. By letter to AWI dated October 5, 2017, APHIS’s FOIA Director confirmed receipt of the FOIA request. The letter identified an anticipated response date of October 30, 2017. On December 8, 2017, APHIS responded to AWI’s FOIA request.²

28. By voice message on October 4, 2017, the MMC confirmed receipt of AWI’s FOIA request. In a letter sent by email, dated December 18, 2017, Michael L. Gosliner, MMC General Counsel, responded to the FOIA request with a partial release of documents. In the MMC response letter, Mr. Gosliner stated:

I am sympathetic to the position that your organization finds itself in — the responsible agency (NMFS) has given you its legal conclusion that the 1994 amendments to the MMPA extinguished the permit terms and conditions related to necropsies and clinical histories, but has declined to provide you with its rationale for this conclusion. I can see where that agency would not want to share its draft legal analysis outside of the government, but once a conclusion has been reached, its final position no longer is pre-decisional.³

⁴ The MMC request revealed the limited nature of the AWI request, by identifying only nine responsive documents withheld based on the NOAA/NMFS position. The MMC letter also confirmed that it had coordinated its response “with the other agencies,” indicating that NOAA/NMFS is aware of the FOIA request.
29. By email on September 29, 2017, FWS’s Headquarters FOIA Office acknowledged receipt of the FOIA request. The email stated that the request was forwarded to the Division of Management Authority for processing.

30. The initial FOIA request letter to NMFS was confirmed delivered to NOAA/NMFS by AWI email on September 29, 2017. A follow-up letter was also sent by email to NMFS on December 4, 2017, asking for a response by December 15, 2017. Baur Decl. ¶ 3, Attachment B. Finally, on December 22, 2017, a copy of the December 4 letter was sent again by email, with a specific request that NMFS acknowledge receipt. Id. ¶ 4, Attachment C.

31. As of the date of this complaint, NOAA/NMFS has never even acknowledged receipt of the September 29, 2017 request, the December 4, 2017 follow-up letter, or the December 22, 2017 email confirmation request.

32. To date, more than three months after AWI’s initial letter, and more than two months after the statutory deadline, NOAA/NMFS has not responded in any way to the September 29, 2017 AWI FOIA request. Nor has the Agency provided AWI with any explanation for the ongoing delay. The other agencies have either responded in full (APHIS and MMC) or acknowledged receipt and confirmed that review is underway (FWS).

CLAIM FOR RELIEF

33. AWI has a statutory right to the requested records. NOAA/NMFS, in violation of FOIA and AWI’s rights under FOIA, has failed to provide the records, or any substantive determination regarding them, by the mandatory deadline set forth in 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i).

REQUESTED RELIEF

34. AWI respectfully requests that the Court grant the following relief:

a. Declare that NMFS is in violation of FOIA;
b. Enjoin NMFS from continuing to withhold the requested records and order NMFS immediately to release the records in full to AWI;

c. Make a written finding pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(F)(i) that the “circumstances surrounding the withholding raise questions whether agency personnel acted arbitrarily or capriciously with respect to the withholding . . . .”;

d. Award Plaintiff its attorneys’ fees and costs pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(E);

e. Award any other relief this Court finds just and proper.

Dear FOIA Officer:

Specifically, I request all documents from each of the aforementioned agencies between January 1, 2017 and May 1, 2017 related to NMFS' March 10, 2017 determination that the necropsy/clinical history requirements of Permit No. 774 were effectively extinguished by the 1994 amendments to the MMPA.

For purposes of this FOIA request, “all documents” encompass: (i) any written, printed, or typed material of any kind, including without limitation to all correspondence, memoranda, notes, meeting minutes, emails from or to official or personal e-mail accounts, spreadsheets, reports, calendars; (ii) any electronically, magnetically, or mechanically stored records, such as materials stored on a compact disk, digital video disk, microfiche, regardless of form; (iii) any audio, visual, aural, or video records, including but not limited to photographs, videotapes, microfilm; and (iv) any other records preserved by any other means for documenting thought or expression.

In the event that the requested documents cannot be disclosed in their entirety, AWI requests that you release any material that can be reasonably segregated. Should any documents or portions thereof be withheld, AWI requests that the agency state with specificity the description of the withheld document or portions thereof, and the legal and factual grounds for doing so.

AWI requests that any fees associated with responding to this FOIA request be waived. See 15 C.F.R. § 4.11; 43 C.F.R. § 2.45; 50 C.F.R. § 520.7. AWI is a non-profit, charitable institution that was founded over 50 years ago and is dedicated to protecting animals from suffering caused by human action. The documents that AWI is requesting concern the terms of Public Display Permit No. 774, the agencies’ interpretation of those terms, and the level of input that NMFS received from other agencies to interpret those terms. Releasing the documents covered by this request will significantly enhance the public’s understanding of the necropsy and clinical history requirements of MMPA public display permits issued before 1994 and the agencies’ procedures for evaluating those permits. This information will help the public determine whether additional changes to the MMPA permitting processes are needed in order to achieve the goals of the statute.

Disclosure of the requested documents will benefit a broad audience of people interested in the MMPA and public display permits. AWI is an institute with significant expertise in marine mammals and animal welfare and is well suited to convey the information learned from the documents to the public. As a non-profit organization, AWI’s primary goal is to increase awareness of human mistreatment of animals and releasing the documents it obtains in response to this FOIA request will further that goal. The documents AWI is requesting are not yet publicly available and thus the release of these documents will significantly enhance the public’s understanding of the public display permits at issue.

AWI does not have any commercial interest that will be furthered by releasing the requested documents.

Please contact me if you have any questions.
Sincerely,

Re: Request No. DOC-NOAA-2017-001101

Dear Mr. Mulvey,

This letter is in response to your Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request received by our office on May 18, 2017, in which you requested:

“access to any final guidance concerning the retention of instant messaging sessions created or received through the “Google Chat” or “Google Hangouts” feature of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration’s (“NOAA”) Unified Messaging System (i.e., NOAA’s Google-hosted agency e-mail platform). According to a March 2012 handbook, “[p]er the decision of NOAA General Counsel,” communications through Google Chat (or Google Hangouts) “will be considered ‘off the record’ and will not be recorded in anyway.” Records concerning the Office of General Counsel’s (“OGC”) “decision,” in this respect, are responsive to CoA Institute’s request, as are other records reflecting agency-wide guidance on the retention of chat/instant or text messages created or received through NOAA’s Google-hosted e-mail platform.”

We have located 74 documents responsive to your request. You are granted full access to those records, and a copy is enclosed. Your request is now completed.

Although we do not consider this to be a denial of your request, and although we are aware you have already commenced litigation on this matter, you have the right to file an administrative appeal if you are not satisfied with our response to your FOIA request. All appeals should include a statement of the reasons why you believe the FOIA response was not satisfactory. An appeal based on documents in this release must be received within 90 calendar days of the date of this response letter at the following address:
Assistant General Counsel for Litigation, Employment, and Oversight
U.S. Department of Commerce
Office of General Counsel
Room 5875
14th and Constitution Avenue, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20230
An appeal may also be sent by e-mail to FOIAAppeals@doc.gov, or by FOIAonline at https://foiaonline.regulations.gov/foia/action/public/home#.

For your appeal to be complete, it must include the following items:

- a copy of the original request,
- our response to your request,
- a statement explaining why the withheld records should be made available, and why the denial of the records was in error.
- “Freedom of Information Act Appeal” must appear on your appeal letter. It should also be written on your envelope, or e-mail subject line.

FOIA appeals posted to the e-mail box, FOIAonline, or Office after normal business hours will be deemed received on the next business day. If the 90th calendar day for submitting an appeal falls on a Saturday, Sunday or legal public holiday, an appeal received by 5:00 p.m., Eastern Time, the next business day will be deemed timely.

FOIA grants requesters the right to challenge an agency's final action in federal court. Before doing so, an adjudication of an administrative appeal is ordinarily required.

The Office of Government Information Services (OGIS), an office created within the National Archives and Records Administration, offers free mediation services to FOIA requesters. They may be contacted in any of the following ways:

Privacy Threshold Analysis (PTA)
For the Wallops Command and Data Acquisition Station Administrative Local Area Network (NOAA5032)

Version: 1.0
February 12, 2018
U.S. Department of Commerce Privacy Threshold Analysis

Unique Project Identifier: NOAA5032

Introduction: This Privacy Threshold Analysis (PTA) is a questionnaire to assist with determining if a Privacy Impact Assessment (PIA) is necessary for this IT system. This PTA is primarily based from the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) privacy guidance and the Department of Commerce (DOC) IT security/privacy policy. If questions arise or further guidance is needed in order to complete this PTA, please contact your Bureau Chief Privacy Officer (BCPO).

Description of the information system and its purpose:
(a) The Wallops Command and Data Acquisition Station (WCDAS) Administrative LAN (NOAA5032) is a General Support, office automation system that (b) is located within the WCDAS computer facility in Wallops Island, VA. (c) NOAA5032 relies on the NOAA NOC (NOAA 0200) for e-mail, and VPN access to NSOF (NOAA5044) for Internet connectivity. (d) The WCDAS Administrative LAN supports the NESDIS mission by providing IT resources to WCDAS personnel. Specifically, it is used to support electronic mail, purchasing, logistics, facility management, inventory, human resource, contract administration, general management functions and office automation functions (e) The WCDAS Administration LAN enables communication among OSPO and various NOAA groups to conduct administrative functions which include daily, weekly, monthly, and annual reports. The WCDAS Administration LAN is used to support electronic mail (GMAIL) through the use of Google, purchasing, logistics, facility management, inventory, human resource, contracts administration, general management functions, and office automation functions. (f) Types of data transiting thru or residing on the WCDAS Administration LAN include administrative email messages, data concerning time and attendance reports, status reports, travel orders, Federal grants, environmental monitoring, budget and capital planning, contingency planning, facilities management, workplace policy, human resources, goods acquisition, and IT infrastructure management. Data transiting or resident on the WCDAS Administrative LAN are typically in the form of e-mail messages, Excel spreadsheets, word processing documents, CAD drawings and simple databases resident on individual workstations. (g) The Users community of the WCDAS Administration LAN include management, technical, operations and administrative staff located at the Wallops Command and Data Acquisition Station. (h) Workstations located in the users’ offices are used by the operational personnel, to log into their own user accounts on the WCDAS Domain where they can perform various administrative functions, and print to local and / or network printers. (i) A dedicated DS-3 link provides the Wide Area Network (WAN) access from WCDAS Administration LAN to and from the Internet through the NOAA NOC.

15 C.F.R. section 4.6(b) requires NMFS to issue a written determination to EcoRights within twenty working days that this request was received and logged in by NMFS stating which of the requested records will, and which will not, be released and the reason for any denial of any portion of this request. As provided by 15 C.F.R. section 4.6(c), NMFS may extend this obligation by furnishing written notice to the requestor as soon as practicable stating the reasons for such extension and the date by which the office expects to be able to issue a determination. The period may be so extended only when absolutely necessary, only for the period required, and only when one or more of the following unusual circumstances require the extension: (1) there is a need to search for and collect the requested records from field facilities or other establishments that are separate from the office processing the request; (2) there is a need to search for, collect, and appropriately examine a voluminous amount of separate and distinct records which are demanded in a single request; or (3) there is a need for consultation, which shall be conducted with all practicable speed, with another agency having a substantial interest in the determination of the request or among two or more components of NMFS.

EcoRights requests that to the extent that NMFS can do so, EcoRights be furnished with electronic copies of the above documents in lieu of paper copies (to minimize the expense and burden of copying). EcoRights points out that FOIA requires NMFS to provide copies of requested documents "in any form or format requested by the person if the record is readily reproducible by the agency in that form or format." 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3)(B).
We request that NMFS provide electronic copies of its response to this request, as well as any responsive documents that NMFS is able to transmit via e-mail, to Christopher Hudak and Christopher Sproul and I at the following e-mail addresses:

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

ECOLOGICAL RIGHTS FOUNDATION, a non-profit corporation, Plaintiff,

v.

