Subject: Trust Broken

Dear Dr. Jacobs,

I'm writing to express my utter disbelief that a scientific organization that we all depend on and trust our lives with has sunken to playing politics with attempted support of a known liar (the President) over the truth. The current president will be gone in the next election, but my faith in NOAA's management has been shaken by your recent public antics and disclaimers. I trust the science, but must now question the messenger.

How unfortunate that Donald Trump has ruined NOAA's credibility.

Please look deep into a management overhaul that removes politics from the weather.

Thank you,

Steve Ortiz
