Subject: Birmingham AL NWS was right

NOAA should be utterly ashamed of caving into the political whims of a fool in the White House instead of supporting its own employees who made absolutely the right call in calming people down in Alabama while Dorian was nowhere near the place. How you can look yourself in the mirror is beyond me. The next time this happens, I hope NWS people will ignore you and do what their training and experience tell them to do, or average Americans will waste a lot of time and effort fleeing a threat that doesn't exist and worse yet, people who are threatened won't be adequately warned. People are dead in the Bahamas and many, many still missing. Trust your employees and let Trump have his tantrums, if you have any decency or self-respect left, or the blood will be on your hands as well as Trump's (or whatever other politician is trying to call the shots).