NATIONAL MARINE FISHERIES SERVICE,
    Defendant.

COMPLAINT FOR DECLARATORY AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF
Ecological Rights Foundation ("EcoRights") alleges as follows:

INTRODUCTION

1. EcoRights brings this action under the Freedom of Information Act ("FOIA"), which allows an aggrieved party to seek relief when documents are unlawfully withheld, and authorizes a reviewing court to enjoin the agency from withholding records and to order the production of any agency records improperly withheld from the complainant. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(B). EcoRights seeks declaratory and injunctive relief for FOIA violations by the National Marine Fisheries Service ("NMFS"). At issue in this case is a FOIA request to NMFS seeking documents related to NMFS West Coast Region's Endangered Species Act ("ESA") Section 7 consultations with the Army Corps of Engineers ("Corps") and NMFS's regulatory oversight of Corps operations and infrastructure on the Yuba River that adversely impact spring run Chinook salmon, steelhead trout, and green sturgeon which are listed as a threatened species under the ESA. EcoRights alleges that NMFS: 1) failed to provide a final determination for EcoRights' administrative appeal within statutory time limits; 2) improperly withheld information not subject to specific, enumerated exemptions; 3) failed to provide legally adequate explanations for the withholding of requested information; 4) failed to promptly release non-exempt information responsive to EcoRight's FOIA request; 5) failed to segregate and release non-exempt information; and 6) failed to perform a reasonable, legally adequate search for responsive records.

JURISDICTION

2. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction under 5 U.S.C. section 552(a)(4)(B), which allows an aggrieved party to seek relief when records are unlawfully withheld, and authorizes a reviewing court to enjoin the agency from withholding records and to order the production of any agency records improperly withheld from the complainant.

3. This Court has personal jurisdiction over NMFS and its officials because NMFS, a branch of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration ("NOAA"), is an agency of the federal government operating within the United States.
VENUE

4. Venue in the United States District for the Northern District of California is proper under 5 U.S.C. section 552(a)(4)(B) because the complainant has its principal place of business in the Northern District, and many of the records sought by complainants are most likely situated in the NMFS and NOAA offices located within the Northern District.

INTRADISTRICT ASSIGNMENT

5. Intradistrict assignment of this matter to the San Francisco Division of the Court is appropriate pursuant to Civil Local Rule 3-2(d) because EcoRights’ principal place of business is located in Garberville, California.

THE PARTIES

6. Ecological Rights Foundation ("EcoRights") is a non-profit, public benefit corporation, organized under the laws of the State of California, devoted to furthering the rights of all people to a clean, healthful and biologically diverse environment. To further its environmental advocacy goals, EcoRights actively seeks federal and state agency implementation of state and federal wildlife-related laws, and as necessary, directly initiates enforcement actions on behalf of itself and its members.

7. Defendant NMFS, a division of the Department of Commerce, is the agency of the United States Government responsible for administering and implementing the ESA for anadromous fisheries and generally is responsible for the stewardship of the nation's living marine resources and their habitat.

STATUTORY BACKGROUND

8. FOIA requires that an agency disclose records to any person except where the records fall under a specifically enumerated exemption. 5 U.S.C. § 552. The courts have emphasized the narrow scope of these exemptions and “the strong policy of the FOIA that the public is entitled to know what its government is doing and why.” Coastal States Gas Corp. v. Dep’t of Energy, 617 F.2d 854, 868 (D.C. Cir. 1980).

9. FOIA requires that an agency, upon any request for records, shall make the records available promptly. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3)(A). An agency shall make a determination whether to comply with a request within twenty (20) business days after the receipt of the request and shall immediately notify the party making the request of such determination, the reasons for the determination, and the party's right to appeal. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i). In unusual circumstances, the agency may extend the time for the determination, for no more than ten (10) days, by written notice to the party, specifying the reasons for the extension and the date on which the determination is expected to be sent. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(B)(i).

10. Federal agencies are under a duty to conduct a reasonable search for records responsive to a party's request using methods that can be reasonably expected to produce the information requested to the extent they exist. 5 U.S.C. § 522(a)(3)(C).

11. When an agency decides to withhold records under a claim of exemption it must notify the person making such request of such determination and the reasons therefor. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i). Government agencies bear the burden of proof to show that any withheld documents are exempt from the duty to disclose. 5 U.S.C. § 522(a)(4)(B).

12. A party may appeal to the head of the agency any adverse determination. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i). An agency shall make a determination with respect to any appeal within twenty (20) business days after the receipt of such appeal. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(ii). If an agency does not respond within the FOIA time limits, a party will be deemed to have exhausted its administrative remedies. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(C)(i).

13. On June 30, 2016, President Obama signed into law the FOIA Improvement Act of 2016. The Act made significant amendments to FOIA, effective as of enactment on June 30, 2016. 5 U.S.C. § 522, § 6; OIP Summary of the FOIA Improvement Act of 2016. The amendments include changes to the standard by which NMFS must evaluate withholdings. The FOIA Improvement Act of 2016 dictates that agencies shall withhold information only if disclosure would harm an interest protected by an exemption what is referred to as the “foreseeable harm standard.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(8)(A)(i); OIP Summary of the FOIA Improvement Act of 2016.

14. Additionally, FOIA requires an agency to consider partial disclosure whenever the agency determines that a full disclosure of a requested record is not possible and to take reasonable steps necessary to segregate and release nonexempt information. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(8)(A).
15. An agency’s process for dealing with FOIA requests constitutes “withholding” if its net effect is significantly to impair the requester’s ability to obtain the records or significantly increase the amount of time he or she must wait to obtain them. McGehee, III v. Central Intelligence Agency, 697 F.2d 1095, 1110 (D.C. Cir. 1983), vacated in part on other grounds, 711 F.2d 1076 (1983).

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

NMFS’s Response to EcoRights’ December 6, 2016 FOIA Request

16. On December 6, 2016 EcoRights, via counsel, sent a FOIA request to NMFS seeking three categories of documents: 1) documents containing input NMFS West Coast Region staff provided to NOAA headquarters detailing the impacts of an Army Corps of Engineers ("Corps") memo known as the Stockdale Memo. The Stockdale Memo laid out strict guidelines limiting Corps ESA Section 7 consultations with NMFS and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service; 2) documents to or from NMFS counsel Chris Kiefer related to a draft letter from NMFS to the Corps entitled “Endangered Species Act Section 7(a)(2) Concurrence Letter for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers’ (Corps) Ongoing Operation and Maintenance of Englebright Dam and Reservoir on the Yuba River;” and 3) documents in the possession of any NOAA Fisheries Office, Department and/or Division, including any NOAA law enforcement division, related to whether any entities or individuals are causing or have caused unauthorized take of threatened or endangered fish species in the Yuba River in the vicinity of Englebright Dam and Daguerre Point Dam.

17. On December 14, 2016 NMFS sent a letter to EcoRights counsel, Christopher Hudak, acknowledging receipt of the request on December 12, 2016 and assigning it tracking number DOC-NOAA-2017-000257. The acknowledgement letter stated that NMFS was extending the time for its response by ten business days because the agency needed to search for and collect the requested records from field facilities or other establishments separate from the office processing the request.

18. On February 13, 2017 NMFS sent EcoRights its final determination partially granting and partially denying EcoRights' request. NMFS stated it had located 309 documents responsive to the request and had released 239 of these documents in their entirety, via FOIAonline. Fifty-four documents... were partially withheld under attorney work product, attorney client privilege, deliberative process exemptions pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552(b)(5) ("Exemption 5") and the right to privacy exemption pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(6) ("Exemption 6"). The final determination also stated that 16 documents that had originated from other agencies were referred to those agencies for release determination and direct response to EcoRights.

19. On March 10, 2017 EcoRights timely appealed NMFS's final determination to the Office of the General Counsel of the Department of Commerce ("DOC Counsel"). EcoRights' administrative appeal contended that NMFS: 1) had failed to make a reasonable search for responsive documents; 2) had improperly withheld documents under vague and unjustified claims of deliberative process and attorney-client privilege exemptions; 3) had withheld information with no exemption claim; 4) had not shown the existence of foreseeable harm to an interest protected by Exemptions 5 and 6 that would permit the agency to withhold information under these exemptions; and 5) had failed to segregate factual material and make partial disclosures where possible.

20. EcoRights' appeal contended NMFS's search was inadequate because none of the documents NMFS had released were from the NOAA Office of Law Enforcement ("OLE") although EcoRights had specifically asked for OLE documents and EcoRights had reason to know that at least one OLE agent had responsive documents.

21. The 20 business days deadline for NMFS to provide its final determination for EcoRights' appeal was April 7, 2017.

22. On July 18, 2017 NMFS posted to FOIAonline two redacted emails, apparently from the OLE. EcoRights was not notified that NMFS had released these two OLE documents on FOIAonline.
The two emails had information redacted pursuant to Exemption 6 and Exemption 7 (5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(7)(C).

23. On October 2, 2017 EcoRights' counsel sent an email to NMFS FOIA officers and the DOC Counsel's office requesting an update on the status of the appeal. The DOC Counsel and NMFS did not respond.
24. On October 25, 2017 EcoRights’ counsel sent another email to NMFS FOIA officers and the DOC Counsel's office which requested that NMFS provide the final appeal determination by November 3, 2017 and warned that if the determination was not provided by that date EcoRights might seek judicial relief.

25. On October 30, 2017 Michael Bogomolny, Acting Chief, Information Law Division, of the DOC Counsel's Office responded to EcoRights' October 25, 2017 request and stated that he expected EcoRights would have the appeal determination "this week." However, the DOC Counsel's office did not provide the appeal determination that week.

26. On January 31, 2018 EcoRights' counsel sent another email to the DOC Counsel's office requesting a status update. Mr. Bogomolny responded that same day and stated he would provide "a full status update before the end of the week." However, he did not. Instead, on February 2, 2018 he sent yet another email stating he was "committing to releasing a final determination of the appeal in this matter next week." However he did not release the determination that week.

27. As of the date of this Complaint the DOC Counsel has not released the appeal final determination and it is 309 days overdue.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF
NMFS Violation of FOIA
5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(6)(ii) and 552(a)(3)(A)
Request for Declaratory Relief

28. EcoRights reasserts and realleges paragraphs 1 through 27 above.

29. NMFS has violated 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(ii) by failing to provide a final determination for EcoRights' appeal within 20 business days after receipt of the appeal. EcoRights timely submitted the appeal on March 10, 2017. FOIA required NMFS to provide its appeal determination by April 7, 2017. However, NMFS did not provide the determination by April 7, 2017 and as of the date of this Complaint the appeal determination is 309 days overdue.

30. EcoRights has constructively exhausted its administrative remedies given NMFS's failure to provide its appeal determination within FOIA’s statutory time limits. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(C)(i).
SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF
NMFS Violation of FOIA
Request for Declaratory Relief and Injunction to Compel NMFS to Comply with FOIA
Requirement to Release Documents Unless a Valid Exemption Applies

31. EcoRights reasserts and realleges paragraphs 1 through 30 above.

32. NMFS has violated 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(8)(A) by withholding documents under invalid and unjustified claims of exemption under 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(b)(5), (b)(6), and b(7)(C). NMFS may not withhold documents unless foreseeable harm will occur to an interest protected by an enumerated exemption. 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(8)(A)(i). NMFS has not shown that such foreseeable harm exists. NMFS has also violated 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(8)(A)'s mandate that NMFS segregate and release non-exempt information. NMFS has redacted the entire substantive contents of 67 pages of information under attorney-client privilege and deliberative process exemptions without an adequate showing that NMFS attempted to segregate and release the non-exempt information in these pages.

33. NMFS has also violated FOIA by failing to comply with the 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i) requirement that the agency provide enough information, presented with sufficient detail, clarity, and verification, so that the requester can fairly determine what has not been produced and why. Exemptions are read narrowly and NMFS bears the burden of proving exemptions apply, which it has failed to do. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(b). NMFS has failed to identify the specific exemption claimed for several documents that were redacted. Several documents identify Exemption 5 as the exemption claimed. However Exemption 5 could mean attorney work product, attorney-client privilege, or deliberative process. One document is redacted without any basis for the withholding identified.

34. NMFS’s improper withholding of nonexempt documents also violates 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3)(A)'s mandate that requested records be promptly released unless they fall within one of FOIA's specifically enumerated disclosure exemptions. It has been eleven months since EcoRights submitted its appeal. Except for two redacted emails released 18 weeks after the appeal (not promptly), NMFS continues to withhold documents, without justifying they are exempt from disclosure.
THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF
NMFS Violation of FOIA
5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(3)(c)
Request for Declaratory Relief and Injunction to Compel NMFS to Perform a Reasonable Search

35. EcoRights reasserts and realleges paragraphs 1 through 34 above.

36. NMFS has violated 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3)(C) by failing to conduct a reasonable, legally adequate search for records responsive to EcoRights request. NMFS's search was inadequate because none of the documents NMFS initially released were from the OLE although EcoRights had specifically asked for OLE documents and EcoRights had reason to know that at least one OLE agent had responsive documents. After EcoRights submitted its appeal, NMFS released two emails, one apparently to an OLE agent and one apparently from an OLE agent. EcoRights makes these assumptions because the names of the sender and recipient have been redacted under Exemptions 6 and 7. The emails concern take of listed salmon and steelhead in the Yuba River. One of the emails indicates the OLE is likely to have more documents responsive to EcoRights' request, but NMFS failed to locate them because of its inadequate search.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, EcoRights seeks the following relief:

a. A declaratory judgment pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552 declaring that NMFS violated FOIA by failing to provide the final determination for EcoRights' appeal in accordance with FOIA's statutory deadline;

b. A declaratory judgment that NMFS' failure to provide the appeal determination within the statutory deadline and produce non-exempt records promptly as required by FOIA constitutes illegal withholding of records;

c. A declaratory judgment pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552 that NMFS violated FOIA by: improperly withholding records that are not exempt from disclosure; failing to adequately explain how and why withheld information falls within a particular exemption; failing to adequately explain how disclosure would foreseeably harm interests protected by claimed exemptions; and failing to segregate and disclose non-exempt requested information;
d. A declaratory judgment that NMFS failed to perform a reasonable, legally adequate search for documents responsive to EcoRight's request;

e. An injunction pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(B) ordering NMFS to: 1) conduct a reasonable, legally adequate search for records responsive to EcoRights' FOIA request within 20 days; 2) produce all non-exempt records in NMFS' possession responsive to EcoRights FOIA request within 30 days; and 3) provide EcoRights with a detailed, legally adequate explanation for the withholding of any information responsive to Ecorights FOIA request within 30 days;

f. An award of attorneys fees and costs to EcoRights pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(E); and

g. Such other and further relief as this Court deems just and proper.

DISCLOSURE OF NON-PARTY INTERESTED ENTITIES OR PERSONS

Based on Econights' knowledge to date, pursuant to Civil Local Rule 3-15, the undersigned certifies that, as of this date, other than the named parties, there is no such interest to report.

Fee Waiver Requested

Dear Sir/Madam,

Records Requested
Pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, through this office Stop Geoengineering Minnesota (“SGM”), requests all records\(^1\) from January 1, 2015 to the present discussing, documenting, memorializing, or otherwise concerning:
(1) weather modification within the Weather Service Organization Workforce Analysis;
(2) the reason for adoption of the confidentiality provision of the “Operations and Workforce Analysis (OWA) Project: Charter for All Workstream Core Teams” a copy of which is attached hereto;

Fee Waiver Requested
Stop Geoengineering Minnesota (“SGM”) requests that the Department of Commerce waive any applicable fees because disclosure meets the statutory standard for waiver of fees in that it is “in the public interest because furnishing the information can be considered as primarily benefitting the general public,” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A). SGM is a project of the non-profit Minnesota Natural Health Coalition. SGM is itself a non-profit entity whose purpose is to educate the public about how geoengineering and weather modification can impact public health. SGM has no intention to use the information sought in furtherance of any commercial interest.

\(^1\) “Records,” includes all documents, correspondence, including email; agency guidelines and policies; memoranda; agency Memoranda of Understanding; notices, comments, and responses to comments; biological, scientific, and other studies; reports; environmental analyses; surveys; timelines; charts; graphs; maps; analyses; data; meeting minutes and agendas; distribution lists; notes and transcripts of meetings and conversations; and any other relevant information, whether in hard copy or electronic/computer format.

(1) The Subject of the Request. The requested records concern the activities of the Department of Commerce and other government agencies regarding weather modification. The subject matter of this request therefore involves information that will significantly contribute to the public’s understanding of the government’s operations and activities in regards to weather modification.

(2) The Informative Value of the Information to Be Disclosed. The requested records are likely to contribute to an understanding of government operations or activities. The Department of Commerce is involved in weather modification activities and research. The requested records will provide insight into the Department of Commerce’s process for implementing and regulating weather modification. Many of the requested records may contain information that is not currently available to the general public; therefore, release of the requested records would represent a significant new contribution to the public domain. For these reasons, the requested records will be highly informative in relation to the subject matter of the request, and will further public understanding.

(3) Contribution to General Public Understanding. SGM’s mission is to educate the public about how geoengineering and weather modification can impact public health. SGM makes this request for the purposes of providing information about governmental activities and standards, including those of Department of Commerce, to concerned members of the public. SGM is interested in the requested records because they will likely help SGM and the public better understand the methods and procedures which the Department of Commerce has for implementing and regulating weather modification.

(4) The Significance of the Contribution to Public Understanding. The requested records are likely to contribute significantly to public understanding of government operations or activities. SGM will disseminate the disclosed records to a reasonably broad audience of persons interested in the subject. SGM regularly informs, educates and counsels the public regarding weather modification and government involvement in implementing and regulating weather modification. The subject of this FOIA request will be used to contribute to one or more of the following: public presentations, news stories contributed to or written by SGM volunteers and/or members, and/or websites (http://www.minnesotanaturalhealth.org/stopgeoengineeringmn.html and http://stopgeoengineeringmn.squarespace.com). Exactly which of these uses of the information addressed in this FOIA request will be determined after complete review of the requested material. SGM’s members, volunteers, and counsel bring a broad range of expertise, skills, and familiarity with weather modification that will enable SGM to review and understand the responsive records and to supply this information in a coherent and understandable way to the general public and the media. SGM can draw on scientists, attorneys, and others to review and summarize this information. SGM certainly has the necessary qualifications relevant to any use of the records that may come about upon reviewing them. SGM’s contribution to the public understanding, as compared to the level of understanding prior to disclosure, as well as SGM’s intent to inform the public, are well established. Moreover, many of the records requested may not have been publicly released to date. A requester is likely to contribute significantly to the public understanding if the information disclosed is new; supports public oversight of agency operations; or otherwise confirms or clarifies data on past or present operations of the government. 132 Cong. Rec. H9464 (Reps. English and Kindness).

(5) The Existence and Magnitude of a Commercial Interest. SGM has no commercial interest that would be furthered by the requested disclosure. SGM is a non-profit entity and requests the information to further its scientific, legal, and educational efforts. The FOIA fee waiver amendments of 1986 were designed specifically to allow nonprofit, public interest groups, such as SGM, access to government records without the payment of fees. FOIA’s fee waiver provision is to be liberally construed in favor of waivers for noncommercial requesters.

Department of Commerce Response
Please submit responsive records, along with an index for any records withheld that clearly identifies the basis for withholding, to the letterhead address above. Please segregate any records you determine are exempt and provide the remainder and the reasons for not providing all of the responsive records.

The basic time limit for responding to FOIA requests is twenty work days. See 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A). This time limit can be extended under certain limited circumstances for at most an additional ten working days. See id. at § 552(a)(6)(B).

Please provide all responsive documents that are in the files maintained by Department of Commerce personnel or offices on the date that Department of Commerce staff conducts their searches for the documents responsive to this request. SGM requests that to the extent that the Department of Commerce can do so, it furnish electronic copies of the above documents in lieu of paper copies (to minimize the expense and burden of copying). 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3)(B) (note, as amended in 1996 FOIA mandates that “an agency shall provide the record in any form or format requested by the person if the record is readily reproducible by the agency in that form or format.”)

Please contact this office if you have any questions regarding the scope of this request, the nature of the records sought, or any other aspect of this request. I look forward to hearing from you.

By signing below, I certify that the reasons provided for a fee waiver are true and correct.

Sincerely,

Brian Gaffney

Operations and Workforce Analysis (OWA) Project: Charter for All Workstream Core Teams

The National Weather Service (NWS) Operations and Workforce Analysis (OWA) project is supported by four “Core Teams” that are each focused on one of the following topics:

- Communications and stakeholder engagement
- Organizational structure
- Operating model (including Impact-based Decision Support Services or IDSS)
- Workforce analysis

The membership of the Core Teams include NWS employees from across the organization who were approved for participation by NWS leadership. They also include National Weather Service Employees Organization (NWSEO) bargaining unit members who were recommended by NWSEO for each workstream. McKinsey & Company, which is working as an independent third-party consultant for NWS, is also participating on the teams. The Core Teams will provide essential support to the overall OWA project. This charter will establish the scope of activities and responsibilities of the Core Teams.

The main activities of the Core Teams are to:

1. Support the Operations and Workforce Committee (OWC)\(^1\) in reviewing project analyses, developing and assessing options for the OWA, and answering questions or replying to requests for additional information.
2. Assist and collaborate with NWS OWA project leadership and McKinsey as they conduct their assessment of the NWS to ensure a collaborative and customized approach while preserving objectivity and independence. This collaboration could include participation in data calls, working groups, and/or research, and through providing guidance on action steps to take leading up to OWC\(^2\) meetings.
3. Augment and support the data, information, perspectives, and ideas collected through application of individual expertise, experience, and insights (e.g., adding the perspective of Weather Forecast Offices, recommending subject matter experts (SME) for specific topics).
4. Review and engage on McKinsey’s methodologies, insights, results and recommendations for accuracy and suggest changes if needed. To ensure an unbiased assessment, McKinsey will have final determination on the content presented to the OWC but it will be developed in a joint and collaborative effort with the Core Teams and subject matter experts.

Expectations for each member of the Core Teams include the following (may be adapted as needed, and notice will be given to ensure awareness and agreement with any changes):

- Confidentiality: Core Team members, consultants, and SMEs are expected to maintain at all times the highest level of privacy and confidentiality regarding all information and materials shared as part of the OWA project, including initial findings and of all Core Team discussions, unless otherwise indicated (e.g., to share an approved project update that is intended to reach all NWS staff). Any interim reports or materials are considered to be drafts and are not to be shared beyond the Core Team and any consultants or SMEs who are providing independent advice. Core Team members will indicate their understanding of this requirement by signing this Charter. Consultants and SMEs will be covered as appropriate by separate non-disclosure agreements.

- Commitment: Core Team members are expected to fully participate in regular team meetings (in person or as conference calls, depending on location); in addition they are responsible for completing document reviews, communication steps and other actions between meetings.

- Role: Core Team members are critical to the OWA in contributing insights in their areas of expertise, conducting analyses of surveys and interviews and generating input / data / that can inform the options and reports that McKinsey provides to the OWC.

- Scope: The Core Team activities are pre-decisional, only. In this capacity Core Team members provide input / data / guidance, serving a critical role as action-oriented groups such that when decisions are made (e.g., the approval of language for a survey or information for the website), the teams will be responsible for next steps.

- Support: The Core Teams will call on and engage with a cohort of Subject Matter Experts (SMEs) within the organization when needed to address specific questions, analyses or provide other expert insight.

- Duration: The Core Teams will be in place through Phase II of the OWA project and will be considered for extended participation Phase III based on availability, interest and relevance to their area of expertise. Phase II will extend through approximately mid-October of 2015.

If you, or another Core Team member, have any questions or concerns about the Core Team Charter or other aspects of your participation, please contact Joanne Swanson Kagan, NWS OWA Project leader, at joanne.swanson@noaa.gov; Direct: 301-427-9066 or Cell: 240-393-0415. Thank you for your service to this project.

I have reviewed the Operations and Workforce Analysis (OWA) Project: Charter for All Workstream Core Teams, and I confirm that I will strictly maintain the confidentiality of all information in accordance with the Charter.

Good Morning,

The February 2018 Monthly FOIA Report is attached. Several highlights include:

- The backlog has continued to move higher. With a backlog currently at 91, our backlog is 44% higher than our all time low hit in April of last year. The higher backlog is a result of several factors, including increased FOIA submissions across the Department, and delays in FOIAOnline processing. It is imperative that we renew the push to drive down the backlog and improve NOAA’s overall compliance with timely response and production requirements.

- Several offices, including AGO, OAR, and CAO, are facing increased submission rates, and as a result, their backlog is much higher than ordinarily seen in those offices. Average closure rates in those offices have been difficult to improve with their limited resources.

DOC/GC has indicated that FOIA lawsuits currently are being filed at a rate 550% of the rate seen from FY 2013 2016 across the department. Other scientific and environmental agencies are seeing similar spikes in FOIA lawsuits. For example, as of February, year over year, EPA has seen a 311% increase in FOIA lawsuits, and DOI has seen a 600% increase in FOIA lawsuits.

A new FOIA complaint was filed by the Ecological Rights Foundation in the Northern District of California. NOAA completed production on February, 2017, and the requester appealed NOAA’s final response. The Plaintiff is challenging the constructive denial on the response to their administrative appeal to DOC, the Exemption applicability, and NOAA’s search adequacy. A copy of the original request and the complaint filed in California are attached.

NATIONAL MARINE FISHERIES SERVICE,

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

COMPLAINT FOR DECLARATORY AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF
Ecological Rights Foundation ("EcoRights") alleges as follows:

INTRODUCTION

1. EcoRights brings this action under the Freedom of Information Act ("FOIA"), which allows an aggrieved party to seek relief when documents are unlawfully withheld, and authorizes a reviewing court to enjoin the agency from withholding records and to order the production of any agency records improperly withheld from the complainant. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(B). EcoRights seeks declaratory and injunctive relief for FOIA violations by the National Marine Fisheries Service ("NMFS"). At issue in this case is a FOIA request to NMFS seeking documents related to NMFS West Coast Region's Endangered Species Act ("ESA") Section 7 consultations with the Army Corps of Engineers ("Corps") and NMFS's regulatory oversight of Corps operations and infrastructure on the Yuba River that adversely impact spring run Chinook salmon, steelhead trout, and green sturgeon which are listed as a threatened species under the ESA. EcoRights alleges that NMFS: 1) failed to provide a final determination for EcoRights' administrative appeal within statutory time limits; 2) improperly withheld information not subject to specific, enumerated exemptions; 3) failed to provide legally adequate explanations for the withholding of requested information; 4) failed to promptly release non-exempt information responsive to EcoRight's FOIA request; 5) failed to segregate and release non-exempt information; and 6) failed to perform a reasonable, legally adequate search for responsive records.

JURISDICTION

2. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction under 5 U.S.C. section 552(a)(4)(B), which allows an aggrieved party to seek relief when records are unlawfully withheld, and authorizes a reviewing court to enjoin the agency from withholding records and to order the production of any agency records improperly withheld from the complainant.

3. This Court has personal jurisdiction over NMFS and its officials because NMFS, a branch of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration ("NOAA"), is an agency of the federal government operating within the United States.
VENUE

4. Venue in the United States District for the Northern District of California is proper under 5 U.S.C. section 552(a)(4)(B) because the complainant has its principal place of business in the Northern District, and many of the records sought by complainants are most likely situated in the NMFS and NOAA offices located within the Northern District.

INTRADISTRICT ASSIGNMENT

5. Intradistrict assignment of this matter to the San Francisco Division of the Court is appropriate pursuant to Civil Local Rule 3-2(d) because EcoRights’ principal place of business is located in Garberville, California.

THE PARTIES

6. Ecological Rights Foundation ("EcoRights") is a non-profit, public benefit corporation, organized under the laws of the State of California, devoted to furthering the rights of all people to a clean, healthful and biologically diverse environment. To further its environmental advocacy goals, EcoRights actively seeks federal and state agency implementation of state and federal wildlife-related laws, and as necessary, directly initiates enforcement actions on behalf of itself and its members.

7. Defendant NMFS, a division of the Department of Commerce, is the agency of the United States Government responsible for administering and implementing the ESA for anadromous fisheries and generally is responsible for the stewardship of the nation's living marine resources and their habitat.

STATUTORY BACKGROUND

8. FOIA requires that an agency disclose records to any person except where the records fall under a specifically enumerated exemption. 5 U.S.C. § 552. The courts have emphasized the narrow scope of these exemptions and “the strong policy of the FOIA that the public is entitled to know what its government is doing and why.” Coastal States Gas Corp. v. Dep’t of Energy, 617 F.2d 854, 868 (D.C. Cir. 1980).

9. FOIA requires that an agency, upon any request for records, shall make the records available promptly. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3)(A). An agency shall make a determination whether to comply with a request within twenty (20) business days after the receipt of the request and shall immediately notify the party making the request of such determination, the reasons for the determination, and the party's right to appeal. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i). In unusual circumstances, the agency may extend the time for the determination, for no more than ten (10) days, by written notice to the party, specifying the reasons for the extension and the date on which the determination is expected to be sent. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(B)(i).

10. Federal agencies are under a duty to conduct a reasonable search for records responsive to a party's request using methods that can be reasonably expected to produce the information requested to

11. When an agency decides to withhold records under a claim of exemption it must notify the person making such request of such determination and the reasons therefor. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i).
the duty to disclose. 5 U.S.C. § 522(a)(4)(B).

12. A party may appeal to the head of the agency any adverse determination. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i). An agency shall make a determination with respect to any appeal within twenty (20) business days after the receipt of such appeal. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(ii). If an agency does not respond within the FOIA time limits, a party will be deemed to have exhausted its administrative remedies.

13. On June 30, 2016, President Obama signed into law the FOIA Improvement Act of 2016. The Act made significant amendments to FOIA, effective as of enactment on June 30, 2016. 5 U.S.C. § 522, § 6; OIP Summary of the FOIA Improvement Act of 2016. The amendments include changes to the standard by which NMFS must evaluate withholdings. The FOIA Improvement Act of 2016 dictates that agencies shall withhold information only if disclosure would harm an interest protected by an exemption what is referred to as the “foreseeable harm standard.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(8)(A)(i); OIP Summary of the FOIA Improvement Act of 2016.

14. Additionally, FOIA requires an agency to consider partial disclosure whenever the agency determines that a full disclosure of a requested record is not possible and to take reasonable steps
15. An agency’s process for dealing with FOIA requests constitutes “withholding” if its net effect is significantly to impair the requester’s ability to obtain the records or significantly increase the amount of time he or she must wait to obtain them. McGehee, III v. Central Intelligence Agency, 697 F.2d 1095, 1110 (D.C. Cir. 1983), vacated in part on other grounds, 711 F.2d 1076 (1983).

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

NMFS's Response to EcoRights’ December 6, 2016 FOIA Request

16. On December 6, 2016 EcoRights, via counsel, sent a FOIA request to NMFS seeking three categories of documents: 1) documents containing input NMFS West Coast Region staff provided to NOAA headquarters detailing the impacts of an Army Corps of Engineers ("Corps") memo known as the Stockdale Memo. The Stockdale Memo laid out strict guidelines limiting Corps ESA Section 7 consultations with NMFS and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service; 2) documents to or from NMFS counsel Chris Kiefer related to a draft letter from NMFS to the Corps entitled “Endangered Species Act Section 7(a)(2) Concurrence Letter for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers’ (Corps) Ongoing Operation and Maintenance of Englebright Dam and Reservoir on the Yuba River;” and 3) documents in the possession of any NOAA Fisheries Office, Department and/or Division, including any NOAA law enforcement division, related to whether any entities or individuals are causing or have caused unauthorized take of threatened or endangered fish species in the Yuba River in the vicinity of Englebright Dam and Daguere Point Dam.

17. On December 14, 2016 NMFS sent a letter to EcoRights counsel, Christopher Hudak, acknowledging receipt of the request on December 12, 2016 and assigning it tracking number DOC-NOAA-2017-000257. The acknowledgement letter stated that NMFS was extending the time for its response by ten business days because the agency needed to search for and collect the requested records from field facilities or other establishments separate from the office processing the request.

18. On February 13, 2017 NMFS sent EcoRights its final determination partially granting and partially denying EcoRights' request. NMFS stated it had located 309 documents responsive to the request and had released 239 of these documents in their entirety, via FOIAonline. Fifty-four documents... were partially withheld under attorney work product, attorney client privilege, deliberative process exemptions pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552(b)(5) ("Exemption 5") and the right to privacy exemption pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(6) ("Exemption 6"). The final determination also stated that 16 documents that had originated from other agencies were referred to those agencies for release determination and direct response to EcoRights.

19. On March 10, 2017 EcoRights timely appealed NMFS's final determination to the Office of the General Counsel of the Department of Commerce ("DOC Counsel"). EcoRights' administrative appeal contended that NMFS: 1) had failed to make a reasonable search for responsive documents; 2) had improperly withheld documents under vague and unjustified claims of deliberative process and attorney-client privilege exemptions; 3) had withheld information with no exemption claim; 4) had not shown the existence of foreseeable harm to an interest protected by Exemptions 5 and 6 that would permit the agency to withhold information under these exemptions; and 5) had failed to segregate factual material and make partial disclosures where possible.

20. EcoRights' appeal contended NMFS's search was inadequate because none of the documents NMFS had released were from the NOAA Office of Law Enforcement ("OLE") although EcoRights had specifically asked for OLE documents and EcoRights had reason to know that at least one OLE agent had responsive documents.

21. The 20 business days deadline for NMFS to provide its final determination for EcoRights' appeal was April 7, 2017.

22. On July 18, 2017 NMFS posted to FOIAonline two redacted emails, apparently from the OLE. EcoRights was not notified that NMFS had released these two OLE documents on FOIAonline.
 The two emails had information redacted pursuant to Exemption 6 and Exemption 7 (5 U.S.C. §
 552(b)(7)(C).

23. On October 2, 2017 EcoRights' counsel sent an email to NMFS FOIA officers and the DOC Counsel's office requesting an update on the status of the appeal. The DOC Counsel and NMFS did not respond.
24. On October 25, 2017 EcoRights' counsel sent another email to NMFS FOIA officers and the DOC Counsel's office which requested that NMFS provide the final appeal determination by November 3, 2017 and warned that if the determination was not provided by that date EcoRights might seek judicial relief.

25. On October 30, 2017 Michael Bogomolny, Acting Chief, Information Law Division, of the DOC Counsel's Office responded to EcoRights' October 25, 2017 request and stated that he expected EcoRights would have the appeal determination "this week." However, the DOC Counsel's office did not provide the appeal determination that week.

26. On January 31, 2018 EcoRights' counsel sent another email to the DOC Counsel's office requesting a status update. Mr. Bogomolny responded that same day and stated he would provide "a full status update before the end of the week." However, he did not. Instead, on February 2, 2018 he sent yet another email stating he was "committing to releasing a final determination of the appeal in this matter next week." However he did not release the determination that week.

27. As of the date of this Complaint the DOC Counsel has not released the appeal final determination and it is 309 days overdue.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

NMFS Violation of FOIA
5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(6)(ii) and 552(a)(3)(A)
Request for Declaratory Relief

28. EcoRights reasserts and realleges paragraphs 1 through 27 above.

29. NMFS has violated 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(ii) by failing to provide a final determination for EcoRights' appeal within 20 business days after receipt of the appeal. EcoRights timely submitted the appeal on March 10, 2017. FOIA required NMFS to provide its appeal determination by April 7, 2017. However, NMFS did not provide the determination by April 7, 2017 and as of the date of this Complaint the appeal determination is 309 days overdue.

30. EcoRights has constructively exhausted its administrative remedies given NMFS's failure to provide its appeal determination within FOIA's statutory time limits. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(C)(i).
SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF
NMFS Violation of FOIA
Request for Declaratory Relief and Injunction to Compel NMFS to Comply with FOIA
Requirement to Release Documents Unless a Valid Exemption Applies

31. EcoRights reasserts and realleges paragraphs 1 through 30 above.

32. NMFS has violated 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(8)(A) by withholding documents under invalid and unjustified claims of exemption under 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(b)(5), (b)(6), and b(7)(C). NMFS may not withhold documents unless foreseeable harm will occur to an interest protected by an enumerated exemption. 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(8)(A)(i). NMFS has not shown that such foreseeable harm exists. NMFS has also violated 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(8)(A)'s mandate that NMFS segregate and release non-exempt information. NMFS has redacted the entire substantive contents of 67 pages of information under attorney-client privilege and deliberative process exemptions without an adequate showing that NMFS attempted to segregate and release the non-exempt information in these pages.

33. NMFS has also violated FOIA by failing to comply with the 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i) requirement that the agency provide enough information, presented with sufficient detail, clarity, and verification, so that the requester can fairly determine what has not been produced and why. Exemptions are read narrowly and NMFS bears the burden of proving exemptions apply, which it has failed to do. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(b). NMFS has failed to identify the specific exemption claimed for several documents that were redacted. Several documents identify Exemption 5 as the exemption claimed. However Exemption 5 could mean attorney work product, attorney-client privilege, or deliberative process. One document is redacted without any basis for the withholding identified.

34. NMFS's improper withholding of nonexempt documents also violates 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3)(A)'s mandate that requested records be promptly released unless they fall within one of FOIA's specifically enumerated disclosure exemptions. It has been eleven months since EcoRights submitted its appeal. Except for two redacted emails released 18 weeks after the appeal (not promptly), NMFS continues to withhold documents, without justifying they are exempt from disclosure.
THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF
NMFS Violation of FOIA
5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(3)(c)
Request for Declaratory Relief and Injunction to Compel NMFS to Perform a Reasonable Search

35. EcoRights reasserts and realleges paragraphs 1 through 34 above.

36. NMFS has violated 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3)(C) by failing to conduct a reasonable, legally adequate search for records responsive to EcoRights request. NMFS's search was inadequate because none of the documents NMFS initially released were from the OLE although EcoRights had specifically asked for OLE documents and EcoRights had reason to know that at least one OLE agent had responsive documents. After EcoRights submitted its appeal, NMFS released two emails, one apparently to an OLE agent and one apparently from an OLE agent. EcoRights makes these assumptions because the names of the sender and recipient have been redacted under Exemptions 6 and 7. The emails concern take of listed salmon and steelhead in the Yuba River. One of the emails indicates the OLE is likely to have more documents responsive to EcoRights' request, but NMFS failed to locate them because of its inadequate search.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, EcoRights seeks the following relief:

a. A declaratory judgment pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552 declaring that NMFS violated FOIA by failing to provide the final determination for EcoRights' appeal in accordance with FOIA's statutory deadline;

b. A declaratory judgment that NMFS' failure to provide the appeal determination within the statutory deadline and produce non-exempt records promptly as required by FOIA constitutes illegal withholding of records;

c. A declaratory judgment pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552 that NMFS violated FOIA by: improperly withholding records that are not exempt from disclosure; failing to adequately explain how and why withheld information falls within a particular exemption; failing to adequately explain how disclosure would foreseeably harm interests protected by claimed exemptions; and failing to segregate and disclose non-exempt requested information;
d. A declaratory judgment that NMFS failed to perform a reasonable, legally adequate search for documents responsive to EcoRight's request;

e. An injunction pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(B) ordering NMFS to: 1) conduct a reasonable, legally adequate search for records responsive to EcoRights' FOIA request within 20 days; 2) produce all non-exempt records in NMFS' possession responsive to EcoRights FOIA request within 30 days; and 3) provide EcoRights with a detailed, legally adequate explanation for the withholding of any information responsive to EcoRights FOIA request within 30 days;

f. An award of attorneys fees and costs to EcoRights pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(E); and

g. Such other and further relief as this Court deems just and proper.

DISCLOSURE OF NON-PARTY INTERESTED ENTITIES OR PERSONS

Based on EcoRights' knowledge to date, pursuant to Civil Local Rule 3-15, the undersigned certifies that, as of this date, other than the named parties, there is no such interest to report.

Respectfully Submitted,

How to Fix It
The address may be misspelled or may not exist. Try one or more of the following:

- Send the message again following these steps: In Outlook, open this non-delivery report (NDR) and choose Send Again from the Report ribbon. In Outlook on the web, select this NDR, then select the link "To send this message again, click here." Then delete and retype the entire recipient address. If prompted with an Auto-Complete List suggestion don't select it. After typing the complete address, click Send.
- Contact the recipient (by phone, for example) to check that the address exists and is correct.
- The recipient may have set up email forwarding to an incorrect address. Ask them to check that any forwarding they've set up is working correctly.
- Clear the recipient Auto-Complete List in Outlook or Outlook on the web by following the steps in this article: Fix email delivery issues for error code 5.1.10 in Office 365, and then send the message again. Retype the entire recipient address before selecting Send.

If the problem continues, forward this message to your email admin. If you're an email admin, refer to the More Info for Email Admins section below.

More Info for Email Admins
Status code: 550 5.1.10

This error occurs because the sender sent a message to an email address hosted by Office 365 but the address is incorrect or doesn't exist at the destination domain. The error is reported by the recipient domain's email server, but most often it must be fixed by the person who sent the message. If the steps in the How to Fix It section above don't fix the problem, and you're the email admin for the recipient, try one or more of the following:

The email address exists and is correct  Confirm that the recipient address exists, is correct, and is accepting messages.

Synchronize your directories If you have a hybrid environment and are using directory synchronization make sure the recipient's email address is synced correctly in both Office 365 and in your on-premises directory.

Errant forwarding rule Check for forwarding rules that aren't behaving as expected.
Forwarding can be set up by an admin via mail flow rules or mailbox forwarding address settings, or by the recipient via the Inbox Rules feature.

Recipient has a valid license  Make sure the recipient has an Office 365 license assigned to them. The recipient’s email admin can use the Office 365 admin center to assign a license (Users > Active Users > select the recipient > Assigned License > Edit).

Mail flow settings and MX records are not correct  Misconfigured mail flow or MX record settings can cause this error. Check your Office 365 mail flow settings to make sure your domain and any mail flow connectors are set up correctly. Also, work with your domain registrar to make sure the MX records for your domain are configured correctly.

For more information and additional tips to fix this issue, see Fix email delivery issues for error code 5.1.10 in Office 365.

Good Morning,

The February 2018 Monthly FOIA Report is attached. Several highlights include:

- The backlog has continued to move higher. With a backlog currently at 91, our backlog is 44% higher than our all-time low hit in April of last year. The higher backlog is a result of several factors, including increased FOIA submissions across the Department, and delays in FOIAOnline processing. It is imperative that we renew the push to drive down the backlog and improve NOAA’s overall compliance with timely response and production requirements.

- Several offices, including AGO, OAR, and CAO, are facing increased submission rates, and as a result, their backlog is much higher than ordinarily seen in those offices. Average closeout rates in those offices have been difficult to improve with their limited resources.

DOC/GC has indicated that FOIA lawsuits currently are being filed at a rate 550% of the rate seen from FY 2013-2016 across the department. Other scientific and environmental agencies are seeing similar spikes in FOIA lawsuits. For example, as of February, year over year, EPA has seen a 311% increase in FOIA lawsuits, and DOI has seen a 600% increase in FOIA lawsuits.

A new FOIA complaint was filed by the Ecological Rights Foundation in the Northern District of California. NOAA completed production on February, 2017, and the requester appealed NOAA’s final response. The Plaintiff is challenging the constructive denial on the response to their administrative appeal to DOC, the Exemption applicability, and NOAA's search adequacy. A copy of the original request and the complaint filed in California are attached.
UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

ECOLOGICAL RIGHTS FOUNDATION, a non-profit corporation, Plaintiff,

v.

NATIONAL MARINE FISHERIES SERVICE,
Defendant.

COMPLAINT FOR DECLARATORY AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF
Ecological Rights Foundation ("EcoRights") alleges as follows:

INTRODUCTION

1. EcoRights brings this action under the Freedom of Information Act ("FOIA"), which allows an aggrieved party to seek relief when documents are unlawfully withheld, and authorizes a reviewing court to enjoin the agency from withholding records and to order the production of any agency records improperly withheld from the complainant. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(B). EcoRights seeks declaratory and injunctive relief for FOIA violations by the National Marine Fisheries Service ("NMFS"). At issue in this case is a FOIA request to NMFS seeking documents related to NMFS West Coast Region's Endangered Species Act ("ESA") Section 7 consultations with the Army Corps of Engineers ("Corps") and NMFS's regulatory oversight of Corps operations and infrastructure on the Yuba River that adversely impact spring run Chinook salmon, steelhead trout, and green sturgeon which are listed as a threatened species under the ESA. EcoRights alleges that NMFS: 1) failed to provide a final determination for EcoRights' administrative appeal within statutory time limits; 2) improperly withheld information not subject to specific, enumerated exemptions; 3) failed to provide legally adequate explanations for the withholding of requested information; 4) failed to promptly release non-exempt information responsive to EcoRight's FOIA request; 5) failed to segregate and release non-exempt information; and 6) failed to perform a reasonable, legally adequate search for responsive records.

JURISDICTION

2. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction under 5 U.S.C. section 552(a)(4)(B), which allows an aggrieved party to seek relief when records are unlawfully withheld, and authorizes a reviewing court to enjoin the agency from withholding records and to order the production of any agency records improperly withheld from the complainant.

3. This Court has personal jurisdiction over NMFS and its officials because NMFS, a branch of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration ("NOAA"), is an agency of the federal government operating within the United States.
VENUE

4. Venue in the United States District for the Northern District of California is proper under 5 U.S.C. section 552(a)(4)(B) because the complainant has its principal place of business in the Northern District, and many of the records sought by complainants are most likely situated in the NMFS and NOAA offices located within the Northern District.

INTRADISTRICT ASSIGNMENT

5. Intradistrict assignment of this matter to the San Francisco Division of the Court is appropriate pursuant to Civil Local Rule 3-2(d) because EcoRights’ principal place of business is located in Garberville, California.

THE PARTIES

6. Ecological Rights Foundation ("EcoRights") is a non-profit, public benefit corporation, organized under the laws of the State of California, devoted to furthering the rights of all people to a clean, healthful and biologically diverse environment. To further its environmental advocacy goals, EcoRights actively seeks federal and state agency implementation of state and federal wildlife-related laws, and as necessary, directly initiates enforcement actions on behalf of itself and its members.

7. Defendant NMFS, a division of the Department of Commerce, is the agency of the United States Government responsible for administering and implementing the ESA for anadromous fisheries and generally is responsible for the stewardship of the nation's living marine resources and their habitat.

STATUTORY BACKGROUND

8. FOIA requires that an agency disclose records to any person except where the records fall under a specifically enumerated exemption. 5 U.S.C. § 552. The courts have emphasized the narrow scope of these exemptions and “the strong policy of the FOIA that the public is entitled to know what its government is doing and why.” Coastal States Gas Corp. v. Dep’t of Energy, 617 F.2d 854, 868 (D.C. Cir. 1980).

9. FOIA requires that an agency, upon any request for records, shall make the records available promptly. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3)(A). An agency shall make a determination whether to comply with a request within twenty (20) business days after the receipt of the request and shall immediately notify the party making the request of such determination, the reasons for the determination, and the party's right to appeal. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i). In unusual circumstances, the agency may extend the time for the determination, for no more than ten (10) days, by written notice to the party, specifying the reasons for the extension and the date on which the determination is expected to be sent. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(B)(i).

10. Federal agencies are under a duty to conduct a reasonable search for records responsive to a party's request using methods that can be reasonably expected to produce the information requested to the extent they exist. 5 U.S.C. § 522(a)(3)(C).

11. When an agency decides to withhold records under a claim of exemption it must notify the person making such request of such determination and the reasons therefor. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i). Government agencies bear the burden of proof to show that any withheld documents are exempt from the duty to disclose. 5 U.S.C. § 522(a)(4)(B).

12. A party may appeal to the head of the agency any adverse determination. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i). An agency shall make a determination with respect to any appeal within twenty (20) business days after the receipt of such appeal. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(ii). If an agency does not respond within the FOIA time limits, a party will be deemed to have exhausted its administrative remedies. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(C)(i).

13. On June 30, 2016, President Obama signed into law the FOIA Improvement Act of 2016. The Act made significant amendments to FOIA, effective as of enactment on June 30, 2016. 5 U.S.C. § 522, § 6; OIP Summary of the FOIA Improvement Act of 2016. The amendments include changes to the standard by which NMFS must evaluate withholdings. The FOIA Improvement Act of 2016 dictates that agencies shall withhold information only if disclosure would harm an interest protected by an exemption what is referred to as the “foreseeable harm standard.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(8)(A)(i); OIP Summary of the FOIA Improvement Act of 2016.

14. Additionally, FOIA requires an agency to consider partial disclosure whenever the agency determines that a full disclosure of a requested record is not possible and to take reasonable steps necessary to segregate and release nonexempt information. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(8)(A).
15. An agency’s process for dealing with FOIA requests constitutes “withholding” if its net effect is significantly to impair the requester’s ability to obtain the records or significantly increase the amount of time he or she must wait to obtain them. McGehee, III v. Central Intelligence Agency, 697 F.2d 1095, 1110 (D.C. Cir. 1983), vacated in part on other grounds, 711 F.2d 1076 (1983).

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

NMFS's Response to EcoRights’ December 6, 2016 FOIA Request

16. On December 6, 2016 EcoRights, via counsel, sent a FOIA request to NMFS seeking three categories of documents: 1) documents containing input NMFS West Coast Region staff provided to NOAA headquarters detailing the impacts of an Army Corps of Engineers ("Corps") memo known as the Stockdale Memo. The Stockdale Memo laid out strict guidelines limiting Corps ESA Section 7 consultations with NMFS and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service; 2) documents to or from NMFS counsel Chris Kiefer related to a draft letter from NMFS to the Corps entitled “Endangered Species Act Section 7(a)(2) Concurrence Letter for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers’ (Corps) Ongoing Operation and Maintenance of Englebright Dam and Reservoir on the Yuba River;” and 3) documents in the possession of any NOAA Fisheries Office, Department and/or Division, including any NOAA law enforcement division, related to whether any entities or individuals are causing or have caused unauthorized take of threatened or endangered fish species in the Yuba River in the vicinity of Englebright Dam and Daguerre Point Dam.

17. On December 14, 2016 NMFS sent a letter to EcoRights counsel, Christopher Hudak, acknowledging receipt of the request on December 12, 2016 and assigning it tracking number DOC-NOAA-2017-000257. The acknowledgement letter stated that NMFS was extending the time for its response by ten business days because the agency needed to search for and collect the requested records from field facilities or other establishments separate from the office processing the request.

18. On February 13, 2017 NMFS sent EcoRights its final determination partially granting and partially denying EcoRights' request. NMFS stated it had located 309 documents responsive to the request and had released 239 of these documents in their entirety, via FOIAonline. Fifty-four documents were partially withheld under attorney work product, attorney client privilege, deliberative process
exemptions pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552(b)(5) ("Exemption 5") and the right to privacy exemption pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(6) ("Exemption 6"). The final determination also stated that 16 documents that had originated from other agencies were referred to those agencies for release determination and direct response to EcoRights.

19. On March 10, 2017 EcoRights timely appealed NMFS's final determination to the Office of the General Counsel of the Department of Commerce ("DOC Counsel"). EcoRights' administrative appeal contended that NMFS: 1) had failed to make a reasonable search for responsive documents; 2) had improperly withheld documents under vague and unjustified claims of deliberative process and attorney-client privilege exemptions; 3) had withheld information with no exemption claim; 4) had not shown the existence of foreseeable harm to an interest protected by Exemptions 5 and 6 that would permit the agency to withhold information under these exemptions; and 5) had failed to segregate factual material and make partial disclosures where possible.

20. EcoRights' appeal contended NMFS's search was inadequate because none of the documents
NMFS had released were from the NOAA Office of Law Enforcement ("OLE") although EcoRights had specifically asked for OLE documents and EcoRights had reason to know that at least one OLE agent had responsive documents.

21. The 20 business days deadline for NMFS to provide its final determination for EcoRights' appeal was April 7, 2017.

22. On July 18, 2017 NMFS posted to FOIAonline two redacted emails, apparently from the OLE. EcoRights was not notified that NMFS had released these two OLE documents on FOIAonline.
The two emails had information redacted pursuant to Exemption 6 and Exemption 7 (5 U.S.C. §
552(b)(7)(C).

23. On October 2, 2017 EcoRights' counsel sent an email to NMFS FOIA officers and the DOC Counsel's office requesting an update on the status of the appeal. The DOC Counsel and NMFS did not respond.
24. On October 25, 2017 EcoRights' counsel sent another email to NMFS FOIA officers and the DOC Counsel's office which requested that NMFS provide the final appeal determination by November 3, 2017 and warned that if the determination was not provided by that date EcoRights might seek judicial relief.

25. On October 30, 2017 Michael Bogomolny, Acting Chief, Information Law Division, of the DOC Counsel's Office responded to EcoRights' October 25, 2017 request and stated that he expected EcoRights would have the appeal determination "this week." However, the DOC Counsel's office did not provide the appeal determination that week.

26. On January 31, 2018 EcoRights' counsel sent another email to the DOC Counsel's office requesting a status update. Mr. Bogomolny responded that same day and stated he would provide "a full status update before the end of the week." However, he did not. Instead, on February 2, 2018 he sent yet another email stating he was "committing to releasing a final determination of the appeal in this matter next week." However he did not release the determination that week.

27. As of the date of this Complaint the DOC Counsel has not released the appeal final determination and it is 309 days overdue.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

NMFS Violation of FOIA
5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(6)(ii) and 552(a)(3)(A)

Request for Declaratory Relief

28. EcoRights reasserts and realleges paragraphs 1 through 27 above.

29. NMFS has violated 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(ii) by failing to provide a final determination for EcoRights' appeal within 20 business days after receipt of the appeal. EcoRights timely submitted the appeal on March 10, 2017. FOIA required NMFS to provide its appeal determination by April 7, 2017. However, NMFS did not provide the determination by April 7, 2017 and as of the date of this Complaint the appeal determination is 309 days overdue.

30. EcoRights has constructively exhausted its administrative remedies given NMFS's failure to provide its appeal determination within FOIA’s statutory time limits. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(C)(i).
SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

NMFS Violation of FOIA
Request for Declaratory Relief and Injunction to Compel NMFS to Comply with FOIA Requirement to Release Documents Unless a Valid Exemption Applies

31. EcoRights reasserts and realleges paragraphs 1 through 30 above.

32. NMFS has violated 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(8)(A) by withholding documents under invalid and unjustified claims of exemption under 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(b)(5), (b)(6), and b(7)(C). NMFS may not withhold documents unless foreseeable harm will occur to an interest protected by an enumerated exemption. 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(8)(A)(i). NMFS has not shown that such foreseeable harm exists. NMFS has also violated 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(8)(A)'s mandate that NMFS segregate and release non-exempt information. NMFS has redacted the entire substantive contents of 67 pages of information under attorney-client privilege and deliberative process exemptions without an adequate showing that NMFS attempted to segregate and release the non-exempt information in these pages.

33. NMFS has also violated FOIA by failing to comply with the 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i) requirement that the agency provide enough information, presented with sufficient detail, clarity, and verification, so that the requester can fairly determine what has not been produced and why. Exemptions are read narrowly and NMFS bears the burden of proving exemptions apply, which it has failed to do. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(b). NMFS has failed to identify the specific exemption claimed for several documents that were redacted. Several documents identify Exemption 5 as the exemption claimed. However Exemption 5 could mean attorney work product, attorney-client privilege, or deliberative process. One document is redacted without any basis for the withholding identified.

34. NMFS's improper withholding of nonexempt documents also violates 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3)(A)'s mandate that requested records be promptly released unless they fall within one of FOIA's specifically enumerated disclosure exemptions. It has been eleven months since EcoRights submitted its appeal. Except for two redacted emails released 18 weeks after the appeal (not promptly), NMFS continues to withhold documents, without justifying they are exempt from disclosure.
THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF
NMFS Violation of FOIA
5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(3)(c)
Request for Declaratory Relief and Injunction to Compel NMFS to Perform a Reasonable Search

35. EcoRights reasserts and realleges paragraphs 1 through 34 above.

36. NMFS has violated 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3)(C) by failing to conduct a reasonable, legally adequate search for records responsive to EcoRights' request. NMFS's search was inadequate because none of the documents NMFS initially released were from the OLE although EcoRights had specifically asked for OLE documents and EcoRights had reason to know that at least one OLE agent had responsive documents. After EcoRights submitted its appeal, NMFS released two emails, one apparently to an OLE agent and one apparently from an OLE agent. EcoRights makes these assumptions because the names of the sender and recipient have been redacted under Exemptions 6 and 7. The emails concern take of listed salmon and steelhead in the Yuba River. One of the emails indicates the OLE is likely to have more documents responsive to EcoRights' request, but NMFS failed to locate them because of its inadequate search.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, EcoRights seeks the following relief:

a. A declaratory judgment pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552 declaring that NMFS violated FOIA by failing to provide the final determination for EcoRights' appeal in accordance with FOIA's statutory deadline;

b. A declaratory judgment that NMFS' failure to provide the appeal determination within the statutory deadline and produce non-exempt records promptly as required by FOIA constitutes illegal withholding of records;

c. A declaratory judgment pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552 that NMFS violated FOIA by: improperly withholding records that are not exempt from disclosure; failing to adequately explain how and why withheld information falls within a particular exemption; failing to adequately explain how disclosure would foreseeably harm interests protected by claimed exemptions; and failing to segregate and disclose non-exempt requested information;
d. A declaratory judgment that NMFS failed to perform a reasonable, legally adequate search for documents responsive to EcoRight's request;

e. An injunction pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(B) ordering NMFS to: 1) conduct a reasonable, legally adequate search for records responsive to EcoRights' FOIA request within 20 days; 2) produce all non-exempt records in NMFS' possession responsive to EcoRights FOIA request within 30 days; and 3) provide EcoRights with a detailed, legally adequate explanation for the withholding of any information responsive to Ecorsights FOIA request within 30 days;

f. An award of attorneys' fees and costs to EcoRights pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(E); and

g. Such other and further relief as this Court deems just and proper.

DISCLOSURE OF NON-PARTY INTERESTED ENTITIES OR PERSONS

Based on EcoRights' knowledge to date, pursuant to Civil Local Rule 3-15, the undersigned certifies that, as of this date, other than the named parties, there is no such interest to report.

Respectfully Submitted,

Dated: February 10, 2018

Good Morning,

The February 2018 Monthly FOIA Report is attached. Several highlights include:

- The backlog has continued to move higher. With a backlog currently at 91, our backlog is 44% higher than our all time low hit in April of last year. The higher backlog is a result of several factors, including increased FOIA submissions across the Department, and delays in FOIAOnline processing. It is imperative that we renew the push to drive down the backlog and improve NOAA’s overall compliance with timely response and production requirements.

- Several offices, including AGO, OAR, and CAO, are facing increased submission rates, and as a result, their backlog is much higher than ordinarily seen in those offices. Average closure rates in those offices have been difficult to improve with their limited resources.

DOC/GC has indicated that FOIA lawsuits currently are being filed at a rate 550% of the rate seen from FY 2013 2016 across the department. Other scientific and environmental agencies are seeing similar spikes in FOIA lawsuits. For example, as of February, year over year, EPA has seen a 311% increase in FOIA lawsuits, and DOI has seen a 600% increase in FOIA lawsuits.

A new FOIA complaint was filed by the Ecological Rights Foundation in the Northern District of California. NOAA completed production on February, 2017, and the requester appealed NOAA’s final response. The Plaintiff is challenging the constructive denial on the response to their administrative appeal to DOC, the Exemption applicability, and NOAA’s search adequacy. A copy of the original request and the complaint filed in California are attached.

NATIONAL MARINE FISHERIES SERVICE,

Defendant.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

COMPLAINT FOR DEclaratory AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF
Ecological Rights Foundation ("EcoRights") alleges as follows:

INTRODUCTION

1. EcoRights brings this action under the Freedom of Information Act ("FOIA"), which allows an aggrieved party to seek relief when documents are unlawfully withheld, and authorizes a reviewing court to enjoin the agency from withholding records and to order the production of any agency records improperly withheld from the complainant. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(B). EcoRights seeks declaratory and injunctive relief for FOIA violations by the National Marine Fisheries Service ("NMFS"). At issue in this case is a FOIA request to NMFS seeking documents related to NMFS West Coast Region's Endangered Species Act ("ESA") Section 7 consultations with the Army Corps of Engineers ("Corps") and NMFS's regulatory oversight of Corps operations and infrastructure on the Yuba River that adversely impact spring run Chinook salmon, steelhead trout, and green sturgeon which are listed as a threatened species under the ESA. EcoRights alleges that NMFS: 1) failed to provide a final determination for EcoRights' administrative appeal within statutory time limits; 2) improperly withheld information not subject to specific, enumerated exemptions; 3) failed to provide legally adequate explanations for the withholding of requested information; 4) failed to promptly release non-exempt information responsive to EcoRight's FOIA request; 5) failed to segregate and release non-exempt information; and 6) failed to perform a reasonable, legally adequate search for responsive records.

JURISDICTION

2. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction under 5 U.S.C. section 552(a)(4)(B), which allows an aggrieved party to seek relief when records are unlawfully withheld, and authorizes a reviewing court to enjoin the agency from withholding records and to order the production of any agency records improperly withheld from the complainant.

3. This Court has personal jurisdiction over NMFS and its officials because NMFS, a branch of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration ("NOAA"), is an agency of the federal government operating within the United States.
VENUE

4. Venue in the United States District for the Northern District of California is proper under 5 U.S.C. section 552(a)(4)(B) because the complainant has its principal place of business in the Northern District, and many of the records sought by complainants are most likely situated in the NMFS and NOAA offices located within the Northern District.

INTRADISTRICT ASSIGNMENT

5. Intradistrict assignment of this matter to the San Francisco Division of the Court is appropriate pursuant to Civil Local Rule 3-2(d) because EcoRights’ principal place of business is located in Garberville, California.

THE PARTIES

6. Ecological Rights Foundation ("EcoRights") is a non-profit, public benefit corporation, organized under the laws of the State of California, devoted to furthering the rights of all people to a clean, healthful and biologically diverse environment. To further its environmental advocacy goals, EcoRights actively seeks federal and state agency implementation of state and federal wildlife-related laws, and as necessary, directly initiates enforcement actions on behalf of itself and its members.

7. Defendant NMFS, a division of the Department of Commerce, is the agency of the United States Government responsible for administering and implementing the ESA for anadromous fisheries and generally is responsible for the stewardship of the nation's living marine resources and their habitat.

STATUTORY BACKGROUND

8. FOIA requires that an agency disclose records to any person except where the records fall under a specifically enumerated exemption. 5 U.S.C. § 552. The courts have emphasized the narrow scope of these exemptions and “the strong policy of the FOIA that the public is entitled to know what its government is doing and why.” Coastal States Gas Corp. v. Dep’t of Energy, 617 F.2d 854, 868 (D.C. Cir. 1980).

9. FOIA requires that an agency, upon any request for records, shall make the records available promptly. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3)(A). An agency shall make a determination whether to comply with a request within twenty (20) business days after the receipt of the request and shall immediately notify the party making the request of such determination, the reasons for the determination, and the party's right to appeal. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i). In unusual circumstances, the agency may extend the time for the determination, for no more than ten (10) days, by written notice to the party, specifying the reasons for the extension and the date on which the determination is expected to be sent. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(B)(i).

10. Federal agencies are under a duty to conduct a reasonable search for records responsive to a party's request using methods that can be reasonably expected to produce the information requested to

11. When an agency decides to withhold records under a claim of exemption it must notify the person making such request of such determination and the reasons therefor. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i).
Government agencies bear the burden of proof to show that any withheld documents are exempt from the duty to disclose. 5 U.S.C. § 522(a)(4)(B).

12. A party may appeal to the head of the agency any adverse determination. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i). An agency shall make a determination with respect to any appeal within twenty (20) business days after the receipt of such appeal. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(ii). If an agency does not respond within the FOIA time limits, a party will be deemed to have exhausted its administrative remedies.

13. On June 30, 2016, President Obama signed into law the FOIA Improvement Act of 2016. The Act made significant amendments to FOIA, effective as of enactment on June 30, 2016. 5 U.S.C. § 522, § 6; OIP Summary of the FOIA Improvement Act of 2016. The amendments include changes to the standard by which NMFS must evaluate withholdings. The FOIA Improvement Act of 2016 dictates that Agencies shall withhold information only if disclosure would harm an interest protected by an exemption what is referred to as the “foreseeable harm standard.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(8)(A)(i); OIP Summary of the FOIA Improvement Act of 2016.

14. Additionally, FOIA requires an agency to consider partial disclosure whenever the agency determines that a full disclosure of a requested record is not possible and to take reasonable steps
15. An agency’s process for dealing with FOIA requests constitutes “withholding” if its net effect is significantly to impair the requester’s ability to obtain the records or significantly increase the amount of time he or she must wait to obtain them. McGehee, III v. Central Intelligence Agency, 697 F.2d 1095, 1110 (D.C. Cir. 1983), vacated in part on other grounds, 711 F.2d 1076 (1983).

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

NMFS's Response to EcoRights’ December 6, 2016 FOIA Request

16. On December 6, 2016 EcoRights, via counsel, sent a FOIA request to NMFS seeking three categories of documents: 1) documents containing input NMFS West Coast Region staff provided to NOAA headquarters detailing the impacts of an Army Corps of Engineers ("Corps") memo known as the Stockdale Memo. The Stockdale Memo laid out strict guidelines limiting Corps ESA Section 7 consultations with NMFS and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service; 2) documents to or from NMFS counsel Chris Kiefer related to a draft letter from NMFS to the Corps entitled “Endangered Species Act Section 7(a)(2) Concurrence Letter for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers’ (Corps) Ongoing Operation and Maintenance of Englebright Dam and Reservoir on the Yuba River;” and 3) documents in the possession of any NOAA Fisheries Office, Department and/or Division, including any NOAA law enforcement division, related to whether any entities or individuals are causing or have caused unauthorized take of threatened or endangered fish species in the Yuba River in the vicinity of Englebright Dam and Daguerre Point Dam.

17. On December 14, 2016 NMFS sent a letter to EcoRights counsel, Christopher Hudak, acknowledging receipt of the request on December 12, 2016 and assigning it tracking number DOC-NOAA-2017-000257. The acknowledgement letter stated that NMFS was extending the time for its response by ten business days because the agency needed to search for and collect the requested records from field facilities or other establishments separate from the office processing the request.

18. On February 13, 2017 NMFS sent EcoRights its final determination partially granting and partially denying EcoRights’ request. NMFS stated it had located 309 documents responsive to the request and had released 239 of these documents in their entirety, via FOIAonline. Fifty-four documents were partially withheld under attorney work product, attorney client privilege, deliberative process
exemptions pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552(b)(5) ("Exemption 5") and the right to privacy exemption pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(6) ("Exemption 6"). The final determination also stated that 16 documents that had originated from other agencies were referred to those agencies for release determination and direct response to EcoRights.

19. On March 10, 2017 EcoRights timely appealed NMFS's final determination to the Office of the General Counsel of the Department of Commerce ("DOC Counsel"). EcoRights' administrative appeal contended that NMFS: 1) had failed to make a reasonable search for responsive documents; 2) had improperly withheld documents under vague and unjustified claims of deliberative process and attorney-client privilege exemptions; 3) had withheld information with no exemption claim; 4) had not shown the existence of foreseeable harm to an interest protected by Exemptions 5 and 6 that would permit the agency to withhold information under these exemptions; and 5) had failed to segregate factual material and make partial disclosures where possible.

20. EcoRights' appeal contended NMFS's search was inadequate because none of the documents NMFS had released were from the NOAA Office of Law Enforcement ("OLE") although EcoRights had specifically asked for OLE documents and EcoRights had reason to know that at least one OLE agent had responsive documents.

21. The 20 business days deadline for NMFS to provide its final determination for EcoRights' appeal was April 7, 2017.

22. On July 18, 2017 NMFS posted to FOIAonline two redacted emails, apparently from the OLE. EcoRights was not notified that NMFS had released these two OLE documents on FOIAonline.
The two emails had information redacted pursuant to Exemption 6 and Exemption 7 (5 U.S.C. §
552(b)(7)(C).

23. On October 2, 2017 EcoRights' counsel sent an email to NMFS FOIA officers and the DOC Counsel's office requesting an update on the status of the appeal. The DOC Counsel and NMFS did not respond.
24. On October 25, 2017 EcoRights' counsel sent another email to NMFS FOIA officers and the DOC Counsel's office which requested that NMFS provide the final appeal determination by November 3, 2017 and warned that if the determination was not provided by that date EcoRights might seek judicial relief.

25. On October 30, 2017 Michael Bogomolny, Acting Chief, Information Law Division, of the DOC Counsel's Office responded to EcoRights' October 25, 2017 request and stated that he expected EcoRights would have the appeal determination "this week." However, the DOC Counsel's office did not provide the appeal determination that week.

26. On January 31, 2018 EcoRights' counsel sent another email to the DOC Counsel's office requesting a status update. Mr. Bogomolny responded that same day and stated he would provide "a full status update before the end of the week." However, he did not. Instead, on February 2, 2018 he sent yet another email stating he was "committing to releasing a final determination of the appeal in this matter next week." However he did not release the determination that week.

27. As of the date of this Complaint the DOC Counsel has not released the appeal final determination and it is 309 days overdue.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

NMFS Violation of FOIA

5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(6)(ii) and 552(a)(3)(A)

Request for Declaratory Relief

28. EcoRights reasserts and realleges paragraphs 1 through 27 above.

29. NMFS has violated 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(ii) by failing to provide a final determination for EcoRights' appeal within 20 business days after receipt of the appeal. EcoRights timely submitted the appeal on March 10, 2017. FOIA required NMFS to provide its appeal determination by April 7, 2017. However, NMFS did not provide the determination by April 7, 2017 and as of the date of this Complaint the appeal determination is 309 days overdue.

30. EcoRights has constructively exhausted its administrative remedies given NMFS's failure to provide its appeal determination within FOIA's statutory time limits. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(C)(i).
SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

NMFS Violation of FOIA

Request for Declaratory Relief and Injunction to Compel NMFS to Comply with FOIA Requirement to Release Documents Unless a Valid Exemption Applies

31. EcoRights reasserts and realleges paragraphs 1 through 30 above.

32. NMFS has violated 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(8)(A) by withholding documents under invalid and unjustified claims of exemption under 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(b)(5), (b)(6), and b(7)(C). NMFS may not withhold documents unless foreseeable harm will occur to an interest protected by an enumerated exemption. 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(8)(A)(i). NMFS has not shown that such foreseeable harm exists. NMFS has also violated 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(8)(A)'s mandate that NMFS segregate and release non-exempt information. NMFS has redacted the entire substantive contents of 67 pages of information under attorney-client privilege and deliberative process exemptions without an adequate showing that NMFS attempted to segregate and release the non-exempt information in these pages.

33. NMFS has also violated FOIA by failing to comply with the 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i) requirement that the agency provide enough information, presented with sufficient detail, clarity, and verification, so that the requester can fairly determine what has not been produced and why. Exemptions are read narrowly and NMFS bears the burden of proving exemptions apply, which it has failed to do. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(b). NMFS has failed to identify the specific exemption claimed for several documents that were redacted. Several documents identify Exemption 5 as the exemption claimed. However Exemption 5 could mean attorney work product, attorney-client privilege, or deliberative process. One document is redacted without any basis for the withholding identified.

34. NMFS's improper withholding of nonexempt documents also violates 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3)(A)'s mandate that requested records be promptly released unless they fall within one of FOIA's specifically enumerated disclosure exemptions. It has been eleven months since EcoRights submitted its appeal. Except for two redacted emails released 18 weeks after the appeal (not promptly), NMFS continues to withhold documents, without justifying they are exempt from disclosure.
THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF

NMFS Violation of FOIA
5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(3)(c)
Request for Declaratory Relief and Injunction to Compel NMFS to Perform a Reasonable Search

35. EcoRights reasserts and realleges paragraphs 1 through 34 above.

36. NMFS has violated 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3)(C) by failing to conduct a reasonable, legally adequate search for records responsive to EcoRights request. NMFS's search was inadequate because none of the documents NMFS initially released were from the OLE although EcoRights had specifically asked for OLE documents and EcoRights had reason to know that at least one OLE agent had responsive documents. After EcoRights submitted its appeal, NMFS released two emails, one apparently to an OLE agent and one apparently from an OLE agent. EcoRights makes these assumptions because the names of the sender and recipient have been redacted under Exemptions 6 and 7. The emails concern take of listed salmon and steelhead in the Yuba River. One of the emails indicates the OLE is likely to have more documents responsive to EcoRights' request, but NMFS failed to locate them because of its inadequate search.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, EcoRights seeks the following relief:

a. A declaratory judgment pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552 declaring that NMFS violated FOIA by failing to provide the final determination for EcoRights' appeal in accordance with FOIA's statutory deadline;

b. A declaratory judgment that NMFS' failure to provide the appeal determination within the statutory deadline and produce non-exempt records promptly as required by FOIA constitutes illegal withholding of records;

c. A declaratory judgment pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552 that NMFS violated FOIA by: improperly withholding records that are not exempt from disclosure; failing to adequately explain how and why withheld information falls within a particular exemption; failing to adequately explain how disclosure would foreseeably harm interests protected by claimed exemptions; and failing to segregate and disclose non-exempt requested information;
d. A declaratory judgment that NMFS failed to perform a reasonable, legally adequate search for documents responsive to EcoRight's request;

e. An injunction pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(B) ordering NMFS to: 1) conduct a reasonable, legally adequate search for records responsive to EcoRights' FOIA request within 20 days; 2) produce all non-exempt records in NMFS' possession responsive to EcoRights FOIA request within 30 days; and 3) provide EcoRights with a detailed, legally adequate explanation for the withholding of any information responsive to EcoRights' FOIA request within 30 days;

f. An award of attorneys fees and costs to EcoRights pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(E); and

g. Such other and further relief as this Court deems just and proper.

DISCLOSURE OF NON-PARTY INTERESTED ENTITIES OR PERSONS

Based on EcoRights' knowledge to date, pursuant to Civil Local Rule 3-15, the undersigned certifies that, as of this date, other than the named parties, there is no such interest to report.

Introduction: This Privacy Threshold Analysis (PTA) is a questionnaire to assist with determining if a Privacy Impact Assessment (PIA) is necessary for this IT system. This PTA is primarily based from the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) privacy guidance and the Department of Commerce (DOC) IT security/privacy policy. If questions arise or further guidance is needed in order to complete this PTA, please contact your Bureau Chief Privacy Officer (BCPO).

Description of the information system and its purpose: Provide a general description of the information system and its purpose in a way that a non-technical person can understand.

The E-Government Act of 2002 defines “information system” by reference to the definition section of Title 44 of the United States Code. The following is a summary of the definition: “Information system” means a discrete set of information resources organized for the collection, processing, maintenance, use, sharing, dissemination, or disposition of information. See: 44 U.S.C. § 3502(8).

NOAA’s National Centers for Environmental Information (NCEI) are responsible for hosting and providing access to one of the most significant archives on earth, with comprehensive oceanic, atmospheric, and geophysical data. From the depths of the ocean to the surface of the sun and from million-year-old tree rings to near real-time satellite images, NCEI is the Nation’s leading authority for environmental information. By preserving, stewarding, and maximizing the utility of the Federal government’s billion-dollar investment in high-quality environmental data, NCEI remains committed to providing products and services to private industry and businesses, local to international governments, academia, as well as the general public.

The demand for high-value environmental data and information has dramatically increased in recent years. NCEI is designed to improve NOAA’s ability to meet that demand. The Consolidated and Further Continuing Appropriations Act, 2015, Public Law 113-235, approved the consolidation of NOAA’s existing three National Data Centers: the National Climatic Data Center, the National Geophysical Data Center, and the National Oceanographic Data Center into the National Centers for Environmental Information. NCEI has employees in four major locations, Asheville, NC, Boulder, CO, Silver Spring, MD, and Stennis Space Center, MS. NCEI located in Maryland and Mississippi comprise the NOAA5010 system.

The NCEI-MD and NOAA Central Library, with its regional branch assets, are integrated to provide access to the world’s most comprehensive sources of marine environmental data and information. NCEI-MD maintains and updates a national ocean archive with environmental data acquired from domestic and foreign activities and produces products and metadata, and research from these data that help monitor global environmental changes.

These data include physical, biological, and chemical measurements derived from in situ oceanographic observations, satellite remote sensing of the oceans, and ocean model simulations.
NCEI-MD manages and operates the World Data Center (WDC) for Oceanography in Silver Spring, MD. Its personnel directly interact with federal, state, academic, and industrial oceanographic activities; represent NESDIS on various interagency domestic panels, committees and councils; and represent the United States in various international organizations, such as the International Oceanographic Data Exchange. NCEI-MD and NCEI-MS represent NESDIS and NOAA to the general public, government agencies, academic institutions, foreign governments, and the private sector on matters involving oceanographic data.

External users of the Public Web consist of an average of 170,000 unique visitors per month. These users include but are not limited to other NOAA agencies, other federal government agencies such as U.S. Geological Survey, the Environmental Protection Agency, universities-Mississippi State University, University of New Hampshire, Texas A&M, University of South Florida, and state agencies- Mississippi Department of Marine Resources, Louisiana Department of Natural Resources, Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources, Texas Parks and Wildlife, and Florida Fish and Wildlife Commission.

____ X This is an existing information system in which changes do not create new privacy risks. Skip questions and complete certification.

2. Is the IT system or its information used to support any activity which may raise privacy concerns?

NIST Special Publication 800-53 Revision 4, Appendix J, states “Organizations may also engage in activities that do not involve the collection and use of PII, but may nevertheless raise privacy concerns and associated risk. The privacy controls are equally applicable to those activities and can be used to analyze the privacy risk and mitigate such risk when necessary.” Examples include, but are not limited to, audio recordings, video surveillance, building entry readers, and electronic purchase transactions.

____ Yes. Please describe the activities which may raise privacy concerns.
3. Does the IT system collect, maintain, or disseminate business identifiable information (BII)?
As per DOC Privacy Policy: “For the purpose of this policy, business identifiable information consists of (a) information that is defined in the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) as "trade secrets and commercial or financial information obtained from a person [that is] privileged or confidential." (5 U.S.C. 552(b)(4)). This information is exempt from automatic release under the (b)(4) FOIA exemption. "Commercial" is not confined to records that reveal basic commercial operations" but includes any records [or information] in which the submitter has a commercial interest" and can include information submitted by a nonprofit entity, or (b) commercial or other information that, although it may not be exempt from release under FOIA, is exempt from disclosure by law (e.g., 13 U.S.C.).”

___ Yes, the IT system collects, maintains, or disseminates BII about: (Check all that apply.)

___ Companies
___ Other business entities

__X__ No, this IT system does not collect any BII.

4. Personally Identifiable Information
4a. Does the IT system collect, maintain, or disseminate personally identifiable information (PII)?
As per OMB 07-16, Footnote 1: “The term ‘personally identifiable information’ refers to information which can be used to distinguish or trace an individual’s identity, such as their name, social security number, biometric records, etc... alone, or when combined with other personal or identifying information which is linked or linkable to a specific individual, such as date and place of birth, mother’s maiden name, etc...”

__X__ Yes, the IT system collects, maintains, or disseminates PII about: (Check all that apply.)

__X__ DOC employees
__X__ Contractors working on behalf of DOC
__X__ Members of the public

___ No, this IT system does not collect any PII.

If the answer is “yes” to question 4a, please respond to the following questions.

4b. Does the IT system collect, maintain, or disseminate PII other than user ID?
__X__ Yes, the IT system collects, maintains, or disseminates PII other than user ID.

____ No, the user ID is the only PII collected, maintained, or disseminated by the IT system.

4c. Will the purpose for which the PII is collected, stored, used, processed, disclosed, or disseminated (context of use) cause the assignment of a higher PII confidentiality impact level?
Examples of context of use include, but are not limited to, law enforcement investigations, administration of benefits, contagious disease treatments, etc.

____ Yes, the context of use will cause the assignment of a higher PII confidentiality impact level.

__X__ No, the context of use will not cause the assignment of a higher PII confidentiality impact level.

If any of the answers to questions 2, 3, 4b, and/or 4c are “Yes,” a Privacy Impact Assessment (PIA) must be completed for the IT system. This PTA and the approved PIA must be a part of the IT system’s Assessment and Authorization Package.
CERTIFICATION

X____ I certify the criteria implied by one or more of the questions above apply to the NOAA5010 and as a consequence of this applicability, a PIA for this IT system is necessary. NOAA5010 has an approved PIA from 2016. PIA approved 9/6/2016. As there have been no changes creating new privacy risks, we will submit to DOC a certification that a new PIA is not needed at this time.

____ I certify the criteria implied by the questions above do not apply to the NOAA5010 and as a consequence of this non-applicability, a PIA for this IT system is not necessary.
